

ESTABLISHED 1821

WORK WILL BEGIN THIS WEEK

FACILITIES OF THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY HERE WILL BE GREATLY INCREASED.

Work is to begin this week on the new roundhouse and other improvements of the Southern Railway Company here. The new roundhouse is to be constructed according to the latest and most approved methods. It will be built of reinforced concrete at an estimated cost of $529,000. When it is taken into consideration that the Southern Railway has only two such roundhouses, one may obtain an idea of the importance this will give Greensboro as a railroad center. The other two are located at Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn. It is stated that the completion of this tremendous undertaking will enable the company to increase its daily capacity to a total of 1,188 cars, an increase of 529 cars, over the present system.

In addition to the roundhouse, a $15,000 interlocking plant will be constructed near Pomona, at the junction of the Winston-Salem and Danville divisions. All of the engineering and office forces will be located at Pomona while the improvements are being made.

In addition to these and other improvements to be made on the property of the Southern here, a new pumping station is to be built on South Buffalo creek to replace the station now in use.

When all these undertakings have been completed Greensboro will not be excelled by any point on the line of the Southern from the standpoint of railroad facilities and equipment.

DEUTSCHLAND MAY TAKE HOMEWARD DASH FRIDAY.

New London, Conn., Nov. 5.—Captain Paul Koenig, of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, which arrived here Wednesday indicated today that he would make his homeward dash next Friday—probably late in the afternoon.

Storedores worked steadily all day loading a cargo of crude rubber and other goods. The Deutschland's crew was engaged in overhauling the engines, and five mechanics from a local shipyard practically completed the work of tightening rivets on the craft's bow which had become loosened by pounding in the high seas on the way over. Captain Koenig today visited the government submarine base and conferred with Commander Stirling and his officers through the Deutschland.

Fourteen members of the German embassy at Washington came here today and greeted the Deutschland's captain and crew aboard the liner.

Religious services were held on the Deutschland for members of the submarine's crew this afternoon. Rev. E. E. Heydenreich, of Hartford, prayed for their safe return to the fatherland.

HIGH COST OF LIVING STARTS LEGAL SEARCH.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The rising cost of living is being investigated by the government to ascertain whether the increasing prices are being pushed upward unlawfully. Agents of the department of justice are seeking evidence of unlawful price increase through conspiracies or other means, and Attorney General Gregory today authorized the following statement:

"The department of justice is investigating the recent abnormal and suspicious increases in the prices of various necessities of life, especially food. Whenever any such increase is found to have been due to conspiracy or other unlawful action, the department will invoke against the offenders the severest penalties which the law prescribes."

MAX GARDNER IN ELOQUENT APPEAL FOR DEMOCRACY.

One of the most brilliant and interesting speeches of the campaign was made here Friday night by Hon. O. Max Gardner, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Gardner is one of the best campaigners in the state, and he was heard by a large and appreciative audience in a splendid appeal for Democracy. In a clear-cut and convincing manner he drew the line of distinction between the Democratic and Republican parties, declaring the Democratic party to be dedicated to the cause of humanity and the Republican party to property rights and special interests. He directed attention to the fact that what is termed the "old guard" is in complete control of the Republican party today, these men being the same who were charged by Roosevelt with being guilty of grand larceny and designated as pirates, burglars, common thieves and midnight assassins.

Mr. Gardner's tribute to President Wilson was one of the most beautiful and eloquent that has been heard here. He said:

"They mock and ridicule President Wilson because he is a teacher. I remember that the most colossal figure in all the world's history was a teacher; that He who walked the waters of Galilee and bade the winds be still. He at whose command the lame and crippled rose and ran. He at whose touch the blind saw. He who spake at the grave of Lazarus and the dead arose from the grim embrace of the tomb was the master teacher of all time. He, too, was mocked, ridiculed, rebuked; the scoff of infidel scorn and the victim of cruel crucifixion; yet He was a fountain of light and plucked the world from eternal darkness and forever established universal rights of men. And I seem to hear the sweet humanity of His voice ringing out through the centuries, incarnate in the glorious, radiant and unselfish life of our beloved president, proclaiming in words and deeds, 'peace on earth, good will towards men.'"

PARRAL CAPTURED BY VILLA TROOPS.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 2.—Parral, Chihuahua state, has been taken by Villa troops, according to a message received today by Americans from Chihuahua City. The report, also received by United States government agents and forwarded to Washington, said the Villa forces took possession of the city today. There has been no confirmation from Mexican sources of the message.

American mining men who have interests in Parral are concerned over the fate of nine Americans known to be in the city. This anxiety was increased tonight by the news from Chihuahua City that the bandits who held up the Mexican Central passenger train Monday evening at Laguna station, assaulted Dr. Steven Haffner, a German subject because they thought he was an American. This they said was an indication of what may happen to Americans in the Parral mining district.

Men familiar with the country in the vicinity of Parral declared that Villa probably moved on Parral from Santa Rosalia, following the Conchas river to Pilar de Concha, a distance of 45 miles from Santa Rosalia and then marched south 45 miles against Parral, entering the town from the north, the most accessible way.

They said that the report of Villa's capture of the town verified another report that Villa and his command had been in possession of Santa Rosalia as it was announced that he would move on Parral from Santa Rosalia. Villa is said to bear a grudge against Gen. Luis Herrera, the Carranza commander in Parral, and to have declared that when he captured Parral he intended to kill Herrera with his own hands.

Catches Wild Goose.

Newton, Nov. 4.—Durant P. Drum, farmer in the Little Mountain section of the county, has a wild goose, weighing 10 pounds, at his home to substantiate a story of a bewildered flock of the birds that stopped in their southward flight to investigate a big light which gave the Drum corn shuckers illumination one night this week. The birds flew down to the light and circled around it only a few feet from the ground, and Mr. Drum grabbed one of them.

YIELDING TO HARD BLOWS

VIOLENT FIGHTING CONTINUES TO MARK AUSTRO-GERMAN ATTACK ON RUMANIA.

London, Nov. 3.—Violent fighting continues to mark the Austro-German attempts to penetrate the Rumanian plains southeast of Kronstadt and Hermannstadt and toward Bucharest. The stiff defense of the Rumanians is yielding slowly to the blows of Austro-German artillery and infantry about Predeal, and Berlin announces further progress south of the border for them.

East of Predeal, however, the Rumanians advancing in the Buzeu Valley have driven the invaders back over the frontier in the region of Table Butzi. They also have taken Mount Sirul and Taturumio, along the Transylvanian border southeast of Kronstadt. South of Hermannstadt in the region of Rothenburg Pass, the Austro-Germans have extended their lines and captured an additional 350 prisoners. West of Rothenburg and in the Prohova Valley the Rumanians are holding their ground.

On the eastern front fighting has taken place east of Kovel in Volhynia and southeast of Lemberg in Galicia. Berlin announces the repulse of seven Russian attacks against the Austro-German positions on the left bank of the Narayuvka river near Halicz in Galicia, while Petrograd says the Russians have re-occupied part of their trenches on the west bank of the Stokhod in the region of Kiselin, in Volhynia. Near Lipnicadolina, in Galicia, the Russians have pushed back the Austro-Germans in some places.

There have been no heavy actions on the Somme front. The French have made slight gain at Sailly and the British have taken a German trench east of Guedecourt. Fort Vaux in the Verdun region, has been occupied by the French, following its evacuation by the Germans.

Although fighting continues at various points along the Macedonian front from Lake Presba to Lake Balhinos, there has been little change in the general situation. British troops have taken Alitza on the left bank of the Struma, from the Bulgarians.

FARLOW GIVEN 10 YEARS IN PRISON.

Salisbury, Nov. 3.—Jerry Farlow, noted yeggman, drew ten years in the Atlanta prison today, and Judge Jeter C. Pritchard told him he should consider himself fortunate. Farlow pleaded guilty to two counts; breaking in and larceny, and got the limit of five years in each case. A conspiracy charge was not pressed. When arrested here by Deputy Sheriff Nash and Graham, Farlow had on his person a saw with which he had made his escape from a Lynchburg jail, and a pint of nitroglycerine. He was in the Lynchburg jail awaiting trial for postoffice robbery at East Chattanooga, Tenn. He had previously escaped from the state prison in Georgia after serving a short portion of a ten year term for murder. Farlow had turned state's evidence in this case, his partner getting a life sentence for the murder of a watchman who interfered with one of their robberies. Farlow's brother, Luke, has just been sent up in Atlanta for fifteen months for selling some of the stamps stolen from the Spencer office. Another brother, Robert, is under an eight-year sentence in Winston for robbery of a mercantile establishment, this case being now up on appeal. Government officials figure that they have now copped all the postoffice robbers in North Carolina, and point out that there has been no office robbery in six months.

Catch Clever Counterfeiter.

New York, Nov. 5.—Joseph Russell, alias John Kelly, Brooklyn, was held today charged with being a central figure in one of the biggest counterfeiting plots of years. Secret service men assert he admitted passing nearly 1,000 $5 bills, fooling many expert tellers, and also that he confessed sharing in the manufacture of the bills. His arrest followed the round-up of H. R. Wilken, in California, recently. Russell's father, a wax engraver, was also taken by the secret service men, who say he had a part in the plot.

DYNAMITE PLOTS DISCOVERED

MEN UNDER ARREST CHARGED WITH PLOT TO BLOW UP STATIONS.

New York, Nov. 4.—Plots to dynamite two stations on the Interborough Rapid Transit Company's subway system were thwarted, according to the police, by the arrest today of six men, several of them street railway strikers, charged with bringing dynamite into the city and with causing the dynamite explosion which occurred in the 110th street station on October 24. A confession which detectives say they obtained from one of the men sets forth that the station at 59th street and Broadway was to have been blown up today and the station at City Hall later.

Several of the prisoners, according to the police, appeared at a powder factory at Kenil, N. J., yesterday and purchased 50 sticks of dynamite, 100 caps and 100 feet of fuse.

James A. Murna, a former subway guard, and Thomas J. McGuire, a chauffeur of Caldwell, N. J., visited Kenil yesterday and purchased the explosive to have been used in today's explosion, according to the police.

