AMERICANS IN FRONT TRENCH

SEVERAL BATTALIONS OF INFANTRY SUPPORTED BY U. S. BATTERIES FACE GERMANS.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The nation was thrilled today by word that American troops at last were face to face with the Germans across No Man's Land. Announcement by General Pershing that several battalions of his infantry were in the front line trenches, supported by American batteries which already had gone in action against the enemy fanned a new flame of patriotism throughout the country.

The absolute silence with which Secretary Baker and war department officials greeted the news, however, showed that although the movement into the trenches had been expected at any time it was regarded only as the final phase of the men's training. German shells are breaking about the Americans and although they have not taken over the trench section, rifles, machine guns, bombs and bayonets in American hands will meet any enemy attack.

The silence of Secretary Baker indicated that no official report of the occupation of the trenches had been received. General Pershing is the judge of all matters pertaining to the training of his force and he probably did not inform the department of his plans in advance, as every effort was made to prevent the enemy from learning what was afoot. It is certain, however, that the department was fully prepared for the news. Secretary Baker's latest review of the war situation this week indicates that American troops in France were nearing the end of their strenuous training behind the lines.

May Expect Casualties.

Casualties among the American forces are to be expected. Reports from the front already show intermittent artillery firing and a well-aimed shell may claim American victims at any moment. There is nothing to indicate, however, that an offensive operation by the Americans and their French associates is to be expected, outside of possible trench raiding. The sector where the front line training school has been established is described as one of the quietest on the front.

The report from the front indicates that all American forces will be given trench duty in reliefs as the final touch of their preparation. The whole business of relieving and supplying the front lines can be carried out under actual war conditions and under fire.

In time, a complete section of the front will be Americanized in every detail. How wide this front will be where on the long line it is to be located, and similar questions are matters about which no speculation is permitted.

AMERICAN STEAMER FIGHTS WITH U-BOAT.

Washington, Oct. 26.—An announcement by the navy department today revealed that the ship which fought a battle with the submarine off the French coast was one of the American Luckenbach steamers and that the fight occurred on October 19. News of the fight was received here today in a news dispatch from a French port.

According to the navy's advices, the men were wounded, seven members of the vessel's crew and two sailors of the armed guard.

Following is the department's statement: "The navy department is informed that the American steamship Luckenbach was engaged by an enemy submarine on October 19. The engagement lasted from 7.35 A. M. until 11.40 A. M. and was broken off by the arrival of an American patrol vessel. The Luckenbach was hit several times, but no serious damage was done to the ship. Seven of the crew of the Luckenbach and two members of the armed guard were wounded."

Set Fire to Gunboat.

Rio Janeiro, Oct. 27.—The Germans today set on fire and sunk the German gunboat Eber, 984 tons, which has been lying at the port of Bahia, fearing seizing of the gunboat by the Brazilian authorities. Torpedo boat destroyers were ordered yesterday to take possession of the Eber.

WINSTON-SALEM MAN IS HELD ON GRAVE CHARGE.

Charlotte, Oct. 26.—Cris Miller, of Winston-Salem, was bound over today under a $1,000 bond on the charge of giving whiskey to a soldier in uniform, Carl Meneke, who was found dead in his bunk by comrades at Camp Greene Tuesday morning, following a trip to Miller's home in Winston, where Meneke and other soldiers in the auto party drank freely, according to the testimony of Private Walter F. Scott, before United States Commissioner Cobb today.

The bond was given immediately by A. S. Hanes, of Winston-Salem. The testimony of Scott was that last September the witness and Private Meneke met Miller in Charlotte, Miller being in an auto with two girls, Emma Vickers and Linnie McIntuff, of Winston. Miller, the witness said, gave them whiskey then.

On the night of October 23 Scott and Meneke, with two companions from the camp got an auto and drove to the Twin City. They went to Miller's house at 10 o'clock, and while there drank three quarts of whiskey. Later, at Miller's store they drank more whiskey, which was given them by Miller. They started back to Charlotte about midnight Tuesday night, arriving at the camp in about three hours. The next morning Private Meneke was found dead in his tent by his comrades. The cause of death was given as alcoholism.

The death of Meneke was investigated by military authorities at Camp Greene, and then Miller was indicted in the Federal court, the warrant being signed by J. S. Sturgill, secret service agent.

GEORGE W. WATTS, OF DURHAM, MARRIED.

Durham, Oct. 25.—George W. Watts, multi-millionaire and Durham's wealthiest citizen, was married to Miss Sarah V. Ecker at noon today in Syracuse, New York. The arrangements for the nuptial ceremony were secretly executed, only the closest friends of the contracting parties having knowledge of the wedding day. This brief telegram from John Sprunt Hill to his brother, I. F. Hill, told of the noon-day wedding vows:

"Mr. Watts was married at noon today to our old friends, Miss Sarah V. Ecker. Annie and I return to New York tonight."

The bride is a trained nurse from Johns Hopkins hospital, and is a member of a well-known New York state family. Her acquaintance with the distinguished Durham citizen was formed some years ago when she spent several months in the home of Mr. Watts nursing the sick. Although she has been residing in Baltimore, for several years, she is a member of a Syracuse family. The wedding ceremony was performed in Syracuse at the residence of her married sister. Mrs. Watts is tall, graceful and possessing many charming qualities.

State Prison Warden Convicted and Fined.

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—The Wake Superior court jury this afternoon returned a verdict of guilty against Warden Busbee, of the state's prison, in the case charging him with the unnecessarily brutal whipping of N. W. Smith, a former convict. The trial required two days, Judge Lyon imposing a fine of $100. Busbee appealed.

Teddy's Friends Working.

Washington, Oct. 26.—That it is a new campaign by friends of Colonel Roosevelt to obtain for him command of a division in France is the general interpretation here of a movement to secure his appointment as chief recruiting officer in New England. Governor McCall, of Massachusetts, was to put the latter project before Secretary of War Baker today.

Escaped Germans Recaptured.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—Six of the 10 German prisoners who escaped from the alien enemy detention camp at Fort McPherson Tuesday night, were captured today by agents of the department of justice. Five were taken at Surrency, Ga., and the sixth, Johann Adelhardt, a non-commissioned officer, was arrested here.

LATEST FROM WAR FRONT

FRENCH MAKE ANOTHER POWERFUL DRIVE—GERMANS GET BEST OF ITALIANS.

Paris, Oct. 27.—Another powerful drive by the French troops today on the Ypres-Dixmude road resulted in the capture of several villages and a great number of fortified farms, according to tonight's announcement by the war office. An additional advance was made along the Aisne front, including the occupation of Froimont farm.

Italy's Mettle Tested. Italy's mettle is being critically tested by the tremendous teutonic drive under command of Emperor Charles, of Austria, on the Isonzo front, with what seems virtually the entire Austrian army and strong German forces.

From the first blow, General Cadorna's second army has suffered a serious shock and Berlin claims the defeat of this section of the Italian forces from which it announces the capture of no less than 60,000 men and 450 guns.

These grave losses seem to bear out the German claim as to the fate of this Italian army, but apparently the crucial hour has not yet come which will determine whether the Austro-German host can be held at the mountain passes and prevented from overflowing into the plains of Venezia.

Semi-official utterances reveal that all possible preparations have been made in Rome to meet the great emergency. Each day, however, sees the invading armies making additional headway. Commanding Italian heights along the border east and northeast of Tolmino are beginning to fall, while Berlin claims that virtually the entire Italian Isonzo front has shaken. From the western front the most important news of American troops in the first line trenches alongside French infantrymen, and of American artillery with French batteries sending the first American aimed shots of the war at German lines. These troops have not taken over the quiet sector in which they are stationed but are under French direction. The first statement issued from American headquarters in France reported the men adapting themselves most satisfactorily.

The British in Flanders were engaged Saturday in making secure the positions they won Friday, the most important of which was that on the Bellevue spur, west of Passchendaele, a valuable dominating ridge brilliantly taken and held by the Canadians in hard fighting.

Smaller Coins Driven Out.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Pennies and subsidiary silver coins are scarce, not only in Chicago, but elsewhere, according to Robert I. Hunt, in charge of the subtreasury here. Increase in business throughout the country is given as the reason. The subtreasury here has not received any pennies from the mints since October 1, Mr. Hunt said.

Subsidiary coinage in circulation in the country has increased from $67,982,801 in 1879 to $202,061,897 on October 1, 1916. The output this year has been $16,551,000, an increase of more than 800 per cent over the production to this date last year.

Mr. Hunt said the mints are working twenty-four hours a day in an effort to keep up with the demand.

Robeson Farmers Prosperous.

Lumberton, Oct. 26.—It is well with the farmers of Robeson county. While the cotton crop is only around 60 per cent of a normal crop, the high prices are making up the deficiency. Many of the farmers raised tobacco this year and received unheard-of prices for the "weed." The corn crop is good and most of the farmers will have meat and corn to last them through next year.

Germans Were Astonished.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The presence of American troops in France caused great astonishment to the crews of the Zeppelins L-40 and L-50 brought down by the French last Saturday while returning from a raid on England. Official dispatches to the state department said the prisoners declared that not one of them knew of the landing of any American expeditionary forces.

MAXIMUM OVERSUBSCRIBED

MORE THAN 4 BILLION ROUNDED UP SATURDAY, MAKING TOTAL OVER $5,000,000,000.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The Liberty Loan apparently has passed the $5,000,000,000 mark.

A last day drive of titanic proportions throughout the nation rounded up more than $1,000,000,000 and was believed to have carried the total several hundred million dollars beyond the maximum sum treasury officials had hoped for.

Federal reserve banks were struggling tonight under an avalanche of last minute subscriptions to form some idea of the grand total. Indications are that they will not complete their tabulations for several days.

At least 8,000,000 persons throughout the country wrote their names on application blanks. How many more did so will not be known until the final count, several days hence. The number may go as high as 10,000,000.

Each of the twelve districts appeared to have passed its minimum and indications were that most of them had exceeded the maximum as well.

MERGER OF LUTHERAN CHURCHES NEARER.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Amalgamation of the three great bodies of the Lutheran church was brought a step nearer today by the action of the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran churches, in session here. The council unanimously approved the proposed merger of the general council, the general synod and the united synod of the south into one body to be called the United Lutheran church in America.

The general synod endorsed the proposed union last June and delegates from the southern body today predicted unanimous approval by their synod when it meets in November to consider the proposal. Should the action of the United Synod of the South be favorable, the proposal then would have to be submitted to the 24 local synods throughout the country. A two-thirds vote of these local bodies is necessary for adoption.

Many of the local synods have already endorsed the merger.

VESSELS ARE TO BE CHARTERED TO ITALY.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The shipping board agreed today to charter to the Italian government approximately 25 American commandeered steel ships, of an aggregate of 100,000 dead weight tons to relieve Italy's shortage of shipping to transport vitally needed supplies.

This action was announced late today by Chairman Burley, of the board. Great Britain has been supplying France and Italy with shipping to meet its emergency needs, but cannot continue to do so in view of increasing British requirements.

Italy has strongly represented its great need and she gets five more ships than were allotted to the French government a few days ago. Part of the ships chartered will be old and part new and some may be taken from those on the way from the Great Lakes to the ocean. They will be used between the United States and Italian ports.

Auction Fur Sales Total $2,500,000.

New York, Oct. 26.—Sales of furs at advances of from 5 to 75 per cent over spring prices during the five days of the annual fall auction sale, which closed here today, totaled $2,500,000, it was announced.

Ninety thousand skunk skins were sold today at prices which reached as high as $4.50 each. There was a sharp advance in the price of wolf skins, some of which sold as high as $16.50. Black house cats, which will be used in fur hats, brought the record prices of 74 cents each.

Snowstorm Visits County of Watauga.

Boone, Oct. 25.—The first snowstorm of the season began Tuesday and on Wednesday was still raging over the county with a fury truly wintry. Within a very few hours the mercury fell from almost spring-like weather to winter temperature. It went as low as 18 to 20. This is unusually early for so cold weather.

GERMAN PEOPLE FACE A WINTER OF SACRIFICES.

Copenhagen, Oct. 26.—Some of the prospects which the German people are called upon to face the coming winter are officially announced in today's German newspapers, as follows:

There is only enough shoe leather for the use of miners, fishermen, canal workers and a few allied trades. The manufacture of leather footwear for the rest of the population will soon be suspended. They will have to get along with wooden soles and cloth uppers.

There is a big shortage in vegetables and no hope of any material improvement in the fresh vegetable supply. The turnip must again be one of the main stays of German diet this winter although to a less degree than last year.

The fuel problem has not been solved, despite all the efforts made for its solution, and the city populations may expect to notice the results of this fact keenly from time to time. The coal commissioner prophesies that the pinch will be felt here and there within the next few days.

The railway administration of Saxony announced that railway travel will not be allowed without special permission.

Finally, after the fashion plates for winter are out the government has decreed that women's skirts must be made with a reduced amount of material, which will necessitate their being made both shorter and tighter.

RELIEF FROM SHORTAGE OF SUGAR IS PROMISED.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Prompt relief from the prevailing sugar shortage in the east was seen here today in the food administration's announcement that 200,000,000 pounds of Louisiana cane sugar had been purchased by the American Sugar Refining Company and will be transported to refineries in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Sufficient tonnage to assure rapid movement of the crop already has been procured and the first cargo will clear from New Orleans next week.

The refineries purchased the Louisiana holdings at a price approximating 6 1-2 cents a pound. Adding transportation and refining costs it is estimated that the product will be placed on the market at 8.35 cents a pound on the eastern seaboard. This figure will gradually decline, it is believed, to 7 1-4 cents by the first of the year.

Hawaii Doing Her Part.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Provost Marshal General Crowder has received a telegraphic report from Governor Pinkham, of Hawaii, reporting preparations for carrying out the selective service act completed and recommended November 5 for drawing the numbers. The total registration, it is said, is 26,373 of which only 8,076 are citizens or declarants.

Hawaii already has furnished by voluntary enlistment nearly twice her gross quota and is not required to furnish men under the present draft but the governor states there is a steady popular demand for a full territorial representation in the national army.

Got the Pocketbook.

Kinston, Oct. 26.—Jack Whitehurst, a strapping young six-footer who went from here to the Great Lakes a few months ago to enter the coast guard service, recently recovered a pocketbook containing $111 dropped overboard by a woman, says a Cleveland, Ohio, newspaper account. The loser appealed to the captain of the Fairport station. "Whitehurst, one of the crew, went after the pocketbook by a fine exhibition of diving and finally located it under the bridge in 12 feet of water." Whitehurst is from North Carolina coast stock, which has produced the finest lifesavers in the world.

Bonds Good For Taxes.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Liberty bonds may be utilized in lieu of surety bonds as security for the payment of floor taxes to the government under the revenue act, the treasury department announced tonight, where fully paid for by subscribers.

BRAZIL HAS DECLARED WAR

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES BY AN ALMOST UNANIMOUS VOTE DECLARED WAR ON GERMANY.

Rio Janeiro, Oct. 26.—The chamber of deputies today, by an almost unanimous vote, declared that a state of war existed between Germany and Brazil. The vote was 149 to 1.

The tribunes of the chamber were filled to capacity. After a debate on the opportuneness of proclaiming martial law, the president of the diplomatic commission spoke in favor of a law worded as follows:

"A state of war between Brazil and Germany is hereby acknowledged and proclaimed. The president of the republic is authorized to adopt the measures enunciated in his message of the 25th of October, and to take all steps tending to ensure national defense and public security."

The virtually unanimous vote of the deputies was received with general acclamation.

President Braz has sanctioned the proclamation of a state of war with Germany.

According to the newspapers, torpedo boat destroyers have received orders to proceed to Bahia and take possession of the German gunboat Eber, which has been lying there for some time.

REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO. TO DOUBLE ITS CAPITAL.

Winston-Salem, Oct. 26.—A meeting of the stockholders of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company will be held in the offices of the company in this city on November 1, to vote on the proposition to double the company's capital from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000.