Murna, McGuire and James J. Herlihy are under arrest, together with George Pollock, a former elevated guard; Lawrence Kulle, a former subway guard, and Benjamin Hamilton, a former elevated guard.

All of these men except McGuire, the police say, are members of a distant local of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees. Police Captain Tunney, of the bomb squad, said evidence had been uncovered that funds to finance explosions came from the union and that other arrests would be made.

A special committee of the district body plotted in a Harlem assembly hall, the alleged confession said, one speaker stating that dynamiting methods had been used successfully during strikes in Albany, Buffalo and Philadelphia. The committee voted $50 and this money, the police declare, was used for the purchase of the explosive.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE WHAT COAL IT NEEDS.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The United States government can compel the railroads of the country to move coal for its departments—no matter what other uses the railroads might think they have for coal cars. The United States, likewise, is prepared to enforce its power in this direction unless the railroad companies and the coal contractors of the department get busy and supply the coal needed.

Furthermore, the government is prepared to take entire charge of all coal that is shipped for its use from the time it is placed on the cars until it arrives in this city. Likewise, it is prepared to secure an immediate delivery of all the coal it wants at any time it wants it, and to supervise its shipment and store it in this city or wherever it can be conveniently stored.

These are the developments of the day in the coal situation, and are due to the work of the committee of chief clerks of the various departments who have been working under the direction of Chief Clerk Wilmeth, of the treasury department.

The discovery of a law which makes possible for the government to be placed in absolute control of the situation was due to the investigation of Mr. Wilmeth and his associates. The navy department actually supplied the law.

NEARLY 2,000 MERCHANT SHIPS SUNK DURING WAR.

New York, Nov. 4.—One thousand eight hundred and twenty merchant ships with an aggregate gross tonnage of approximately 3,328,584, have been sunk by belligerent nations during 27 months of war ending November 1, according to figures compiled from cable dispatches and mail advices and published here today by the Journal of Commerce.

The losses during October were larger than any for the preceding five months, according to the statistics, amounting to 127 vessels during October.

A table showing the total shipping losses since the war began estimates those of the entente allies at about 75 per cent and those of neutrals at nearly 18 per cent, with tonnage losses less than seven per cent.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD'S REPORT.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The federal reserve board's monthly business summary announced today that general conditions in all the twelve federal reserve districts of the country were satisfactory, with extraordinary activity in nearly all lines. Labor shortage was reported by nearly all the district agents, and most of them referred to the increasing cost of living.

The report from the Richmond district says farmers are in better position financially than ever before as the result of good crops and high prices. There seems to be a steady increase of home seekers and a large acreage of virgin soil is being cleared. The cotton crop in that district is generally reported short, the best sections estimating a yield of but 50 to 60 per cent, but the current price of from 16 to 18 cents a pound makes each bale worth more than $100, including the seed. In a few counties in South Carolina only 20 to 30 per cent is reported, however, and small planters will barely be able to pay this year's bills.

The tobacco crop is reported short, and in some sections light in weight, but there has been a 100 per cent increase in price over last year. The peanut crop will probably be a little below normal, but with quality and prices good.

Conditions in the cotton textile industry are most satisfactory, with mills working to capacity and disposing of their output at satisfactory prices. Labor seems generally well employed at good wages.

Railroad earnings show a decided improvement, the most noticeable being on the Norfolk and Western railroad, due to its heavy coal traffic. One line serving a large Southern agricultural section reports a shortage of 1,500 cars. Exports from the district show an increase of 130 per cent over last year, represented largely by mules, iron and steel products, cotton, grain and food products. Bank clearings, which have increased 33 per cent indicate great business activity.

EUROPEAN WAR IS HELD RESPONSIBLE.

New York, Nov. 3.—The European war is held responsible for the increase in the cost of burial supplies and a consequent advance announced today by undertakers for funeral services. Owing to the war, it was said, "undertakers' hardware"—name plates and coffin handles—has risen in price from twenty to forty per cent due to the fact, the supply men claim, that the chemicals used to give the nickel effect is not now being imported. It is estimated that even the cheapest coffins cost $5 more than formerly.

Wholesale dealers in burial supplies have notified undertakers throughout the city of a general advance in the trade. To offset the advance the undertakers are considering the advisability of entering upon a campaign in favor of cremation.

COUPLE'S DEATH CREATES WILL PUZZLE.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Disposal of two estates which aggregate $50,000, hinges upon whether the courts are able to decide whether James Ward Hinchey or his wife, Marie Kirlin Hinchey, died first in an automobile accident at Shelby, Ind., October 18.

It was discovered that each had made a will bequeathing to the other the entire estate. There were no witnesses to the accident and both were dead when found. The courts will be asked to say whether the heirs of the husband or the heirs of the wife get the combined estate. The question arises over the old common law presumption that the wife, being weaker, died first.

Experts on probate law declare, however, that this being a case where twin wills exist and husband and wife died simultaneously, the legal theory is that no wills exist and that the heirs of both will share in the estate.

Buy Hunting Preserve.

Messrs. T. B. Yuille and J. H. Mahler, of New York, prominent officials of the American Tobacco Company, have purchased a large tract of land near Julian for a hunting preserve. It is understood that they will spend a considerable sum of money in building a hunting lodge and making other improvements on the property.

PROCLAIM POLISH KINGDOM

RUSSIAN TERRITORY OCCUPIED BY ARMIES TO ME MADE INDEPENDENT NATION.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—"Polish provinces occupied by troops of the central powers," says the Overseas News Agency, "were the scene today of a great and momentous historic event. Germany and Austro-Hungary, by joint action, proclaimed, at Warsaw and Lublin, the kingdom of Poland and re-established the right of the Polish nation to control its own destinies, to live an independent national life and to govern itself by chosen representatives of the nation."

"A few days ago a Polish delegation had called upon the imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg. Its members were representative Poles of all classes, all parties, all ranks of society and creeds. They transmitted to the German government the wishes of the Polish nation which now have been granted to them."

"Thus the ancient kingdom of Poland, from which in the past came famous rulers like the Jagellones name of a dynasty founded by Jagello, which reigned in Poland from 1286 to 1572 and glorious soldiers like the Great Sobieski (John III, king of Poland in 1674-1696), is now resurrected to new life. The Poles are free from Russian oppression, no more to the trodden under the heels of the Cossacks. The liberty that had been destroyed a century ago on Russian instigation now is restored. The rule of the knout has been abolished. Poland has been given back to western civilization."

"His majesty, the German emperor, and his majesty, the emperor of Austria and apostolic king of Hungary, inspired by firm confidence in a final victory of their arms and prompted by a desire to lead the districts conquered by their armies under heavy sacrifices from Russian domination towards a happy future, have agreed to form of these districts a national state with a hereditary monarchy and a constitutional government. The exact frontiers of the kingdom of Poland shall be outlined later."

"The new kingdom will receive the guarantees needed for the free development of its own forces by its intimate relations with both powers. The glorious traditions of the ancient Polish armies and the memory of the brave comradeship in the great war of our days shall revive in a national army. The organization, instruction and command of its army shall be arranged by common agreement."

"The allied monarchs express the confident hope that Polish wishes for the evolution of a Polish state and for the national developments of a Polish kingdom shall now be fulfilled, taking due consideration of the general political conditions prevailing in Europe and of the welfare and the safety of their own countries and nations. And the great realm which the western neighbors of the kingdom of Poland shall have, on their eastern frontier shall be a free and happy state enjoying its own national life and they shall welcome with joy the birth and prosperous development of this state."

The semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung prints a leading article entitled "Poland's Hour of Fate," stating that a "hundred years ago as the result of the congress at Vienna, Poland's fate went into the hands of Russia, but that now Poland's freedom is inseparably linked together with the victory of Germany and her allies."

Emperor Francis Joseph has addressed an autograph letter to Premier Ernest Von Koerber, stating that it is his will when the new state of Poland comes into existence to grant Galicia the right independently to manage its own internal affairs. The emperor charges Premier Von Koerber to prepare measures for the legal realization of this command.

October Police Record.

During the month of October 100 warrants were issued by the Greensboro police department and all but four were served. Seven defendants were sentenced to the city streets, six to the county roads, five to the workhouse and 54 were fined. Judgment was suspended in several cases and continuances were granted in others.

THERE ARE PLENTY OF CARS

APPARENT SHORTAGE IS LACK OF EFFICIENCY IN THEIR DISTRIBUTION.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—The apparent shortage of cars upon the railroads of the country was declared to be the result of a lack of efficiency in their distribution by W. L. Barnes, superintendent of transportation of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, here today. He was one of the witnesses at an informal hearing on the alleged shortage of cars being held by C. C. McChord, of the interstate commerce commission. It was brought out that the railroads of the United States now own approximately 2,600,000 cars and that the apparent total shortage on all lines is only about 60,000. Mr. Barnes said that much of this apparent shortage resulted from shippers asking for more cars than they need, in order that their allotment might approximate the number they really want. Any apparent shortages resulting from other causes, he said, could be met by a more efficient distribution of the car supply.

Mr. Barnes, in response to questions as to why the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy had failed to return cars owned by other roads, declared that system had been forced in self-defense to hold foreign cars and would continue to do so until some assurance was provided that their own equipment would be returned. His road holds approximately 32,000 cars belonging to other lines.

When the hearing was opened today all witnesses were placed under oath, as the result of suggestions from attorneys for complaining shippers, in order that their testimony might be available in the event of a general inquiry into the situation being held later.

Aside from Mr. Barnes, other railroad representatives heard were W. L. Parks, vice president of the Illinois Central; J. F. Porterfield, of the same system; and C. B. Phelps, superintendent of transportation of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Short statements were also presented by representatives of Ohio and Michigan coal dealers and consumers.

C. B. Phelps, testifying for the Louisville and Nashville, said there is at this time a net shortage of cars on that road of more than 16,000, and that of this number approximately 10,000 are coal cars.

Various reasons for shortage were assigned. Chief among them were the large volume of munition shipments to the seaboard, the increased output of ore in the lake regions and the removal of many colliers from the coal carrying trade along the Atlantic coast. These causes, it was asserted, had operated to draw cars from the South and West to the North and East, which had then been held there.

Each of the railroad representatives testifying today recommended the assumption of control by the interstate commerce commission of the distribution of cars. They also recommended that demurrage charged against shippers and the per diem charge paid by railroads holding foreign cars be increased.

Mr. McChord announced tonight that he had telegraphed to the commission at Washington recommending that an order for a formal hearing be entered immediately. A reply to his recommendations, Mr. McChord said, is expected tomorrow.

TRAIN BANDIT GUILTY; INTERCEDES FOR JURY.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 3.—Ben F. McKee tonight was found guilty of participating in a train robbery at Greenville, Ala., July 10, 1915, the jury bringing in a verdict after being out four hours. About $20,000 was taken by the men who held up the train at Greenville and the conductor died from apoplexy.

When the verdict was read tonight McKee asked permission to address the jury and when it was given said: "I hope the Supreme Architect of the Universe will forgive you for what you have done to me tonight."

McKee was alleged by the government to have been a member of the so-called Harrison gang of train robbers. Among other crimes charged to this band is the robbery of a train in West Virginia in last year and the stealing of a half million dollars in unsigned currency. Two of the Harrisons testified against McKee during the trial.

Blind Girl Wins Prize.

Gaffney, S. C., Nov. 4.—A Gaffney girl, Miss Lila Moore was awarded the blue ribbon on fancy work at the Southeastern fair which was recently held in Atlanta, Ga. When it is taken into consideration that this young lady is totally blind her achievement is remarkable. She is a sister of Capt. Henry C. Moore, of the coast artillery.

UNCLE SAM DOES A GOOD BUSINESS IN FURS.

Want to buy furs? If so, you can buy them from Uncle Sam. Our Uncle has added another to the already long list of occupations which have sprung up collaterally to the operation of his executive department.

Distributor of seeds, renter of camp sites in the national forests, breeder of cattle and fowls, geologist, expert mining engineer and a score of other things he is, and now he has turned fur salesman.

A full-fledged market where the skins of coyotes, skunks, badgers, bobcats, foxes, raccoons, ring-tailed cats, lynx and opossums may be purchased, has sprung up in Washington. Modeled along the lines of the world-renowned London fur market, bale after bale of skins were sold last season, netting the government a tidy sum.

Predatory animals have been a source of much damage in the Western states. About two years ago an epidemic of rabies seized the coyotes and cattlemen banded together to exterminate these wolves. The result of this was an emergency appropriation by Congress of $75,000 for the control of rabies. This, through the biological survey of the department of agriculture, was immediately used to place five inspectors and nearly 200 hunters in the field, in addition to the already large force engaged in killing predatory animals of every description.

Under normal conditions the coyote restricts his depredations to cattle and crops, but under the influence of rabies he attacks human beings. More than 100 persons in Oregon and Nevada received the Pasteur treatment for rabies after bites by coyotes.

The government's hunters are all trained men, and no restriction was placed upon the manner in which animals were to be killed. All skins are shipped to Washington.

There is in every department a "chief of the supply division." It rests with him to dispose of any lots of goods for which the department has no further use. It is against the law to give away government property, so the goods must be sold, usually at auction.

So, in December of last year a notice was sent out to buyers of furs that a fur sale would be held at the department of agriculture. The number of pelts disposed of during the entire season was nearly 6,000, the proceeds amounting to approximately $9,000.

BEQUESTS CONDITIONED ON ABILITY TO COOK.

New York, Nov. 4.—The will of Mrs. Marie Zinsser, filed here for probate, leaves $10,000 to each of three grand daughters on condition that she can cook an acceptable meal before her twenty-first birthday. If any of the girls fails in the domestic test her share reverts to the residuary estate which is left to three sons.

The three presumptive heirs are daughters of Dr. Hans Zinsser, of Columbia University. A fourth sister received $10,000 last year after demonstrating her ability to cook and sew in accordance with the condition formulated by Mrs. Marie Zinsser's husband and continued by her after his death.

The girls who are beneficiaries of this bequest are Miss Helen Zinsser, of Byrn Mawr College; Miss Peggy Zinsser, of Smith College and nine years old Margaret Zinsser, who lives in this city. Miss Ellen Zinsser, of Smith College, is the sister who already has met the test.

The Fair of the Cherokee Indians.

The third annual Cherokee Indian fair at Yellow Hill this week was probably the only fair of its kind in the United States. The Cherokees are showing their ability as farmers, workers for the promotion of education and for the general betterment of the community. We will venture to say that this small band of Cherokee Indians, at one time one of the strongest tribes in America, has shown more interest and probably worked harder than any fair association in North Carolina. The farm exhibits were extra good, both in quality and quantity. There was almost every variety of corn, beans, potatoes, wheat, rye, cane, peas, fruits of all kinds, and in fact everything that grows in western North Carolina. The sewing and cooking exhibits made by the school children were of the best, while the bead work and basketry were especially noticeable.

ARMORED SUBMARINE TO CONVOY DEUTSCHLAND.

New London, Conn., Nov. 4.—The German armored submarine U-57, sister ship of the U-53, which recently sank five vessels off the New England coast, is expected to act as a convoy for the undersea freighter Deutschland on her return trip to Germany, according to a statement tonight by Capt. Paul Koenig.

The U-57, it was reported, left Bremen on October 13, three days after the Deutschland sailed.

The Deutschland's skipper said: "I would not be surprised if the armored submarine appeared off this coast while I am in port. You can't tell what the government will do."

In answer to questions, Capt. Koenig said he probably would make his homeward dash within the next ten days. He denied a report that he would go through the Cape Cod canal, saying nothing was to be gained by this route.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company announced the Deutschland's cargo was discharged at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Great care was exercised to prevent outsiders from seeing the work. Only the crews were allowed in the hold. They passed the freight out to negro stevedores who stored it in the warehouses. Nothing has been made public concerning the Deutschland's manifest.

The citizens' committee which has arranged for a complimentary banquet to the Deutschland's crew next Wednesday announced that a gold watch, suitably inscribed, will be presented to Capt. Koenig.

Dodge Brothers Ask Court to Curb Ford.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—John F. and Horace Dodge, stockholders in the Ford Motor Company, obtained a temporary injunction in the Circuit court here this afternoon restraining Henry Ford from using the assets of the company to extend the business as planned instead of distributing profits in dividends.

The Dodge brothers allege that increased labor costs and unstable business conditions coming at the end of the war makes "reckless expenditures of the company's assets unwise."

EGGS SELLING FOR 60 CENTS IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Going up—
that's eggs!
Some Washington housekeepers today paid 60 cents for strictly fresh, guaranteed first class eggs. Many prominent dealers sold eggs for 55 cents a dozen and a few sold guaranteed eggs as low as 52 cents. In various other markets the product brought from 30 to 48 cents, retail, according to the faith the dealer was willing to place in the youth of the eggs.

Few dealers here were willing to make any price forecasts, but housekeepers noted with alarm that conditions are strictly similar to those in New York, where the prediction was freely made today that eggs will hit the dollar mark this winter. In New York eggs were sold as high as 67 cents wholesale, which mean about 75 cents retail.

If eggs get to the dollar point, or anywhere near it, Washington housekeepers will shut down and quit buying eggs, according to W. A. Sacks, of the commission house of Golden & Co.

Speaking of the egg situation today, Mr. Sacks said:

"For high-grade newly laid eggs, the center market price today is 45 to 48 cents wholesale. These are selected eggs from the best henry stock. Commercial fresh eggs are 40 to 42 cents. The best cold storage eggs are about 35 cents, and average cold storage eggs 30 to 32 cents. These are wholesale prices. Retail prices run 5 or 6 cents higher or thereabouts. For the best newly laid eggs the consumer is paying 50 to 55 cents."

"Egg prices will be high this winter due to the scarcity of fancy eggs and the shortage of cold storage eggs. That I regard as certain."

"But, on the other hand, I do not expect the public to pay extreme prices for eggs. I do not look for dollar eggs or anything like it. The truth is there is no use charging such prices, for consumers simply won't buy the eggs."

"When we had the blizzard a few years ago and eggs were put to 75 cents a dozen, how many did any one sell? The public simply would not buy eggs at that price. Housekeepers refused to pay such a figure, and the eggs went unsold. It will be the same this winter if the attempt is made to get fancy prices."

Contagious Diseases.

In describing the management of contagious diseases as scarlet fever, infantile paralysis, measles, etc., in the rural sections of North Carolina in the past, chaos is the word.

Scarlet fever is one of the most dangerous diseases to childhood. There is no preventive serum or vaccine or anti-toxin, as in many other diseases. The only known method of control is rigid quarantine and isolation of a patient ill with the disease. Knowing this and knowing its danger and its insidious character, there are absolutely no rules and regulations governing the control of this disease in seven out of ten counties in the state.

With population increasing, compulsory school law, and increasing attendance in the schools, together with lengthening school term, it is an imperative necessity that there be systematic control of quarantine. The older a child is before having measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, or other so-called diseases of childhood, the better its chances for recovery without complication.

One of the best means at hand for reducing the death rate in North Carolina from this class of diseases, is the enforcement of an effective quarantine. Such a systematic control should apply with equal force to Cherokee as to Durham. Outside of counties having whole-time health officers the only possible system for uniform control of quarantine must be through the central agency of the state board of health.

If the next general assembly will grant the state board of health this privilege and the means of discharging the responsibility that goes with it, then for the first time in the history of the state the people may expect a safe and uniform attempt at protection that protects from the mountains to the sea.—Bulletin State Board of Health.

Costs $100 to Keep Horse.

The cost of keeping a horse on the farm for a year in eastern Nebraska is upward of $100, according to the farm management department of the college of agriculture. It costs $60 for feed, $7.50 for interest at 5 per cent on a valuation of $150 for the horse, $15 for 10 per cent depreciation on the horse, $12 for 75 hours care at 16 cents an hour, $7.50 for shelter and enough more for expenses to make it total over $100. In western Nebraska, on account of the lower cost of feed, the cost of keeping a horse is estimated to be somewhat less.