President R. J. Reynolds, in calling attention of the stockholders to the proposed meeting, in a letter says: "To meet the demands of the rapidly increasing business of this company the board of directors have deemed it advisable to increase the authorized capital stock and to make provision for the issuance as and when needed."

"You are familiar with the splendid showing made by the company last year. A very substantial increase is being shown this year with a corresponding increase in profits. We believe that you are pleased with and appreciate the efforts of the management in bringing about the results stated."

POSITION OF RUSSIAN FORCES IS IMPROVING.

Petrograd, Oct. 26.—In connection with the official reports that the Germans are withdrawing some 20 versts to new lines on the Riga front, General Tseretisoff, commander of the armies of the northern front, has reported to the government that the position of the Russian forces is improving. He said they had managed to prevent a further advance and had secured the safety of all ways of entrance to Petrograd. The armies apparently had "awakened to consciousness," he added.

As a result of the German withdrawal, apparently for the purpose of straightening the line for winter maneuvering, it is understood the provisional government has changed its views that the capital should be removed to Moscow immediately and that it will now proceed very slowly with the removal program.

Cold Wave Coming.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Next week a cold wave will sweep the country, the weather bureau forecasted today. Snow in the Great Lakes region, plains states and upper Mississippi valley and Rocky Mountain plateau region was predicted. General fair weather will prevail on the Atlantic seaboard until Wednesday, but lower temperatures will come the last half of the week. The cold will set in Monday around the Great Lakes, with snow about Wednesday and again at the week-end.

Convict Norris Buys a Bond.

Raleigh, Oct. 26.—L. J. Norris, serving a term of 20 years in the state prison for murder in the second degree, probably has the distinction of being the only convict in the United States who has purchased a Liberty loan bond with money earned inside the prison walls.

CONVENTION OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS WELL ATTENDED.

A very interesting and elaborate program had been arranged for the convention of the Guilford County Sunday School Association, held in Wesley Memorial church, High Point, Saturday. There were two sessions, the first beginning at 10:30 A. M. and another at 1:45 P. M., an intermission of one hour being given for lunch.

Every township was represented, and some of the townships had delegates from every school of the township.

Among the speakers were E. C. Branson, A. E. Tate, J. Walter Long, E. J. Coltrane, Rev. Y. von A. Riser, George A. Short, I. L. Trogon, Miss Martha Dozier, F. N. Tate, J. Allen Austin, Mrs. F. E. Stafford, Ralph Farlow, Rev. J. E. Wooley, W. A. Bowman, W. L. Wharton, Miss Jesse Groome, J. G. Frazier, W. H. Chilcutt, T. C. Hoyle.

The closing event of the session was a pageant, which presented the strength and importance of the Sunday schools as represented by the continental divisions of the world's association, and the relation of North Carolina, Guilford county and of each township association and local school in the county to this great world movement. The strength of each school in the county is represented by members of the schools of High Point which took the part of the 18 township associations. The figures on the local school placards represented the total enrollment for that school, including the cradle roll and home department.

GOOD SHOWING MADE BY GREENSBORO REGISTRANTS.

Examinations of drafted men Friday discovered 45 physically fit for service in the district of the second division board of Guilford, which is composed of the two townships which include Greensboro. The 45 were secured from the examination of 56 men. Only one negro in the 11 summoned failed to pass the tests, and 10 white men were refused as physically incapacitated for service out of the 45 examined. Nineteen of the 75 men summoned to appear failed to show up.

Many applications for discharge and exemption were indicated by those who passed, and it was evident that many of those requests would have to be denied or the total would not suffice to furnish the men needed to fill out the depleted quota from the division. It was believed that the re-opened cases will leave the board about 20 men short of the first call for the national army. Among the men examined and passed was one who is a telegrapher and whose employer, the Southern Railway, is expected to ask that he be exempted. Some others indicated claims for exemption based on occupational grounds, and many more asked for discharge because of having dependent families.

The whites who passed were the following:

Joseph H. Bush, Draper; William Ellis Spear, Richard Mortimer Browning, Herbert Bridges, James Frank Powers, Arnold B. Huff, Grover Cleveland Apple, Thomas Samuel Moore, Donald Haywood Muse, Walter Henry Blume, Council Bryan Wyrick, Gaston Manuel, Glenn Raymond Jordan, Eldred Thomas Page, William Fred Baxter, Alfred Alston Williams, Emmett Wesley Richardson, Joseph E. Johnson, George Blair Jennings, John Alfred Payne, William Henry Deaver, Orin Jasper Elkins, John Wesley Hunt, Fred Clarence Womble, Charles Reece Callicutt, Percy Pickett Turner, Benjamin Harrison Williams, John Emmett Hodgkin, Charles Leroy Heath, Exum Collett Davis, William Neal Hobbs, James Boyd Thomas, John Spinks Gordon, Ransom Lafayette Purkey, James Stephens Trogon.

Whites who failed:
Crawford Anderson Self, Samuel David McLellan, Albert Alonzo Coble, William Wilson Dick, Junious Henry Reitzel, Dan Fields, Charles Watson Irvin, Walter Rouse, Robert Harold Penry, Louis Lee Hood.

Negroes who passed:
Daniel Harris, Charles Mayes, Walter Rees, Edward Smith, William Boyd, George H. Mendenhall, Claud Stanback, Vernon Carpenter, Frank Coltrane and Claude Armstrong.

Negroes who failed:
John T. Barnette.

GUILFORD OVER-SUBSCRIBE ITS SHARE OF BONDS.

Guilford county over-subscribed for the liberty loan bonds to the extent of $612,360, it was discovered Saturday night when the subscriptions were added up into the grand total of $2,015,000.

Some systematic work during the past few days, after the apportionment was reached, resulted in sending the figures up to the great total. Late subscriptions increasing earlier ones, by a number of local corporations, served to boost the figures. The Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company decided to buy $150,000 more of the bonds, augmenting the $100,000 fund the company had devoted to the purchase when the campaign was first opened.

The total of $2,015,000 is in addition to $15,000 of the short term bonds, the "counter bonds" issued by the government to hand over to a purchaser who wanted to buy a bond and get immediate delivery. Neither does the total include a $5,000 subscription of the Seidenberg Cigar Company. This subscription was made through the local offices, but was not entered in the county total.

All associations, or nearly all, and many philanthropic, social and fraternal institutions subscribed together. Among them was the Guilford Medical Society. All members of the society subscribed for a bond and took them as a society.

Bombs Dropped in Prussia.

London, Oct. 26.—Six tons of bombs were dropped by British aviators on the Burbach works west of Saarbrücken, Rhenish Prussia; Wednesday night, says a British official aviation communication issued tonight. The communication adds that four hostile airdromes also were attacked, forty-five heavy bombs having been dropped, and that direct hits were obtained on a group of hangars.

The communication says that more than 800 prisoners were captured during today's operations.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS INSTRUCT-ED TO INQUIRE INTO ALLEGED OVERCHARGE BY DEALERS.

Washington, Oct. 26.—A general investigation into the retail and wholesale prices of coal throughout the country appeared to be in prospect tonight.

In a minor way, investigation of prices consumers assert they have been compelled to pay, already has been started by the department of justice in various sections of the east and middle west, both as to anthracite and bituminous coal.

Instructions have been sent to United States attorneys conducting the local investigations to summon witnesses, determine the truth of the charges and, where justified to bring promptly proceedings under the criminal laws against those believed to be guilty. The result of the inquiries so far has not been reported.

These instructions were based upon complaints received by the department here to the effect that the margin of profit allowed dealers by the government had been exceeded.

Measured by the great volume of complaints received by the fuel administration the instances under investigation by the department of justice are comparatively inconsequential. Hundreds of letters and telegrams from every section of the country, it is understood, have been sent to the fuel administration.

Disposition of these complaints is one of the subjects now pressing the fuel administration. It is understood, and action concerning them probably will be taken within a few days. Investigations are that the bulk of the complaints, upon which criminal proceedings might be brought—if the truth of the charges can be established—will be turned over to the department of justice with the suggestion that violators of the law be prosecuted promptly.

Heavy penalties are provided for violation of the law under which the president fixed the price to be charged for coal and the margins allowed jobbers and dealers. Violators may be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment of not more than two years, or both.

Each independent transaction constitutes a separate offense.

Coupled with the complaints charging that higher prices than those authorized have been demanded and obtained, are numerous protests from persons and firms alleging that they have been unable to buy coal at any price. With these it is thought, the government has little power to deal, except in cases where the coal operators themselves refused to sell coal which had not been extracted for previously.

Most of the latter complaints, it is understood, come from purchasers of household consumption who have been hard hit by the scarcity of coal in various localities.

The belief prevails among officials that coal dealers by the thousands have carried out and are carrying out the government's policy to the letter. Violators of the law, if any, it is thought, are the small minority, who have been tempted to take advantage of local conditions and of the general scarcity of fuel in certain sections.

SAID THE PRESIDENT SHOULD BE SHOT.

Charged with saying that he could shoot President Wilson without giving him any mercy, Frank E. Spear, of 908 West Fifth street, was taken a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner J. W. Cobb Friday morning and committed to jail in default of a $5,000 bond to await trial before United States district court, which convenes in Charleston the first Monday in April, 1918. A warrant was sworn out against Spear by John B. Sturgill, secret service agent, charging him with "unlawfully, maliciously and knowingly uttering language against the life of the president of the United States."

He was arrested by United States Deputy Marshal E. S. Williams. Spear employed as a pressman at the Charlotte Leather Belting Company. The defendant refused to make any statement at the trial before Commissioner Cobb but sworn testimony was given by a number of witnesses.—Charlotte Observer.

Fine 'Tater' Crop.

Durham, Oct. 26.—The county zone of Brunswick county that was reported to the North Carolina food conservation commission as self-sustaining, can hardly boast of producing more sweet potatoes than the Durham county home. Superintendent Ed Couch has a supply enough to feed the inmates of the homes, furnish tubers to the county convict camp, and also a reserve supply for hogs. The acreage seeded to this crop yielded 700 bushels.

MONEY NEEDED FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS Y. M. C. A.

Thirty-five million dollars are needed to maintain until July 1, 1918, the war work being done by the Y. M. C. A. for the soldiers and sailors of the United States and her allies, in the camps of America and Europe.

To secure this amount a great campaign will be conducted from November 11 to 19.

Campaign organizations have been perfected in the six military departments of the United States. The headquarters of the southeastern department have been established at the Y. M. C. A. building in Atlanta, Ga., with C. K. McColhoun, city secretary of the international committee of the association as campaign manager. States organizations have been perfected and district and county committees set up.

The quota of the southeastern department for the campaign has been set at $1,500,000. This is subdivided among the seven states as follows: Georgia $350,000; Alabama $300,000; Tennessee $300,000; North Carolina $200,000; South Carolina $200,000; Mississippi $100,000; Florida $75,000.

An executive committee for the department to have general charge of the campaign, has been formed.

State conference have been held and a department conference will be called in Atlanta for early in November to make final preparations for the drive.

The biggest men in political, business, social and religious life in the South are devoting their efforts to this campaign as organizers, workers and speakers. They are giving themselves to it as they gave to the Liberty Loan and to the Red Cross. Where the Liberty Loan was to buy munitions, food and clothing for the fighting men and the Red Cross fund was to care for them when ill or wounded, the cause for which this Y. M. C. A. fight is to be waged is for providing the comforts of home to the boys, to keep them fit physically, mentally, morally and socially—to fill their spare hours with constructive and worth while recreational, educational and religious activity.

HE TALKS OF WORLD FOODS

SHIPS, WHEAT AND HOGS ARE THE GREAT NEEDS EMPHATICALLY STRESSED BY HOOVER.

Washington, Oct. 26.—In a statement reviewing the world food situation, Food Administrator Hoover said the fight against the submarine would be won if the United States and Canada could stimulate production and effect economies so as to feed the allies from this continent without sending a ship farther afield than the American Atlantic seaboard.

Ships, wheat and hogs are the great needs emphasized by Mr. Hoover. He said deepest concern had been caused by the fact that in spite of high prices this country's pork consumption had increased during the war until production had been outstripped; a situation that must be changed.

"If we discontinue exports," Mr. Hoover added, "we will move the German line from France to the Atlantic seaboard. Pork products have an influence in this present world situation wider than one would ordinarily attribute to them. The human body must have a certain amount of fat; we must increase production of hogs if we are to answer the world's craving."

"The production of fats is today a critical necessity for the preservation of these people (the allies) and the maintenance of their constancy in the war. Every pound of fat is as sure of service as every bullet, and every hog is of greater value to the winning of this war than a shell."

As to wheat the administrator said the allies' deficiency of production is 196,000,000 bushels, with imports of 577,700,000 bushels required to maintain normal consumption. He estimated the aggregate American, Canadian, Australian, Indian and Argentine export surplus at 770,000,000 bushels, but pointed out that lack of shipping made it necessary for this country and Canada to bear the burden of meeting the allies' deficit.

"The problem is thus simply one of ships," he said. "If ample shipping existed there would be no need for saving or increased production of wheat on the part of the American people. But if we can produce economies and stimulate production in the United States and Canada as will enable us to feed the allies absolutely from this continent and thus enable them to live without sending a ship farther afield than our Atlantic seaboard, we can resist the submarine indefinitely."

Placing the United States wheat export surplus from this year's crop at 80,000,000 bushels and Canada's at 150,000,000 bushels, Mr. Hoover urged domestic economies to increase this country's surplus to 150,000,000 bushels.

THE TREASURY AND THE WAR.

Six months ago a state of war was declared as existing between the United States and Germany. In that time the United States treasury department has collected from all sources over five billion dollars and disbursed a slightly lesser sum.

Upon the treasury estimates submitted immediately after the war resolution Congress passed a bill authorizing five billion dollars in bonds and two billion dollars in short-term certificates of indebtedness.

On June 15, after a campaign of a month, an offering of two billion dollars of Liberty Loan Bonds was closed; over four million American citizens had subscribed for over three billion dollars in Liberty Loan Bonds.

Upon estimates submitted by the treasury, on September 24 Congress passed a law authorizing a loan of $7,538,945,460, short-term certificates of indebtedness of $4,000,000,000, and war-savings certificates to the amount of $2,000,000,000.

An offering of bonds of $3,000,000,000 or more under this latter law, called the second Liberty Loan of 1917, is now being made. Over a billion and a quarter of short-term certificates have already been sold, and an active campaign for the sale of war-savings certificates is being organized.

Since the state of war was declared the treasury has purchased obligations of the countries at war with Germany to the amount of over two and a half billion dollars.

The increased volume of business of the federal reserve banks since the 6th of April can be realized from the fact that the discount operations of these banks during June, 1917, was $750,270,739, a total in excess of the total investment operations of the banks during the calendar year of 1916.

The war-risk insurance bureau since the passage of the war resolution has issued over 7,500 policies of insurance on American vessels and their cargoes, valued at well over half a billion dollars, the premiums collected amounting to nearly $25,000,000. As without this insurance these vessels would not have sailed, American commerce has been assisted to the above extent.

Upon estimates prepared by the treasury department of the needs of all the other departments of government and submitted to Congress by the secretary of the treasury, revenue bills for raising and appropriations bills for expending many billions of dollars have been enacted into law.

Another notable achievement was the preparation of the army and navy insurance bill which has passed Congress, embodying the principles and following almost exactly the lines as presented to Congress by the secretary of the treasury. The war-risk insurance bureau has been organized and is now prepared to afford the benefits of the law to all members of the military and naval forces of the United States.

DEFINING THE ISSUE.

"Germany cannot maintain her position as a world power against England unless her position is founded on might." In these words, Admiral von Tirpitz, former minister of the German imperial navy, sums up the German hopes for peace. Nothing could be plainer and more distinctly German than the stand he takes. His words carry nothing new or startling, except that he openly admits the contention of the entente powers, that this war has resolved itself into a struggle between might and right.