AVIATOR BREAKS FLIGHT RECORDS.

New York, Nov. 3.—Victor Carlstrom, flying in the New York Times mail-carrying aeroplane failed today in his attempt to fly from Chicago to New York without a stop but broke the American cross-country non-stop record when he flew from Chicago to Erie, Pa., a distance of 480 miles, in 257 1-2 minutes. Carlstrom also broke the speed record for distance flying, his average time being about 112 miles an hour.

A defective joint in the gasoline feed connection forced the aviator to descend at Lyman, N. M., for repairs and a fresh supply. After resuming flight he found it impossible to reach New York before night and came down at Hammondsport, this adding 155 miles to his day's flight, making a total of about 635 miles.

Carlstrom started from Chicago at 7:09 1-2 A. M., Eastern time. Observers along the route reported him in rapid succession over Blue Island and Harvey, Ill., and Hammond, Ind. After passing Oak Harbor, Ohio, Carlstrom drove for the shore of Lake Erie, passing south to Port Clinton. He skirted Sandusky to the south and then passed over Huron.

Once across the Pennsylvania line he passed over North Girard and swept on to Erie. He got away from there at 2:30 P. M., after landing at 11:26 A. M. He was sighted over Bath, N. Y., at 4:07 and descended at Hammondsport at 4:25.

Reaches New York Safely.

New York, Nov. 4.—Victor Carlstrom, who left Chicago yesterday for New York in a New York Times mail-carrying aeroplane, descended on Governor's Island today ending his flight at 8:55 1-2 A. M. His journey was interrupted by stops yesterday at Erie, Pa., and Hammondsport, N. Y.

On his flight from Hammondsport today Carlstrom broke another record covering the distance, 315 miles, at an average speed of 137 miles an hour, or 11 miles an hour better than the record held by Jules Vedrines, French aviator.

The aviator resumed his trip from Hammondsport at 6:35 A. M.

A letter from Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, addressed to President Wilson was placed in the hands of a special messenger who started at once for Long Branch, N. J. A representative of the New York post-office met Carlstrom at Governor's Island and received the bag of mail brought by air post.

The aviator was greeted upon his descent by Major General Wood, U. S. A., and Augustus Post and Alan R. Hawley, of the Aero Club of America.

DECLARES EATING RICE IS WAY TO "BUST" FLOUR TRUST.

As the proprietor of a local bakery said Friday, "shoe merchants, dry goods dealers and grocers can raise prices a quarter or a third, and the people do not seem to take very much notice; but when the baker adds a cent to a loaf of bread it almost starts a riot." Perhaps it is because we have been taught that bread is the staff of life, that we view with more or less alarm any rise in its price, says the Denison, Texas, Herald.

This ought to be a good time for rice mills to set forth before the public the great advantage of rice as a food. Use the slogan "eat more rice and save on living expenses."

It is a recognized fact that rice is one of the most nutritious foods known to mankind. When the different nations sent their soldiers to Pekin a few years ago to relieve that city from the boxer siege, a close watch was kept by each government of the diet, morale, and marching conditions of the other.

The Japanese were given the laurel wreath. Their soldiers were much smaller men than those of any other country, yet in full marching order they carried just as much weight. Their ration was rice and smoked fish, while the soldiers of the other nations fed their men white bread, beef, pork, potatoes and a much more diversified ration. Furthermore the Japanese arrived at the gates of Pekin first and in better physical condition than the troops of any other nation.

Eat more rice and bust the flour trust.

Potato Skins Precious.

A Copenhagen dispatch says the Burgomaster of Eckernforde, Schleswig-Holstein, publishes an urgent order against the peeling of potatoes. To order says the prospects of obtaining potatoes in the future are exceedingly small, and that, despite official control, it is probable that only a couple of pounds weekly per head will be obtainable. Anyone discovered peeling potatoes before boiling, or throwing away peelings, will be punished by three months' imprisonment or a fine of 1,500 marks ($375).

DR. ALEXANDER URGES FARMERS TO ECONOMIZE.

That the greatest lesson to be learned by the farmers of North Carolina is that of economy in their agricultural operations is the confident judgment of Dr. H. Q. Alexander, of the State Farmers' Union, who is spending two weeks at his home in Mecklenburg county after a rather extended trip through the state. In Doctor Alexander's estimation economy includes raising supplies at home, the purchase of better agricultural implements, better livestock and better seed selection, improved tillage, good roads and almost everything else that might be mentioned. "What is the value of 18, 19 and 20-cent cotton," remarked Doctor Alexander, "when the farmer has to pay $10 a barrel for flour, almost double prices for meats, canned goods, and the like, buys feed stuffs from the middle West at enhanced prices, and does not put aside anything for the proverbial rainy day? I want to see if the State Farmers' Union cannot emphasize the vital importance of the farmers of North Carolina raising their supplies at home. In other words, that the exigencies of the situation will never force them to buy nor compel them to sell." If the organization can achieve this one task, then all the other good things will be added to the state and the farmers of North Carolina will be the most independent people in the world.

Asked as to the extent of the cotton crop, Doctor Alexander hazarded the prediction that it would hardly be more than one-half the normal while in Mecklenburg it would be less than that. The union, he further added, had never set a minimum price for the staple, but had recommended to the farmers of North Carolina that their cotton was worth 20 cents a pound according to the facts in the case and that in their judgment it would bring this if the crop was properly marketed.

Doctor Alexander is now looking forward to the approaching convention of the North Carolina Farmers' Union that is to be held in Raleigh November 14 and 15. This is the annual meeting of the organization at which officers will be elected for the ensuing year and plans outlined for the future. The director of the mint will be among the speakers it is understood and in addition there will be other attractive features.

Setting a Mark.

Work for something, not for nothing. It is not wise to live just for the fleeting moment or just for today. Without some aim one's time and work go for naught. The years go by and he has nothing to show for them. If not advancing, we are falling back. If not keeping alive, growing to something better and higher, we are becoming weaker and of less worth. Even though we never reach the goal, we have made some advance in striving for it. A good aim, a real purpose in life, makes worth of character. All have not the same tastes. There is a wide field from which to choose what one will work for. And this is well. The one, universal aim is the same, to live truer, better lives from day to day. A life without a purpose is like a ship without a rudder. Want of motive makes life dreary and monotonous. Nothing satisfies. "Better little talent and much purpose than much talent and little purpose." Aim for something worth while and keep your mark steadily in view. Life will mean much more to you. You will be more useful to the world, you will find more satisfaction in living.—Milwaukee Journal.

Would Take a "Goslin."

Book knowledge is not all. A wealthy, fond father, fearing his son would be contaminated by college life, had him educated at home. When he was twenty-one, he took him to ride through the streets of the city. They passed a female seminary just as the doors opened and a crowd of young women came out. The dear boy grabbed his father's arm and cried, "What are those?" His father replied, "They are only goslins." Later in the day, the fond father said: "My son, you have obeyed me, have faithfully completed your education, now I am ready to spend $50,000 to give you the highest ambition of your life." The boy looked up in glad wonder and said: "O, dad, give me a goslin."

PAID BACK TAXES AS RESULT OF SERMON.

Following the receipt of $146 "conscience money," by County Treasurer Thomas H. Clines a few days ago, City Tax Receiver Andrew M. Sea received, through the same source, a check for $293.34.

The Rev. Julian S. Sibley, former pastor of the Stuart Robinson Memorial Presbyterian church, who is now located at Charlotte, N. C., transmitted both checks. The amount represents taxes on personal property, which was not listed by the owner for several years.

While the name of the party is withheld by the Rev. Mr. Sibley, he volunteered the information that it was a woman. The latter no longer is the owner of the property in question. She has disposed of it and the present owner is not known.

Last summer the Rev. Mr. Sibley visited Louisville and delivered a sermon at the Second Presbyterian church. The next day he was the dinner guest of J. William Miller, president of the board of aldermen. He told Mr. Miller that after his sermon, which was a strong one on the "Power of Conscience," a member of the congregation approached him with the proposition of handling for her some money which she felt due the city and county.—Louisville Ky., Times.

Ever Hear of "Black Cotton."

Something new under the sun—black cotton will be exhibited to Atlanta scientists and students of botany by Arthur W. Brabham, of Olar, S. C., the "Burbank of the South," who has not only succeeded in evolving a strain of black cotton, but also strains of gray, pink and yellow cotton. If Mr. Brabham's black cotton proves out in actual test, so that the seed will produce black cotton year after year, he will have solved one of the big dye problems of the textile industry, and should his other colors of cotton give the same results, there seem to be no limits to the possibility of developing strains of various colors.

Japan Friendly to Us.

Former Judge Elbert H. Gary, returned from a recent visit to Japan, announces in words "just as emphatic and in a belief no less absolute," that the leading and controlling men of Japan are outspoken in their profession of friendship toward the United States and are anxious to have a continuance, permanently, of the peaceable and friendly relations now existing between the two countries. It is, unquestionably, a true statement of the preponderating sentiment in Japan.—Richmond Journal.

Baby Had Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Sam C. Small, Clayton, N. M., writes: "My grandson had whooping cough when he was three months old. We used Foley's Honey and Tar and I believe it saved his life. He is now big and fat." MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1916.

Since the cost of living continues to soar, it is not surprising to learn that it is also to cost more to die. Undertakers all over the country have been notified of a general advance in the price of burial supplies, the increase ranging from 20 to 40 per cent. This is a case of the high cost of living pursuing a fellow to the grave.

The influx of gold into the United States from European countries has carried the supply of the coin to $24.80 per capita, three times what it was 20 years ago, when we Democrats were yelling ourselves hoarse for Bryan and the "immortal ratio of 16 to 1." There is more gold in the vaults of the United States treasury today than any nation on earth ever possessed at one time before.

With cotton selling around 20 cents a pound, with both exports and domestic consumption increasing, and with the world's visible supply below that of last year, the value of this year's crop of the great Southern staple is far above a billion dollars and is netting the growers more money than they received for the largest crops ever raised. And, what is more to the point, the price promises to remain high for several years. The demand is so great that there will be practically no reserve stock on hand when the present crop shall have been disposed of.