From the outset it has been evident to the world that Germany's hope for world domination rested not on any principle of right, but on the belief that her military power was strong enough to sweep everything before it. The German aggression has been referred to as the war against democracy. Democracy in this instance is synonymous with humanity, the real spirit back of struggle against Germany being to make the world safe for humanity.

For years Germany worked on a great war machine and struck only when she thought it was strong enough to force might into the world as the controlling factor of human destiny. No one will say that she did not build well, for she was defeated in her foul purpose only by her failure to anticipate a simultaneous uprising of all the forces of right.

When Germany started her mad rush across Belgium, she hoped to take possession of the world, one nation at a time. If the individual nations had been left to shift for themselves it is apparent what the result would have been. We have seen enough of Germany's fighting machine and her ruthlessness to know that no one nation could have withstood the attack for long. Her scheme was not so futile as would appear at first glance, and but for the powers of right arising together would have met with a great measure of success.

IT HAS COME AT LAST.

We always knew it was coming. There was no logical reasoning against it, yet the notices were something of a shock. A man and woman were married in New York, and then they assumed her name. It was a choice between Bernays and Cohen, and the former won out.

A new style of wedding announcements was used, simply stating: "Hella Bernays and Murray Cohen are married, and have, by judicial process, taken the name of Mr. and Mrs. Murray C. Bernays." A mutual desire to keep alive her family name was given as the reason for the unusual procedure.

Seriously, however, we see no objection to the custom. For convenience, because the husband was usually in business or probably better known, the wife has been taking his name. There is no reason why this should always be the case.

While opening a choice of names may cause some time an argument, or so, we wouldn't oppose a law allowing every couple to decide which of the two names they would be designated by in after life.

THE WAR AND PEACE.

German success in the Baltic Sea, with the absolute mastery of the Gulf of Riga, is something for the teutons, but there are reports circulating about a rupture between Austria and Germany on the subject of peace. As every one knows and Austria admits, she wants peace and is willing to make concessions, but when the Austrian foreign minister informed the German chancellor that the situation demanded straight talk from Germany and concessions "in the west" the reply was vague and uncertain. This caused a painful feeling between the two statesmen, and a Berlin newspaper declares that the Austrian premier has declined to carry on further negotiations with the present German chancellor.

It is impossible that anything but benefit can come to the American family which signs the food administration pledge.

BRITISH MORTGAGES ON AMERICAN FARMS.

Some time ago the British government, pursuing its general policy of restricting all foreign loans by its subjects, instructed British mortgage companies not to renew maturing loans upon lands in the United States.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo took up the matter with representatives of the British government with the result that the order of the British government has been rescinded so far as it relates to mortgages held on lands in the United States. This act shows the appreciation by the British government of the financial help the American people through their government are extending to the United Kingdom.

The Americans who would have been chiefly affected by the rescinded British order were Southern planters who are extensive borrowers from British mortgage companies, it being estimated that possibly a hundred million dollars of British money is loaned out on mortgages on Southern lands.

If American women fail to do their part in this war, it will be their first failure. President Wilson says the most vital part they can play is to enroll as members of the food administration and "cheerfully accept its direction and advice."

Germany is striving to fasten her system on Europe and the world, through starvation. You can help thwart Germany's ambition by enrolling as an active member of the food administration. Don't be partners of the Prussians.

If you think it better to whip Germany in Europe, rather than fight her here, help feed our allies and keep them in the fight. Sign up as a member of the food administration.

Millions of women and children in Europe—our allies—can be saved from bitter hunger if you will eat one slice less of wheat bread each day.

OLD PEOPLE SAID TO BE ON THE INCREASE.

The proportion of old people in the world today is greater than at any time in the history of the human race. At the taking of the census in 1910 there were 3,555 centenarians in the United States, there were 11,000 persons 95 years of age and older, and 4,500,000 people over 65 years of age. In fact, a very considerable proportion of the population then was over 65 years of age.

Statistics show further that the proportion of old people is constantly on the increase. That it is possible to add 15 years to your life is not a supposition with all old people. Many of them are proving it. They have learned that by adopting proper living habits and obeying faithfully the laws of hygiene you may add not only 15, 20 or 40 years to your life, but that you may so preserve the organs of the body and mind as to make this period of life one of the most useful.

There are more old women than old men. The reasons given for this are women live cleaner lives, are given less to excesses, have fewer infections, drink less whiskey, use less tobacco, carry less strain and come into old age with sounder organs. They, therefore, have a death rate lower than that of men, and they have a longer life expectancy than men. According to the census table, a person 65 years old may expect to live 11.6 years, those 70 years old may expect to live 9.1 years, those 80, 5.2 years and those 90, three years.

The causes of death in people over 65 in the order of their importance are: Organic heart disease; apoplexy, Bright's disease and pneumonia. There are about one-third as many deaths from consumption as there are from pneumonia. Old people must guard against colds and pneumonia, as well as against worry, extreme fatigue, exposure or strain.

Patriotic Children.

Oxford, Oct. 26.—The thousands of people who this week visited the Granville county fair greatly admired the display of the Oxford orphanage. Every article in the booth was made by the children of the institution. The accumulation of money for the sale of these articles amounted to $400. Mr. R. L. Brown, the wise and efficient superintendent, placed this amount in Liberty Bonds for the orphanage.

Spies in Army Post.

Vancouver, Wash., Oct. 26.—German spies are operating in the army post here, according to evidence gathered today. A number of army mules have been stabbed, making it necessary to kill several. Efforts have been made to poison the water which supplies the barracks and, it is persistently reported, poisoned bread has been found.

The Qualifications of a Competent Trustee.

Integrity, Responsibility, Good Judgment Regarding Investments, Knowledge of the Law Respecting Trusteeship, Executive Ability—all of these sustained without interruption—are necessary under modern conditions before a Trustee can be considered wholly competent.

No individual can possess all these essential qualifications. He may have integrity, responsibility, good judgment and executive ability, yet he lacks the continuous existence which assures that uninterrupted management so necessary to the welfare of an estate.

The Greensboro Loan and Trust Company possesses all of the essential qualifications of a competent Trustee, including assured existence throughout generations of beneficiaries. The company will afford complete protection to your estate, if appointed Executor and Trustee under your will.

A fact not generally understood is that the highly specialized and competent service rendered by this company cost no more than the services of an individual.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

McLEANSVILLE.

The McLeansville graded school is progressing nicely at this place.

Miss Mabel Whittington will commence her school this morning. We wish her good luck.

Mr. M. B. Holt, who has been feeble for the last five years, does not seem to improve.

Most of the farmers are through plowing wheat in this community. Owing to the scarcity of labor and so many of the boys gone to the war the crops will not be so heavy.

There will be a public meeting of the J. W. O. A. M. at the McLeansville graded school house on Saturday night before the first Sunday in November, it being the 3rd. Let everybody come.

While doing some carpenter work for George Richmond the scaffold gave way and W. P. Holt fell and broke the large bone in his arm near the wrist. Dr. W. T. Holt was called and set the bone and at present he is getting along as well as could be expected.

The convict camp located at this place, under the supervision of Capt. Stanley, have built up some good roads. A Ford machine wheel will almost slip on them. They will soon have and work some other road.

Thad May, known to many of The Patriot readers as the old-time fiddler and a great o'possum hunter who lives in Greene township, is reported as critically ill at his home. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Rev. Myers, of the First Presbyterian church, preached to the convicts Sunday afternoon on the life of Paul. In his discourse he compared the life of the prisoner to that of St. Paul, when he was found in prison in Rome. He will preach here next Sunday, November 3.

Entertainment at Summerfield.

There will be a Halloween entertainment at the Summerfield school house next Saturday night, November 3. Come everybody and be entertained by the hobgoblins, ghosts and witches. Miss Ruth Sherrill will also entertain you with her classes of expression of music. We will do our best to make it an enjoyable occasion and make you glad you came.

The Chatham Rabbit.

The white frosts of Sunday and Monday, and the other lesser frosts, will place the Chatham rabbits in prime condition for the opening of the season November 1. —See legal notice of R. W. Wallace vs. Mabel C. Wallace, in an action for absolute divorce, in another column of today's Patriot.

—A notice of summons by publication to Mrs. Edith Phillips, one of the heirs of the late Mrs. Emma Phillips, will be found in another column today.

—That's a nice little story of "The Qualifications of a Competent Trustee" in the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company's space on the fifth page today. And the beauty of it is that it is the naked truth, without any frills. Read it and be governed by its good advice.

—This is the kind of weather that causes rheumatism and stiff joints. But this need not worry you. Just step in at Conyers' drug store, near the Southern passenger station, and tell Mr. Sykes to let you have a bottle of Parco's Mustif Liniment, take it home and rub your muscles and the stiffness will leave you in a jiffy. See Mr. Sykes' ad. on the eighth page today.

—For attractive millinery at attractive prices go to the Ladies' Emporium, on West Market street, opposite the county court house. Misses Carson and Abbott, the two experienced and clever young ladies in charge, have surrounded themselves with the best stock of ladies' and children's wearables that it has ever been their pleasure to offer the people of Guilford county. You can save mighty near half of your purchase money by trading at the Ladies' Emporium. See notice in bargain column.

—There were fine breaks at The Center Brick warehouse last week. The average, including scraps, was $35.02. Messrs. King, Aydelette & Lambeth, the hustling proprietors, backed by Mr. Finch, the auctioneer, are ever on the alert to make your tobacco bring the highest possible prices, and that they are succeeding is attested by the large amount of tobacco sold on the floor at the Center Brick daily. These gentlemen give a few of the averages made last week in their new ad. in another part of The Patriot today.

—You could not select a better time to set out frost proof cabbage plants than right now, after this little rain. The ground is in fine shape to receive them and they will take root at once. The Scott Seed Company has a million fine healthy plants of the best varieties to offer you, raised right here in Greensboro and fully acclimated. Get a supply now and put them out for spring use, for cabbage will be high next year. Mr. McLean can supply you in any quantity you can use, and if it is not convenient for you to call at the store for them he will send them to you by parcel post. See ad. in another column for prices.

—If you have sold your tobacco or other farm products this fall, you ought to be in a position to fix up a nice cozy home, if you do not already have one, for your good wife and children, and make it the pleasantest place on earth. One way to do it is to take your wife to Thacker & Brockmann's store and let her select what she needs in matings, carpets, rugs, linoleum or squares for the home. Some of these will transform the home into a cozy, pleasant domicile for the whole family after an arduous year's work. The cost will be much less than you think. And while you are down there select a nice pair of those patent leather shoes for your wife that Thacker & Brockmann are selling at before the war prices. See ad. in another column today.

—Col. R. L. England, manager of the England Realty and Auction Company, has had subdivided into small tracts the J. F. Kivett, or Sharp Kivett farm, four and a half miles south of Liberty, two miles from Staley and near Ramseur, and will sell them at public auction next Thursday, November 1, at 10.30 A. M., to the highest bidder on very easy terms. This is one of the best farms in the state, and this sale is made to settle up the estate and divide the proceeds among the heirs. Each tract offered will contain some timber, bottom land and running water. The colonial home place of about 65 acres will be sold with the privilege of more land adjoining if desired. There are about 150 acres of original growth timber. If you are interested in farm land consult Col. England about this place in advance of the sale and be on hand to buy what you want. See his announcement on the fourth page today.

Word Not Worth Much.

On Guard at the Reading Gate!

It is a fine thing to guard our homes against alien soldiers of whose purposes we are all aware. But it is also very important to guard them against other insidious foes that creep in under the disguise of friendly entertainers to plunder and destroy the cherished ideals, the lofty standards, the clear views that have given the home its character.

If you will familiarize your young people with the best reading, they will not be likely to crave what is inferior and demoralizing. The Youth's Companion is a powerful influence in awakening a taste for what is best in reading. It is on guard at the reading gate! Nothing cheap, mean or hateful passes its challenge. But neither does the crabbed and dull and austere. Cheery idealism is the Companion's countersign. Put it on guard at your reading gate!

The Companion is $2 a year. If you do not know it, by all means send for sample copies giving a forecast of what the next volume will bring. By adding 25 cents you can also get McCall's Magazine, the best fashion authority for women and girls—both publications for $2.25.

Our two-at-one-price offer includes: 1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues of 1918. 2. All the remaining issues of 1917. 3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1918. 4. McCall's Magazine—12 fashion numbers of 1918. All for only $2.25.

"One molasses factory in this neighborhood has turned out twelve hundred gallons of syrup this fall for the neighbors," said Martin Baker, of Lanes Creek township. Mr. Baker is an active community leader, and a successful live-at-home farmer. CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

The Redfield Will

It Looked All Right When Made, but Did Not Pan Out Well

By F. A. MITCHEL

When the late John Redfield's will was opened it was learned that all his property—a goodly fortune—was left to his daughter Anne, with the condition that she marry the testator's right hand man of business, Theodore Griffin. Griffin had been in charge of the Redfield company for some time before its founder's demise, and since he was the only man who could squeeze a profit out of it there was no necessity for making any other provision for its management. Nothing was said in the will as to a refusal of Griffin to marry Anne Redfield. Her father when she was passing into womanhood had told her that it was his intention to give her a good manager for the fortune he would leave her, in the person of Griffin. Anne was then too young to consider the importance of the plan to her, and her father was left to believe that she would make no objection to it when the time came to fulfill the conditions. There was no doubt about Griffin's acquiescence to it.

This is why the will made no mention of a refusal on the part of Griffin to marry the heiress. If she refused to marry him the stock of the Redfield company, which would otherwise be hers, would go to Griffin. The residue of the estate would in this case be divided between several charitable institutions in which the testator had been much interested during his life.

Mr. Redfield died four years after mentioning the matter to his daughter. When he did so she was fifteen. At the time of his death she was nineteen. She had told some of her schoolmates that she was to marry Griffin and had made no objection to doing so. At that time it was a matter for the future, and she considered it a matter of course, as a boy may do who is brought up to understand that he is to enter a certain profession.

But when Anne Redfield at nineteen found herself an orphan and called upon to fulfill the conditions of her father's will she was a woman and had a lover who had nothing whatever to do with the condition except that if she married him she would give up a fortune.

David Corwin was the young man who had stepped in to prevent John Redfield's well conceived plan from being smoothly worked out. David had been attentive to Anne for some time before her father's death, but Mr. Redfield was not observant, and quite often parents who are watchful fail to detect a love affair that is developing right under their noses. This one came to a head during Mr. Redfield's last illness.

When the will was read Anne was reminded of something the importance of which she had not realized and which, never having been mentioned to her since she was fifteen years old, she regarded as a dead letter. But even now it did not occur to her that Griffin would force himself upon her, she being unwilling. She sent for him and told him that she could not marry her father's choice for her without violation to her feelings. Griffin replied that he had promised her father to do his part in carrying out the plan; if Anne would not do her part he saw no way but that the property, other than the business, must go to the charities named in the will.

Anne consulted a lawyer, who told her that under the terms of the will she must marry Griffin to inherit her property. There was but one way out of the dilemma, and that was for Griffin to refuse to marry her. This would make the will inoperative, and she would inherit as heir at law, the same as if there were no will, she being the only child and there being no widow.

Anne did not understand the legal distinctions in the case, but she did understand that her inheriting her property and marrying the man she wanted depended on Griffin's declining to marry her. She sent for Griffin and reported what the attorney had said.

"This plan," replied Griffin, "was inaugurated by your father. It received my sanction, and he told me that you had made no objection to it. I would not be justified in thwarting it by putting you in a position to render it inoperative. I regret that the carrying it out has become obnoxious to you, but that fact would not excuse me if I became a party to nullifying it."

"But father could have had no object in making such a will except to insure, so far as he could, my happiness. Four years ago he told me about this plan, and I gave my consent to it. Had I refused that consent I am quite sure he would not have made such a will. I was then a child. Now I am a woman. Father never intended that I should marry a man I did not wish to marry."