The commission appointed by Congress to investigate the subject of railway regulation and control will begin its work on the 20th inst. Federal incorporation, government ownership of the railroads and other public utilities, and the problems of railway and telegraph operation in their relationship to the government and the public, are reported upon. This commission has no connection with the commission appointed by the president to observe and report on the working of the Adamson eight-hour law for railway employees.

The Daily Record, in the course of an editorial on Hon. O. Max Gardner and woman suffrage, says: "Mr. Gardner, like all intelligent and progressive men of this age, stands for woman suffrage—or, equal suffrage." It is news to most of us that a small minority of the men of North Carolina have a corner on all the intelligence and progressive ideas in the state.

Barber Makes a Fortune.

New York, Nov. 4.—After sixty years of hair snipping, beard trimming and whisker shaving, Jacob Hysler, eighty-four, quit his barber's chair today. He has two fine homes and $300,000 tucked away.

The trouble with good intentions is that they are sometimes too good to be true.

VILLA BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN; ROB PASSENGERS.

Chihuahua City, Mex. Nov. 1.—Via El Paso Junction, Nov. 2.—After shooting the 29 Carranza military guards of the southbound passenger train which left Juarez Monday, Villa bandits looted the train, robbed the passengers and even took the clothing from the women passengers. Dr. Haffner, a German passenger on the train, who was mistaken by the bandits for an American, was struck over the head with a gun by one of the Villistas. The bandits, who were in command of Murga brothers and Silvestre Quevedo, then abandoned the train, carrying the loot away in mule-drawn wagons.

There were approximately 200 in the command which held up the passenger train as it was approaching Laguna station. After commanding the engineer to stop one of the bandits went through the train ordering passengers to alight. The conductor, whose name is not known, was shot in the hip. The Carranza soldiers who were in the box car just back of the tender were ordered to alight and were shot down in view of the passengers. This escort was in command of Captain Guzman, who also was shot.

After the execution of the Carranza soldiers the systematic looting of the train and the robbing of the passengers started, according to reports made to General Trevino by the passengers who arrived here. The passengers were robbed of their baggage and personal belongings, after which the express car was looted and the contents carried away in wagons. After holding the train one and a half hours, the bandits permitted it to continue to Chihuahua City, about sixty miles south.

TO EXAMINE OFFICERS OF STATE ARTILLERY.

Officers of the coast artillery corps of the national guard of North Carolina will assemble in Greensboro on November 13 to participate in the semi-annual examinations conducted by the war department, according to orders issued from the adjutant general's office. All officers who have completed the six months artillery course are required to attend.

Commissioned officers who intend to stand the examination for the coast artillery school of 1917 will be examined at the adjutant general's office on November 7.

Enlisted men who are first class gunners and who are candidates for rated positions as plotters, observer, gun commander, or pointer will be examined by a board of officers, commencing November 8.

The adjutant general has received advices from the war department to the effect that after July 1, 1917, each coast artillery company must be recruited to a minimum of 109 men and three officers and it is advised that recruiting begin immediately.

Under the new regulations the coast artillerymen will be paid for forty-eight drills of one and one-half hours in each year. In order to secure this pay, however, the attendance at each drill must not be less than sixty per cent of the enrolled strength of the unit.

REWARD OFFERED FOR CAPTURE OF BATSON.

Thomasville, Nov. 3.—Ed Yokely, a white employee of the Thomasville Furniture Company, is seriously injured as the result of pistol wounds received yesterday morning about 10 minutes before 7 o'clock, and Tom Batson, the wielder of the weapon, is at large, with officers searching for him and a $100 reward offered for his capture.

The men had had some trouble prior to the shooting, and when they met on the streets, both going to work, they entered into a heated argument. Batson fired several times, but only one bullet took effect. Dr. C. A. Julian was immediately called and extracted the bullet. Batson took to the woods and has not been located as yet. Mr. Lambeth, owner of the factory at which Yokely worked, immediately offered a reward for the capture of Batson.

TO GET BOYS OUT OF ARMIES

ADVENTUROUS YOUTHS GIVING THE STATE DEPARTMENT PLENTY OF WORRY.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Of the many unexpected duties the United States has found thrust upon it by the world war one of the strangest is that of rescuing adventurous boys who enlist in the European armies.

There have been more than a thousand such cases since the war began, and even now letters praying for the release of young soldiers of fortune pour into the state department at the rate of 50 a day. It has been necessary to assign an official to give special attention to the subject.

The story almost always is the same. The youngster, generally between 16 and 20, suddenly disappears and is next heard from when he writes home from Canada or England that he has had enough of war and wants to come home.

Then follows an almost tornado-like correspondence with officials, parents, congressmen and persons who think they can hurry the processes of diplomacy by their influence becoming sympathetic, tearful, importunate or mandatory. The red tape of governmental business, however, unwinds slowly and finally the consul general in London or Ottawa, or somewhere else or perhaps the American embassy makes representations to the foreign government and the adventurer is released and sent home.

Until recently the British government has been promptly releasing all Americans under 21 on the request of the United States government on the ground that it is illegal for such a person to enlist in a foreign army without parents' consent. Recently the British government has shown a disposition to reduce the age limit to 18 when minors become of age in a military sense.

HUSBAND KILLED BY WIFE WHILE AT PLAY.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 3.—Herbert N. Rowell, night yard engineer on the Atlantic Coast Line, was shot through the heart and instantly killed this morning when a pistol, with which he and his wife were playfully scuffling, went off. The accident happened in the Rowell's home at 1220 Taylor street at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Rowell and his wife had pulled open a bureau drawer to get some cigarette coupons to count and one of them pulled out a pistol which was lying near the coupons. They got into a playful tussle and the pistol went off causing the instant death of Mr. Rowell.

Mrs. Rowell was almost prostrated by the accident, but her account of the affair was verified by a Mrs. Muller, who was practically an eyewitness. After viewing the remains and hearing the accounts of the accident Coroner Scott decided that an inquest was not necessary.

Mr. Rowell had been living here about four years, coming here from Florence. His wife was a Miss Annie Johnston, of Florence, and they had been married about 12 years.

TWO YOUTHS CAPTURE BLOCKADERS AND STILL.

Pittsboro, Nov. 4.—Sheriff Lane deputized two young men, Ernest White and Radcliff Lannis, to go 20 miles in an automobile to a point near Carthage to capture a blockade still.

They arrived on the scene about noon, finding two white men at the still eating dinner. A brand new still of 70-gallon capacity was running at full blast. The boys handcuffed the two men, Lee Hilliard and Nell Phillips, destroyed 10 gallons of whiskey, 1,000 gallons of beer, carried the still for a mile to their car on a rail, leading their prisoners at the same time.

They brought men and still to Pittsboro, a true bill was found against the men by the grand jury; they were tried and found guilty the same afternoon and Judge Long sentenced Hilliard to the roads for six months and Phillips, who is crippled, to pay all costs and a fine of $50.

Girl Aviator Tests Aircraft.

New York, Nov. 4.—The first of the new standard aeroplanes built under the plans and specifications of the United States government was tested at the Mineola aviation field today and was said by observers to have been satisfactory.

The flight was made by Miss Cecilia Wright, of this city, accompanied by T. T. Millman, chief inspector of aviation for the government. They remained aloft 52 minutes and reached an altitude of 5,100 feet.

RETURNS AFTER 25 YEARS TO ANSWER FOR CRIME.

Franklin, Nov. 3.—Returning to his boyhood home in Murphy after an absence of twenty-five years, to voluntarily answer to the charge of having killed his boyhood friend and playmate with a rock during an altercation, is the unique record of R. L. Phillips, who has for the last quarter of a century been in the West, where he is said to have accumulated a comfortable fortune.

Mr. Phillips is a native of North Carolina, but has spent the last twenty-five years away. The events connected with his departure and return are of a rather tragic nature. Some twenty-five years ago, while engaged in an altercation with another boy, Phillips threw a stone which struck the other boy about the head and killed him.

Phillips went away, his whereabouts being unknown to any of his kinsmen until within the last few days. It seems that Phillips decided it would be better to come in and give himself up, arriving in Murphy. There he registered at the hotel run by his brother-in-law, and the next day met several of his old acquaintances and kinsmen on the streets, among whom was his father, but was recognized by none of them. Monday morning he disclosed his identity, and gave himself over to the authorities.

Two who were eye witnesses of the difficulty which caused Phillips to leave are still living. It seems that Mr. Phillips had "made good" during his absence.

COLONEL GARCIA WILL BE SHOT AS BANDIT.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 4.—Col. Rosario Garcia, the Villa commander captured on the Santa Anna ranch near Namiquipa by Carranza troops, was brought to Juarez from Madera, Chihuahua, today. Papers claimed to have been found in his possession and addressed to Villa also were brought to Juarez to be used as evidence.

Colonel Garcia is said to be a Sonora commander and the Carranza officers in Juarez claim he was carrying the papers from a general in Sonora to Villa. It is expected that he will be shot as a bandit, although he may be taken to Chihuahua City for further investigation by General Trevino before execution.

Home Celebration of Wonder Interest

The arrival of a baby in the household completely changes the entire aspect of the future.

But in the meantime, during the anxious period of expectancy, there is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that does wonders. It is for external use, relieves the pains of muscle expansion, soothes and quiets the nerves, extends its influence to the internal organs and removes to great extent the tendency to worry and apprehension. It is a natural treatment, safe for the mother, has no drug effect whatsoever and for this reason must exert a most beneficial influence upon those functions directly connected with motherhood. In a very interesting book the subject is freely discussed and a copy will be mailed free to all expectant mothers by Bradfield Regulator Co., 406 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of any druggist. Use as directed and you will then know why mothers for nearly half a century have used and recommended this splendid aid to motherhood. Their letters are messages of cheer, that breathe comfort in every word.

AGRICULTURE AFTER THE WAR

WILL FIND ITSELF FACING NEW PROBLEMS OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND.

(Written by Hugh J. Hughes, editor of Farm, Stock and Home, for the American Review of Reviews for November.)

When the great war is over American agriculture, like every other line of business, will find itself in a new world, facing new problems that make a forecast of the situation both timely and valuable. These problems, briefly stated, are those of supply and demand and the displacement in supply and demand which has taken place during the progress of the war.