"Your father doubtless knew that your happiness largely depended upon the possession of the fortune he had been at such pains to build up. He was aware that a girl of your age is not able to manage a large concern. His money is all invested in the business, and every one knows that a business without a manager will soon go to ruin. If you marry a man who is not capable of managing it, you will be reduced to poverty. I am sure I am warranted in saying that no man is capable of managing it who has not been brought up for the purpose. Your father brought me up for that very purpose. His object in providing in the will that you should marry me was to insure to you the enjoyment of the wealth he was leaving you. Had he left you free to marry whom you liked you would doubtless have married some young man utterly unfitted to manage a fortune that was tied up in a very intricate business. The result would have been what I have said—ruin for the business and poverty for you. He brought you up with the understanding that you were to marry the manager of the business he left you."

This sounded so plausible that for the time being Griffin appeared in Anne's eyes a very noble man. It seemed to her that she was the guilty one in not carrying out her father's wishes, to which she had tacitly consented. Nevertheless her whole being rebelled against a marriage with Griffin. Indeed, it was not to be thought of. She would marry the man of her choice even if she must relinquish a fortune. She was quite sure she would marry her even if she were poor as a church mouse.

But Anne found on consultation with others that they were not disposed to take her view of Griffin's noble motives in not permitting her to enjoy her inheritance with the man she loved by refusing to marry her. Her lawyer told her frankly that Griffin wanted the half million of dollars he would get with her. Corwin said that he wanted her, fortune or no fortune, but some way must be found to persuade or force Griffin to refuse to marry her, thus enabling her to come into her own. He consulted lawyers, who told him that to comply with the statutes Griffin must voluntarily refuse. He could not be trapped or forced into a refusal.

There was a time limit in the will to Anne's marriage with Griffin. By the time she was twenty-one she must marry him or lose her property. When her father died she had just turned nineteen. Therefore two years remained before she was compelled to decide. It was decided between David and Anne that David should go to some unknown place. Anne had not told Griffin that he had a rival, and it was determined to still keep the matter a secret. There was no difficulty in doing this, for thus far it was known only to Anne and David.

Theodore Griffin was one of those men who combine the social and business world. His success lay in becoming intimate with rich persons and using them in a business way. He used his club, his friends, even his church, for profit. One evening at the opera, scanning the occupants of the boxes, he encountered a pair of binoculars in the hands of a handsomely dressed woman leveled upon him. The glasses were dropped at once, but Griffin wondered why the woman, who was young and well favored, had been gazing at him. Later, pointing to the woman, he asked a friend who she was and was informed that she was Senora De Barancas, the widow of a Brazilian coffee planter and worth millions.

"Would you like to know her?" asked a gentleman sitting near Griffin.

"I certainly would," was the reply. "I am a friend of hers, and if you will give me references I will be pleased to present you. She has only just arrived in the city and is unknown."

Griffin found a friend who vouched for him and was presented to Senora Barancas. He found confirmation of his belief that he had attracted her attention, because she had admired his appearance, in the reception she gave him, which was, to say the least, cordial. She lamented being in a great city where there was so much to enjoy with no one to enjoy it with except her business manager, the man who had introduced Griffin, and Griffin told her that it would give him great pleasure to make her stay pleasant. She told him that she had but a week in the city, for she had the misfortune, though a woman, to be burdened with the management of large interests.

Griffin devoted himself to the young widow for a week, at the end of which he prevailed upon her to remain another week. One morning Anne Redfield received a note from an attorney suggesting that a compromise might be effected in the matter of the condition in her father's will requiring her to marry Griffin. Anne referred the note to her attorney, who advised her to begin negotiations by offering Griffin $10,000 to refuse to marry her.

But before a reply to the offer was received David Corwin turned up and, taking Anne in his arms, announced that Griffin had been married the evening before.

Corwin was in a position to give his fiancée a lot of information as to the bride, for he had brought her from Rio de Janeiro himself, had arranged her meeting with Griffin—indeed, had arranged a trap for that gentleman which had been worked out very successfully. Senora Barancas was a hired adventuress, and David had agreed to remunerate her handsomely out of Anne's fortune if she could by marrying Griffin insure it to its rightful owner. The senora needed considerable funds to pose as the widow of a multimillionaire coffee planter, and David had been obliged to borrow the necessary amount.

The wedding was sudden, for the senora received a telegram (sent by David) that her interests needed her presence on her plantation, and Griffin concluded to snap her up without delay.

David and Anne did not wait for the courts to pronounce her an heiress before being married. But it was some time before she received her inheritance. Then all the expenses David had incurred in bringing out Senora Barancas were paid and the bride and groom began to enjoy their fortune.

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE READERS OF THE PATRIOT FAR AND NEAR.

Soloman-Vanstory. Ernest Soloman and Miss Nellie Vanstory, of Proximity, were united in marriage Wednesday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. R. R. Gordon.

Death of Mrs. Alice Denny. Mrs. Alice Denny died Thursday night at 10.40 o'clock at her home in High Point. The funeral services and interment took place Saturday at Summerfield, her old home.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting. There will be a conference here Wednesday afternoon of Y. M. C. A. workers looking to the raising of North Carolina's part of the big association war fund. The state is asked for $300,000.

Try to Upset Amendment. It is announced that an effort will be made to have the courts to hold the school board and tax increase amendment to the city charter invalid, because it was submitted as one proposition instead of being divided.

Trogon-Rose. The engagement of Miss Jessie Trogon, of this city, to Charles Herbert Rose, of Henderson, is announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Trogon. The marriage will take place Thursday afternoon in Centenary church.

Want More Letters. A Greensboro boy now stationed at Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., writes to his people that the soldiers feel that their friends here are not writing to them as often as they ought, and asks that more letters and other forms of mail be sent them.

Speaks to Bible Class. W. Thomas Bost, of Raleigh, a well-known newspaper man, was the speaker at yesterday morning's session of the Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church. Mr. Bost made a splendid address and was heard with much interest by his audience.

Reed Still at Large. Jim Reed, the crazy negro who escaped from the authorities and went back to his place of business in Summer township, still eludes the officers. Sheriff Stafford and Deputies Caffey and Phipps went to get him Friday, but he was wise, and couldn't be found. He had been at his cabin, but wasn't to be located.

Conrad Hodgkin Dead. The funeral of Conrad Hodgkin, the 17-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Hodgkin, was held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. G. Walker, of the Glenwood Presbyterian church, conducted the services, which were held at the home on Dairy street. Death occurred Friday. Interment was in Zion chapel cemetery.

Young Boy Injured. An accident occurred Friday when a delivery car belonging to Patterson Grocery Company and driven by Arthur Brown, ran into Herbert Williams, son of J. J. Williams. The car turned from South Elm to go down West Sycamore and struck the boy, who ran in front of it. He was given attention by a physician, but it was found that there were no serious injuries.

Paternal Order Fails. The Fraternal Order of Eagles and Eagles Home Company, of this city, collective secret order, has gone into the hands of a receiver. Messrs. O. Dorset and A. P. Fortune petitioned for this and Friday at Danbury Mr. G. S. Bradshaw secured from Judge Harding the necessary papers appointing D. H. Collins, receiver, and the affairs of the lodge and home company will be wound up.

Advocating Municipal Woodyard. Several prominent citizens of the city appeared before the city commissioners Thursday advocating a municipal woodyard. Among them were R. C. Strudwick, A. M. Scales, J. S. Michaux and Rev. R. Murphy Williams. All the advocates of the measure agreed that whatever there was of the socialistic principle in the establishment of a municipal woodyard should not deter the city commissioners now, with a great war on, from establishing the woodyard. A municipal woodyard is especially intended to benefit the poor and to insure a reserve supply of fuel for the city at all times. The commissioners have decided to buy and store wood for an emergency.

Thieves Are Active. Three bicycles and an automobile were reported stolen here Saturday. So far these robberies have the record for a single day. The bicycles belonged to Ralls Brothers, T. N. Norton and C. L. West, of Route 2. The automobile was owned by James Lovelace, of Proximity.