Agriculture is a worldwide business, made up of two great classes of farming—grain-growing and live-stock and dairy production. The former requires the less capital, the latter makes for a safer income. The former prevails in new lands, the latter is the backbone of well-developed agricultural communities. To a certain extent the two are interchangeable and any serious set-back in live-stock farming causes the live-stock farmer to go back to grain-growing as a business. This is explanatory of the situation which I shall describe. Europe's Shortage of Men, Horses and Meats.

The great war has affected the agriculture of western Europe profoundly and in a destructive way. France, the Teuton empire, and Great Britain have all suffered enormous agricultural losses, both of men and of live stock. While it is true that the European peasant woman does a great deal of the work of the farm, it is no less true that the killing and maiming of hundreds of thousands of the best farmers in the world will seriously affect the productive powers of European farms for at least a decade to come. In like manner the destruction of horse flesh, which has gone to the extent of killing off the finest of Europe's horse population, has seriously impaired the farm power of the nations at war and has rendered changes in tillage methods imperative. The demands of the trenches for increased meat supplies have not only used up the normal live-stock production, but have cut seriously into the breeding stock of the western nations, making a shortage of both meat and meat products a certainty for the immediate future.

A Higher Standard of Living.

Another phase of the situation which needs to be kept in mind is that this increased meat consumption just mentioned will have its after-war effect upon the demand for meat products. Just as after our own Civil war the soldiers took back home with them meat appetites that increased very materially the consumption of meat throughout the United States, so the European soldier is going to take back from the trenches a higher standard of living, and meat consumption throughout Europe will undoubtedly increase the live-stock demand. To this, of course, it may be replied that the impoverished condition of the people will limit their demands to the bare necessities. Yet that remains to be shown.

Increased Grain Production.

The possibilities are that, while the war will leave the countries as a whole deeply burdened by debt, individuals, and especially the agricultural population will demand a higher scale of living than ever before as an accompaniment to the higher wages that post-bellum conditions are likely to bring about. At the same time the shortage of both horse and man power will in all probability be reflected in a lessened production of the more intensely cultivated crops and an increased production in grain crops. Consequently from the standpoint of those nations which are now importing a large part of their food supplies, the indication are that there will be an increased import demand for live-stock accompanied by a decreased import demand for the cereal products of the farm.

The situation throughout the rest of the world outside of the United States leads to the same conclusion. Canada is straining every nerve to put additional acres under the plow; her progress in this direction being limited only by the shortage of man and team power. Her production of wheat can be increased almost indefinitely, and the cost of producing this wheat, owing to the cheap price of Canadian lands, is materially less than it is in the United States. A somewhat similar situation exists in the Argentine. There are in the South American republic vast areas of land on which wheat may still be profitably grown and the war has given a strong impulse to this wheat production.

Australia and India do not seriously concern us because their limitations in wheat production are quite definitely known and perhaps have been reached, but the awakening of Russia—perhaps the most remarkable event in current world history—is bound to be followed by agricultural consequences that will vitally affect the American farmer. Prior to the war one million Russian peasants were annually going to and getting on the great plains of southern Siberia; after the war is over this migration will be quickened and the first results observable to the world will be a tremendous increase in the wheat and rye production of the Russian empire. Russia, unlike the other leading European countries, has always been a heavy wheat exporter. With her cheap labor on her cheap lands she can easily produce all the wheat that western Europe may demand, provided the Russian peasant is given western machinery and can secure transportation for his crop.

The American Farmer Should Restrict Grain Acreage.

If this survey may be taken as correct, the American grain farmer, competing with the stress of circumstances in western Europe and with a heavily increased grain acreage throughout the cheap land areas of the world, is facing a difficult situation. His lands are going up in value and the margin of profit between the cost of production and the price received for the crop at the elevator is already dangerously small where not entirely wiped out. It is only by throwing in his own time and taking his profits largely in the rise of land values that he has been able during the past decade to show any real gains. With his over-seas market glutted, the best thing for him to do is largely to restrict his total acreage and thereby his total production; otherwise he will find himself absolutely outclassed by foreign competition. That the grain grower has slowly recognized this situation is made evident by the fact that throughout the wheat belt wheat is but a small part of the total cash output of the farms—some 20 per cent, to give approximate figures.

Good Prices for Live Stock.

On the other hand, the live-stock situation throughout the world points to an era of good prices for American-bred live stock. Not only does it happen that Europe is selling and eating itself short, but the live-stock production of the agricultural countries outside of Europe is not keeping pace with the growth of these countries. Western Canada is eagerly buying foundation stock with which to build up herds for the future. The same thing is true of the other lands mentioned, and in the United States, south of Mason and Dixon's line, the great diversified farming movement of the past half-decade is insistently calling for all the good breeding stock that can be brought in.

As a consequence of this world shortage and demand the live-stock business of the United States is in a thriving condition, with the outlook for the future most excellent. Between the demands for herd-building purposes and the going consumption demands of the local and export trade, the live-stock farmer is facing a situation in which the only danger is that high prices may persuade him to sacrifice his breeding stock. When one considers that, broadly speaking, the agriculture of the United States is on a live-stock rather than a grain-growing basis, and that the dairies, creameries, cheese factories, and packing plants rather than the cash grain crops are representative of the typical American farm of today, he is led to believe that the situation from the standpoint of the American farmer is an exceedingly hopeful one and that this great industry with its annual business turnover of nearly ten billion dollars is due to an era of expansion that will be reflected in the better equipment for the farms, the erection of better farm homes, the development of still better live stock, the building of roads and schools, and all that goes to make country life wholesome.

In this connection the reader should not forget that while the farmer is ordinarily thought of as a producer he represents 40 per cent of the population of the country and quite as great a relative buying or consuming power.

Mexicans Going to the North.

Thousands of Mexican laborers, both residents of the American side and new arrivals from the interior, have been taken to the North and East to fill the places in railroad section work made vacant by Italians and other foreigners who have returned to Europe to join their colors. The influx of Mexicans to the American side has not ceased, however, for day by day hundreds of laborers cross the border and are quickly engaged by labor agents for railroad work. Free medical attention in the event of sickness and free transportation to their destinations are offered as an inducement to go East. Wages paid, it is said, range from $1.80 to $2.25 per day.—Austin Statesman.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Considerate.

Child (in swimming)—"Doesn't it make the fish awfully cross, us washing in their water?"

Patriotic.

Warden—"Have you ever been in any European jail?"

Prisoner—"No! My motto has been to see America first."

Vindictive.

He—"And that night we drove the Germans back two miles."

She—"Drove them, indeed. I'd have made them walk every step of it."

Delicate.

The Farmer—"Say, don't you see that sign 'Private! No fishing allowed'?"

The Fisherman—"I never read anything marked 'private.'"

Optimism.

"Wife—"John, you'll have to take that ball away from baby; he hit his sister on the head with it."

John—"Yes, dear—but you should have seen the curve the little cuss had on it."

Realism.

The Author—"Well, how did you like my play? Didn't you think the church scene realistic?"

The Critic—"Intensely so. Why, a great many of us actually went to sleep while it was on."

Between Two Fires.

The young doctor and his friend, the drug clerk, were sitting at the club window, when a richly dressed woman passed.

"There goes the only woman I ever loved," sighed the young M. D.

"So?" queried the other. "Then why don't you marry her?"

"Can't afford it; she's my best patient."

Not Much Chance.

A tailor who had been wrongfully accused of murder, and who had an excellent defense, seemed very dejected when brought up for trial.

"What's the trouble?" whispered his counsel, observing his client's distress as he surveyed the jury.

"It looks very bad for me," said the defendant, "unless some steps are taken to dismiss that jury and get in a new lot. There isn't a man among them but owes me money for clothes."

Sine Qua Non.

The Sunday school teacher was talking to her pupils on patience. She explained her topic carefully, and as an aid to understanding she gave each pupil a card bearing the picture of a boy fishing. "Even pleasure," she said, "requires the exercise of patience. See the boy fishing; he must be patient. And now can any little boy tell me what we need most when we go fishing?"

The answer was quickly shouted with one voice: "Bait!"

Speaking of Appetites.

A huge eating competition had been held by some brawny sons of toil in a country town in Yorkshire, and one of the competitors had succeeded in disposing of a leg of mutton, a plentiful supply of vegetables, and a plum pudding, the whole washed down with copious draughts of ale.

He was unanimously declared the winner and was being triumphantly escorted home when he turned to his admirers and said:

"Ah, say lads, don't thee say nowt o' this to my ole woman, or she won't give me no dinner."

Quite True.

Young Mr. Halliwell was not much of a preacher, but, much to his own surprise and everybody's else, he was appointed chaplain on a battleship. He desired to amuse as well as instruct his men, and to that end he arranged a magic-lantern lecture on Bible scenes and incidents.

A sailor who possessed a gramophone was secured to discourse appropriate music between the slides. The first picture shown was Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. The sailor cudgeled his brains and ran through his repertoire, but he could think of no piece exactly appropriate. "Play up, play up," whispered the chaplain.

Suddenly an inspiration struck the sailor; and to the consternation of the chaplain and the delight of the audience the gramophone squawked out:

"There is only one girl in this world for me."

Honor Counts First.

It is the mother of the youngster who injects into his or her system the value of honor.

Sometimes father has time to stop reading his paper and think things over. It is at this particular time that he should think things not only over but seriously. The youth of either sex is susceptible. It can be easily influenced. At the adolescent age the mind is easily controlled.

The true basis of distinction among men is not in position or in possession. It is not in circumstances of life. It is not in the conduct of our daily affairs.

It does not for a minute matter what a man's position in the world may be. We are living in a matter-of-fact age. It does not, in a common sense way, matter how much money a man may have. If there be defects in his behavior, if there be shortcomings in his business transactions, if some one can crook his finger, point at a man and shrug his shoulders, his social and commercial career is ruined.

Honor counts first.

The man without honor is without respect or consideration. It is not wealth which gives us place in a community; it is our conduct which commands respect.