Raise $563 For Work. The Young Women's Christian Association at Greensboro College for Women last night raised $563 for the students' friendship war fund. Dr. Thomas Thoburn, religious director at Camp Greene, was the speaker at a very enthusiastic meeting of the association in the college chapel. Dr. Thoburn was formerly pastor of the church in Montclair, N. J., of which Dr. John R. Mott is a member.

Caught at Favorite Sport. Robert Gray, Robert Burton, Marshall Crite and Napoleon Hampton, four negro boys, were found in the basement of the South Elm street meat market Friday afternoon and three of them were summoned to court for gambling. At the entrance of the police the boys ran. Three of them were caught later and were made to give bond for their appearance. The fourth was not found.

Enter Bicycle Shop. During Wednesday night thieves entered the bicycle shop of F. A. Dorsett, and stole one pearl handle .43 caliber pistol, one black handle .32 caliber pistol and one .22 caliber rifle. In order to secure entrance the front window was broken with a rock, making it easy for the thief to enter the shop and steal the firearms. It is said that similar robberies have been reported in Durham.

Hospital Committee Adjourns. The Methodist hospital committee for the Western North Carolina M. E. Conference met here Thursday to receive bids for the proposed hospital from different interested cities, Salisbury, Winston and Greensboro are the cities after the hospital. It was not decided as to which city would get the hospital, but the decision will probably come when the committee meets again in Asheville November 13.

Mrs. C. H. Russell Dead. Mrs. Charles H. Russell died at Jonesboro at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, following a short illness. She was a native of Guilford county and was before marriage Miss Louise Coble, daughter of the late Dr. W. A. Coble. She was a sister of Mrs. J. Henry Phipps, of this city, and Mrs. Ed Tucker and Henry Coble, of Pleasant Garden. Her husband has been railroad agent at Jonesboro for more than thirty years.

Cox-Hubbell. Miss Luella Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cox, became the bride of C. H. Hubbell, Saturday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. L. Bain, pastor of West Market Street church, at his residence. The bride is an attractive young lady and has a host of friends. Mr. Hubbell holds a position with the American Telephone Company, of this city. The young couple will occupy apartments in the Benbow Arcade.

Throw Rocks at Train. A rock hurled through a window of passenger train No. 139, arriving in this city from Raleigh at 7.10 Saturday evening, inflicted a painful cut on the head of an unknown passenger and narrowly missed W. N. Stack, traveling representative of the Van Lindley Company, of this city, so passengers reported. The affair occurred just a short distance west of Wehane, before the train had gained full speed, it was stated.

Miss Land's Splendid Talk. Miss Bettie Aiken Land, Guilford county's rural school supervisor, made a splendid talk before the members of the Springfield Community Club, near High Point, Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robbins. The subject of her talk was "Culture for the Rural Community Club." She brought out many practical points on how to develop a love for good literature, a taste for good reading, and an appreciation of good music. Suggestions were given as to how a library in a school or home should be used to advantage, leading child periodicals were discussed, books to instill a love for great artists and their works in the minds of children were recommended, and the wide knowledge of music and musicians that may be acquired by even young children through the use of a victrola or other similar instruments was emphasized. The Springfield school is one of the leading schools of the county, employing six teachers. The enrollment is about 240. Rev. George J. Walker is principal, assisted by Mrs. Welker and Misses Mayme Ellis, Dorie Hayworth and Mabel Spencer.

To Take Religious Census. In order to discover the church and Sunday school affiliation or preference of every man, woman and child in Greensboro and suburbs, the city Sunday school union has arranged to take a house to house canvass. A census will be made, with a card for every person, not just for each family. In this census can be found full information about the church-going habits of the people and the churches will find it available for information at any time.

Will Locate Highway. For the purpose of joining the Bankhead highway pathfinders, C. M. Vanstory, a director of the association, left this morning for Washington. The party of which he will become a member, will return to Greensboro Thursday about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A half hour will be spent here and the pathfinders will drive to High Point for lunch. From here the motorists will go to Charlotte to spend Thursday night and will continue Friday toward Atlanta.

Paving Contracts Let. Contracts for paving in Greensboro, including that of South Elm street, amounting to approximately $39,000, were authorized by vote of the city commissioners Thursday. Robert G. Lassiter & Co., of Oxford, were the takers of the paving contracts. The paving of South Elm street, the main business street in the city, and which, for a long time, has been in bad condition, is especially gratifying to people of Greensboro. It is understood that the work will begin without delay.

Motor Company Changes. Announcement is made of change in the name of the Allen Auto Company to the R-K Motor Company. C. H. Rawls continues as manager and J. L. Kernode retains his interest. It is also stated that the company will begin moving today from the present Davis street location to the big Elm street store room formerly occupied by Mourane & Tonkins. The North State Motor Company, which for several months past, has been located at 229 South Davis street, will this week move to the big garage building heretofore occupied by the Allen Auto Company.

News From Mr. Starr. One of the Greensboro officers in the army who got his lieutenant's commission at Oglethorpe, R. H. Starr, writes to his friend, A. C. Cobb, here, that the ladies of France are friendly to the American soldiers but we "are handicapped" in lack of understanding of the language. He bemoans the fact. Lieutenant Starr also regrets that the strict censorship prevents the description to his friend of the conditions on the other side. He does talk of the beautiful country of France, the brick and rock-built houses, the fat cattle, the wonderful, shaded roads and garden-like farms.

Dies From Injuries. After a week of nearly absolute muscular paralysis resulting from a fall, Joseph Emeley Fields died Saturday. He was 58 years of age. Mr. Fields was a carpenter and was engaged in work on an Asheboro street house when he fell. He was a native of Guilford county, son of Joseph F. Fields and Ellen Rees Fields, both of the county. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Virginia Fields, a daughter, Mrs. T. M. Bennett, a brother, J. M. Fields, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Barnes, all of Greensboro. The funeral services were conducted Sunday at 3 o'clock in the residence, 438 Bellevue street.

Badly Hurt at Mt. Airy. P. C. Barker, of Barker Bros., this city, was seriously injured yesterday morning in Mt. Airy, when the automobile he was driving, turned over, throwing him out so that his head hit a rock, fracturing his skull. The machine was rounding a corner and going down hill and, it is thought, hit a rut, which caused the accident. He is now in a Mt. Airy hospital with a chance for recovery. Mr. Barker was attending the Christian Endeavor Convention in session in Mt. Airy and was on his way to sunrise prayer meeting when injured. There were no other passengers in the car at the time of the accident. The machine was badly damaged.

Secretary McAdoo Here. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was here Thursday for a little more than half an hour. He was on the home stretch of a tour of the country for the purpose of advancing the sale of liberty bonds. Greensboro bankers and other prominent citizens of the city met and talked with Secretary McAdoo at the station. The secretary says that the South should be greatly concerned over the war. He ended his enthusiastic conversation by saying: "Let us make it clear to the world that the American people, with transcendent love of justice and of country, stand solidly behind their great president, and support unequivocally the purposes of this war."

Dies at Oxford. William Jackson Long, a retired merchant and popular citizen of Oxford, died at his home Thursday night. He was 54 years old and had been in failing health for some time. His wife was before marriage Miss Blanche May, of this city. She and one daughter, Wilma, survive. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon. Those from here attending the funeral Saturday were Mrs. M. S. May, Mrs. L. V. Craddock, Mrs. J. D. May, mother, sister and sister-in-law respectively of Mrs. Long. Mr. Long was a most charitable man and highly esteemed in Oxford. He was a member of the Baptist church, a Royal Arch Mason and Knight Templar.

Mr. Brown to Speak. Frank A. Brown, who rendered as the executive secretary of the laymen's convention in 1910, in Greensboro, will be one of the speakers here during the week beginning November 4. The Presbyterian churches have formed plans for observance of the week for educational work on foreign missions. Mr. Brown has been in China, and he will speak of his experiences. There are others on the program. Among them will be Dr. J. W. Bradley, of China; Rev. Egbert W. Smith, of Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. Charles H. Pratt, Rev. H. F. Williams, both field secretaries of foreign missions, Miss Nellie Sprunt, of China, and Miss Carrie Lee Campbell, of Richmond, Va.