We should know no man above us but for his virtues and no man below us but for his vices.

Entertaining this view, we should seek to imitate the good, though it be found under a coarse exterior, and to pity the evil, though it be clothed in the finest garb and dwell in luxury.

We should never become obsequious in the wrong place. We should call no man mean, low or apply any vulgar epithet to him because he occupies an humble calling in life. The man who cleans a sewer is just as good as the man who turns the pages of a Bible and announces his text, if his heart is in the right place and he holds close to his honor.

In point of real worth and real manhood a man may be morally much superior to the president of the bank in his banking community.

The virtuous and right-minded sons of toil are as time has recorded, "nature's noblemen." They are lords of good, lovers of nature, lovers of each other. They may not have been born to shine nor to have been the recipients of empty honors, but they may have been born to be the bulwark of the nation, and as such we should view all men.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Took the Hurt Out of Her Back.

Mrs. Anna Byrd, Tusculum, Ala., writes: "I was down with my back so I could not stand up more than half the time. Foley Kidney Pills took all of the hurt out." Rheumatic pains, swollen ankles, backache, stiff joints and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys and bladder trouble. Conyers' Drug Store. adv.

UNION COUNTY MAN WHO WALKS WITH GOD.

The Journal has more than once been tripped up on its Scripture quotations. However, it generally hits the sentiment if not the letter of the quotation. Somewhere in what Uncle Oliver Rogers always referred to reverently as "The Book," something is said about walking with God. It sounds all right to speak of the patriarchs as having walked with God, but can a modern man, right in this day and time, walk with God? We believe he can, and here is our idea for it:

Thirty-odd years ago a man moved into a certain neighborhood in Union county, and 20 years ago he moved to the same farm on which he lives today. He is a "renter" and owns no land other than his prospective six feet in God's acre. All these years he has lived on this same farm and paid his rent in good years and in bad. The only contract he has with the owner of the farm is: "If you ever want to leave let me know, and if I ever want you to leave I'll let you know." Though the land is rough, he does not move out because he loves his neighbors and they love him and he is satisfied on that score, for he believes in neighbors and the loving kindness of neighborliness. He is now 64 years old, and as he has always done, he goes to the aid of every neighbor who gets sick or otherwise needs him. When the time comes for him to go to church he goes, even if he has to leave company at home. When there is a working at a neighbor's house he is there for a full day and not just before dinner. Years ago he was a school committeeman when the district needed a school house. A day was set in which to begin the work of cutting lumber for the building. He was there with but one other man to help. The other man said they had as well go home. "No," said he, this school house is going to be built if you and I have to do it all alone." They went to work and before the week was out they had plenty of help and before the house was completed one godly man who has since gone to heaven, put his hand upon this man's shoulder and said, "You've done enough; we'll finish it." After a while a church was needed and it was the same thing over, the same good man coming to his aid and again saying, "You have done enough, let us finish it." Both church and school stand today as blessings to the community. Many years ago a man said to him, "When I die I want you to put me away," and he promised. He waited 15 years to fulfill that promise, but by and by the time came and it was fulfilled. Others have made the same request of him. He has never had a cross word with a neighbor and he is perfectly happy for his philosophy is that a good man ought to be happy on earth in anticipation of a still happier hereafter. He believes that if he does his part God is going to take care of him right straight through, and he has no worry. Walk with God? Sure he is, and when the time comes he will simply take hold of God's hand and step over into the other world as naturally as if nothing had happened.

Is there any objection to our definition?—Monroe Journal.

WONDERFUL OIL WELL
YIELDED 54,000,000 BARRELS.

It was on September 12, 1910, that the Huasteca workers struck an enormous flow of oil in a well in the Juan Casiano field, about sixty miles from Tampico, says a Tampico dispatch to the Kansas City Star. For a brief time the well ran wild, and it was with the greatest difficulty that it was brought under control and the gauge applied. It showed a daily flow of little more than 300,000 barrels. It was finally capped and the flow throttled down to a daily output of 25,000 barrels, which was turned into a pipe line to Tampico.

This phenomenal well has earned the distinction of being one of the wonders of the world. For six years it has delivered daily 25,000 barrels of oil through the pipe line. Recently its full flow was tested, and it showed an output of 310,000 barrels a day. Its total production record is now more than 54,000,000 barrels. On a basis of 50 cents gold a barrel this one ten-inch hole in the ground has yielded a wealth of more than $27,000,000.

Establishing the Plural.

Fred, who was four years old, visited his uncle on the farm. When he came home, his father asked him what had pleased him the most. "Oh, I liked the geese. I had such fun chasing them, and we had a great big goose for dinner one day." "Well," said the father, "how can you tell the difference between a goose and geese?" "Aaw, that's easy," said Fred. "One geese is a goose and two geese is geese."

SEVEN WAYS TO IMPROVE YOUR SCHOOL.

- (1) Post on some sort of school bulletin-board the average grades of your students each week.
- (2) Arrange to have your local newspaper print each month the names of those making a grade of 90 or over.
- (3) Post a list of students who haven't been tardy or missed a day for a week; for a month; two months; three months; and so on through the whole school year. Also have your local newspaper print these lists monthly.
- (4) Have "tripping" in your spelling classes, organize a debating society also, and arrange for a series of spelling matches and debates with neighboring schools, getting the parents to attend.
- (5) Give out cards each month to students who have been on time each morning, who have not missed a day, who have given good deportment, and who have made above a certain standard average grade. For example: "This is to certify that James Brown has not been absent or tardy during the month of October, that he has given good deportment, and has made an average grade of 90."
- (6) Devote each Friday afternoon to recitations, songs, debates, exhibits, etc., giving nominal prizes to the boys and girls who do best. Invite the patrons of the school to attend these exercises once each month and try to develop their interest.
- (7) See the local merchants near your school and get them to give prizes. They will be glad to do so in most cases.—Progressive Farmer.

Pulled Out Rattlesnake.

W. F. Caldwell, of the News and Courier, who was with the South Carolina troops on the Mexican border on Monday, sent his paper the following: "Private Howard, of the Laurens company, reached in a hole yesterday under a mound of mosquito bushes to pull out a rabbit that had taken refuge there, but instead of pulling out a rabbit he pulled out a long rattlesnake, which came hissing and ready to bite. Another member of the company standing close by severed the head of the rattle from its body with a stroke of his bayonet before it could strike. The reptile had 11 rattles and one button and was several feet long. Private Howard and several members of the company had chased the rabbit to this hole and he had run in his hand and said, 'I feel him,' and his comrades were bending over to see him pull the rabbit out, but when he got it out a rattler was the captive instead of a rabbit. It is said that the rattler had coiled and was ready to spring when his head was severed by the lucky stroke of the bayonet. The incident created a good deal of interest in camp. The rattles were taken off and brought into the Laurens company street.

"Lieut. Wallace, of Camden, shot a big jack rabbit the other day while out on the plains. The rabbit measured 35 1-2 inches from nose to tail and its ears were ten inches long. Lieut. Wallace cut off the ears and intends taking them home for souvenirs."

Why Not Think of Victim?

What good do you get out of giving people mean little thrusts? If this is the sort of thing you enjoy, there is something wrong in your make-up. There is a spot in your heart which is morally decayed. Its baldness may not cause you to become positively dangerous, but you have within you some of the same quality of cruelty which makes the heathen hang men up by the thumbs, because they enjoy the suffering of their victims.

The hurts you inflict are mental. The barbarian tortures are physical. Mental anguish is more painful than physical hurt. It cuts deeper and lasts longer.

You may think that the one who is the butt of your remarks does not feel them deeply; but you know how sensitive you are to similar thrusts. If you will stop to think a moment, and place yourself in the position of the one you attack, the chances are that you will not be guilty in future of the mean little things as a matter of "a little fun."

The Eternal Masculine.

Mr. Bacon—Did you hear those measley roosters crowing this morning early?

Mrs. Bacon—Yes, dear.

Mr. Bacon—I wonder what on earth they want to do that for?

Mrs. Bacon—Why, don't you remember, dear, you got up one morning early and you crowed about it for a week?

WHY SHOES IN THIS COUNTRY COST US MORE.

New conditions, world wide in their scope, have so radically changed the supply of the basic raw material used in the production of shoes that old landmarks are swept away and new systems of reckoning have become necessary.

Government statistics demonstrate that the numbers of cattle and people in this country are moving in inverse ratio. To illustrate this the Shoe Retailer has prepared a striking pictorial form showing the decrease of cattle as compared with the increase of population.

Figures by years from 1907 to 1916 inclusive that go along with the pictures of the man and the steer show the rapid increase of one and the decrease of the other.

These conditions are seriously affecting the supply of leather, and as leather is one of the most important munitions of war it has been and is being destroyed daily in immense quantities. A scarcity was apparent before the European war began, but war conditions have made the scarcity much more startling.

The new uses for leather have increased the demand in many ways. Increased traveling requires more trunks and bags; increased use of autos, in war as well as otherwise, adds to the decrease in leather; the same applies to harness, saddlery and many other articles, to which must be added the enormous increase of footwear for soldiers.

All these causes go to show "why shoes cost more" and why they will continue to cost more.

Fasting Among the Indians.

Fasting is a universal practice among Indians. Sometimes they go without food from four to 10 days at a time. The purpose of these fasts is to gain the compassion and blessing of some spirit, in order that he may come and reveal himself. It is claimed that mighty spirits have come and imparted powers and secrets to Indians which they use all their lives in war, in the hunt and in medicine. Anyone who has such a "dream" is considered blessed beyond his fellows, and no man without one can ever hope to be a war chief or a medicine man. I have heard many Indians call upon the "spirit" whom he claims to have seen and heard.

An Indian child pleases his parents most when he fasts, for by this it is believed he secures benefits far greater than they can bestow. Fasting is practiced to prepare for hard times to come; for "lean years," for times of war and sickness. Children are made to fast early, for the parents say, "When you come to where the earth is narrow (meaning hard times), where will be your dependence?" When my father went away to sell the skins he had trapped, my mother used to make my brother and me fast, telling us that we could eat when father came home. Toward evening, when the sun was setting, we would climb the tallest trees to see if father was coming home. We were two hungry boys, but I never had a "dream."

Some time ago Pat decided to make his will, and to that end, he called on a lawyer friend with a list of his relatives and a summary of the wealth he had to bequeath. The will was soon made, and Pat departed, happily conscious of a duty well done.

Almost before daylight the next morning, the lawyer's door bell violently rang, and looking out of the window, he saw Pat palpitating on the doorstep.

"Sure, yez honor," excitedly cried the man below, "Oi come to see yez about that will. Oi got to thinkin' it over, and couldn't sleep a wink all noight."

"You couldn't, eh?" returned the lawyer, a little testily. "What's the matter with the will?"

"Matter enough, yez honor!" soulfully answered Pat. "Shure, an' Oi have't left myself a three-legged stool to sit upon."

She Knew It First.

"Father knows you're going to marry sister. I heard him talking about it the other day."

"But I didn't know it myself until last night."

"Oh, she told you, too, did she?"

Advocates of Peace.

"Do you believe that married men are happier than bachelors?"

"I don't know about that, but they always have to pretend they are, if they want to keep peace in the family."

No Doubt About This.

BAD TEETH RESPONSIBLE FOR MUCH ILL HEALTH.

A recent investigation made by the United States public health service in connection with studies of rural school children showed that 49.3 per cent had defective teeth, 21.1 per cent had two or more missing teeth, and only 16.9 per cent had had dental attention. Over 14 per cent never used a tooth brush, 58.2 per cent used one occasionally and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, snaggle-toothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism, and other chronic affections. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The ignorant and careless parent is to blame for this condition—a condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens. School teachers can and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness on the rural school child, but this will fail of the highest accomplishment unless parents cooperate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe our children.

Fortune in Simple Invention.

How many persons, householders or others, who have had occasion to remove the little tin caps from catsup or other bottles—beer bottles, for that matter—even give a thought to the little wrinkled edge affair that keeps the contents from the air and holds it in its original form? It's a good guess that not one in a thousand. It's an unpretending little affair, but it has a most interesting history, so far as results count.

It was upward of a quarter of a century ago that a man named Taintor of Baltimore, bethought himself of the cap and succeeded in bringing it to a successful demonstration. He was a poor man, and it was uphill work trying to interest moneyed men in his invention. A traveling Jew peddler of jewelry and "knickknacks" by the name of Friedenwaldt became interested, took his years of savings, amounting to some $5,000, from the bank and invested in the invention.

Years went by and the peddler lived to see factories all over the world resulting from his investment. Good judges assert that more than $50,000,000 was divided among those interested in the simple little device. —Hartford Courant.

Discovery of Chloroform.

The recent death of Sir Alexander Simpson, the famous Edinburgh doctor, brings to mind the wonderful discovery of his uncle, Sir James Simpson, his predecessor as professor of midwifery in the chair of Edinburgh University. Sir James, if not actually the discoverer of chloroform, was, at any rate, the first to introduce its employment as an anesthetic into surgical practice. This was in 1848.

Previously all operations were performed without anesthetics, the patient being drugged with whiskey and held down by strong men while the operation was performed. No medical discovery ever did more to alleviate human suffering.

Sir James is generally given credit for the actual discovery of chloroform, but it is stated in some works that it was discovered some years previous to his first experiments by an American doctor named Guthrie and by a French physician named Souberian. In any case it was Dr. Simpson who proved its great value as an anesthetic, and the room in which he made his first experiment still exists in Edinburgh.

The story goes that he tried the chloroform on himself and two medical friends. They proved its efficacy by simultaneously falling beneath the table. Sir James had considerable prejudices to overcome before chloroform was adopted generally by the medical profession, it being denounced at one time as dangerous to health, morals and religion.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

Making Sure.

A farmer lived in a lonely place and eventually a railroad was run through the district. There was one train a day and it stopped at the farmer's station on signal.

The farmer one day set the signal and the train drew up. But he did not climb aboard.

"Well, get on!" shouted the conductor, "Get on! can't ye?"

"Excuse me," said the farmer, "I don't want to get on, I only want to say that you are to stop here at this time tomorrow, as my wife is going to town to do some shopping." —Philadelphia Inquirer.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE READERS OF THE PATRIOT FAR AND NEAR.

Visiting Minister.

Rev. T. M. McConnell, of Graham, occupied the pulpit of Alamance Presbyterian church, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

Music Director Engaged.

Mr. Ralph E. Mitchell, of Ironton, O., has been engaged by the officials of the First Presbyterian church to direct the music of that church. He will have charge of the music of all departments of church worship. He will take up the work December 1.

Licensed to Exhort.

This item is from last week's issue of the North Carolina Christian Advocate: "Mr. Stacy Calhoun, a very bright young man, was licensed to exhort at the fourth quarterly conference for the Summerfield circuit held recently at the Battle Ground."

Congressman Stedman at Home.

Hon. Charles M. Stedman, who has been in Washington several weeks under treatment of specialists for kidney stones, returned to his home in this city Saturday night. He appears to be in his usual excellent health, though he is under instructions from his physicians to remain quiet for several weeks.

Flag Presentation.

A United States flag was presented to the White Oak public school Saturday afternoon by the White Oak council of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Mr. John J. Phoenix made the presentation speech on behalf of the Juniors and the flag was accepted for the school by Mr. Bernard Cone. The school pupils rendered several appropriate selections of music.

Heavy Registration in County.

The total registration of voters in Guilford county for the election tomorrow is 8,700, which is the heaviest on record. Of the voters registered 5,100 are Democrats and 3,100 Republicans, leaving 500 classed as independent or doubtful. Four years ago 6,269 votes for president were cast in the county, Wilson receiving 3,830, Roosevelt 1,979 and Taft 460.

The school committeemen of Deep River township met with the county board of education Saturday to consider the proper division of a bequest made to the public schools of the township by the will of the late Eooten Bohannon. The fund amounts to $467.47, and after some discussion it was decided to divide the money among the schools on the per capita basis.

Shortage of Labor Supply.

A survey that has just been completed by the Chamber of Commerce shows that there is a considerable unsupplied demand for both skilled and unskilled labor in Greensboro. Reports received from 11 manufacturers show that they have immediate need of 118 men at wages ranging from $2 to $3 a day and 55 men at wages of $1.15 to $1.50 a day. One manufacturing concern reports a shortage of 100 girls and women, the wages ranging from $3 a week for beginners to $2 a day for skilled help. Many small manufacturing plants report that they have openings for a few people. No able-bodied person who really wants to work will have to look far for a job in Greensboro.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR SHOT BY ROBBERS.

Greensboro, Nov. 3.—Masked hold-up men last night shot William Kalmar, proprietor of the Terminal hotel, and robbed the cash register of about $150. Mr. Kalmar's wound is only a slight flesh one to his right thumb, received when he grappled with the robber who pointed a gun at his head and demanded that he throw up his hands.

The robbery occurred shortly after midnight, and was the second perpetrated on the Terminal hotel within ten days. In the former robbery only a few dollars in cash and the cashier's jewelry were taken. As in the former case two unidentified men were engaged.

After the encounter with Mr. Kalmar the men ran into the street, fired several shots at random and disappeared. It is believed the robbers are negroes.

Joe Corbett Hurt.

Joe Corbett, a Wayne farmer, is suffering from painful bruises about the face, and John Gerganus' automobile is a partial wreck as the result of collision between the automobile and a pair of mules near the cotton yard early this morning. Mr. Corbett with three friends were riding into town with Mr. Gerganus. As the car turned a corner at the cotton yard a pair of mules hitched to a wagon loaded with cotton shied, got directly in the path of the car and drove the wagon tongue through the windshield. Mr. Corbett's jaw was struck by the tongue. The car top was practically demolished.

NINETY-ONE LIVES LOST IN STEAMSHIP DISASTER.

Belfast, Nov. 6.—The death list as a result of the disaster to the steamers Connemara and Retriever Thursday night is now set at 91. Eighty-nine bodies have been recovered. The collision occurred at 8.30 o'clock in the evening, a mile off the coast. The sole survivors of the Retriever, James Boyle, was in the water half an hour clinging to an overturned boat, which was washed ashore.

The disaster was due directly to a storm. The incoming Retriever and the outgoing Connemara were steering the proper courses to pass each other in the narrow channel of Greenore harbor. The vessels were nearly abreast when a huge wave struck the Retriever laden with coal, altering her course. Before she could recover her bow was driven amidship into the Connemara, which immediately began to settle, turning over five minutes later. The Retriever was so badly damaged that she sank in a quarter of an hour.

The collision was seen from the shore, but the sea was too rough to permit of assistance being sent. The boilers of both steamers exploded after the collision, killing a great number of the persons on board as was made evident by the mutilated bodies washed ashore. The people on board did not even have time to secure life belts as none of the dead was found to be provided with them.

TRIPLETS NAMED FOR POPULAR STATESMEN.

Triplets born to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Noble, of Boardman, this state, have been named Fernfold Simmons, Lee S. Overman and Locke Craig, and the two senators and the governor are to soon present them with appropriately engraved spoons or other tokens of appreciation if the suggestion of Governor Craig is followed, as it no doubt will be.

Some days ago the Nobles wrote the governor of the birth of the triplets and indicating that numerous children heretofore born to them had exhausted their supply of names, and asking the governor to suggest names for the new arrivals. He suggested the names of the two North Carolina senators and himself and Mrs. Noble wrote him that these names had been accepted and reported to "the vital statistics man" in their county.

She added the information that they now have 10 children, the oldest 15 years old and the fifth one four and a half years old. The governor has written Senators Simmons and Overman for an agreement as to tokens that will be sent the three boy triplets named in their honor.

FALL PLOWING

For Your Fall Plowing Use the "OLIVER" No. 11 Riding Plow.

Without a doubt the greatest success yet manufactured. One of the features is that it has Roller Castor Wheel instead of landslide as most riding plows. This enables you to finish a land complete.

It uses either No. 13-20 or 40 bottom which carries regular walking plow repairs of the same sizes.

Light draft, yet weight sufficient to plow the hard pan in your fields that has not been broken for years.
