Miss Burns, Advisors Aid Freshman Academic Life

The vital part of the scholastic advisory system is delegated to the class chairmen and the faculty advisors. Upon the completion of admissions, the freshmen are assigned to faculty advisors, a group of ten to each advisor. Advisors from the special departments are assigned when the student indicates her intention of taking a special course leading to the B. S. degree in music, home economics, or physical education. In the B. A. group, insofar as is possible an advisor is assigned who will share the particular students' interests and have an understanding of her background.

Faculty advisors are selected from the teaching faculty by the freshman class chairman and the dean of instruction subject to the approval of the Chancellor. The faculty advisors are responsible only for the freshmen and the sophomores. When a student enters her major field, the head of the department becomes her advisor, and all materials regarding the student collected by the general faculty advisor is turned over to the head of the department in which the advisee has chosen to major.

To assist the faculty advisor, each advisor selects a student from the junior class who works with him or her throughout the year. This assistant is largely a contact person who meets each freshman in her group on the first day, who introduces each to the faculty advisor, who arranges to familiarize the group with the campus during Freshman Week, and who sees each individual in the group frequently

Quad Sing On 14th; Freshmen May Join "Y" On Sept. 21

The YWCA on the Woman's College campus is a religious organization which transcends denominational barriers. It is made up of individuals who come together "to unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God". While it is a Christian organization, it does not exclude persons of other faiths who wish to join its fellowship—it welcomes every girl as a member.

The Y. W. C. A. is a part of the S. G. A. movement whose major concerns are Christian vocation, personal and campus life, social responsibility and world relatedness.

This fall the first activity of the Y. W. C. A. will be a Quadrangle Sing to be held Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. September 14, especially for the freshmen. The "Y"'s first regular meeting will be held on September 21 in the R. A. Center with Dr. Warren Ashby, who is head of the Philosophy Department and advisor to the "Y". All those who wish to join are urged to come. Regular membership meetings will be held every first Tuesday thereafter.

Plans for informal Sunday night suppers and the Y lecture series, which this year will be given by Dr. Chad Walsh will be announced later.

Louisa Mordecai,
President Y. W. C. A.

enough during the first semester to report to the faculty advisor those needing special assistance. She does no academic advising except under guidance of the faculty advisor, and if she can help with personal problems that arise, she does so under the direction of the residence hall counselor and faculty advisor.

No student may make any change in her program without the approval of her faculty advisor and class chairman.

The Freshman class chairman, Miss Helen Burns, works in that capacity on a full time basis. A class chairman is selected each year from the teaching faculty to act as the chairman of a class from its sophomore year through its senior year. The upper-class chairman, in general, has the same advisory function as the freshman class chairman.

The class chairman is as her title indicates, chairman of all matters pertaining to a class. In her office a folder for each student is kept. Information filed includes a grade record, personal information sheet, personnel reports, judicial board reports, record of outside activities, self-help record, and six weeks' reports of those doing unsatisfactory work.

The class chairman is the coordinator of the freshman advisory system. The goal toward which the class chairman works is to have students come voluntarily to the office with any problems whatsoever.

Inter-Faith Council Offers Varied Religious Program

Religion is an integral element of life at W. C. There are numerous channels offered the student here for her religious growth. As president of the Inter-Faith Council, I would like to give you a little insight into what this organization, as one of these channels, does to facilitate religious work on campus.

The Inter-Faith Council is the coordinating body of the religious groups on campus. Its membership consists of the presidents and representatives of the organized denominational groups the Y.W.C.A., a representative from the Committee of Dorm Devotions Chairmen, and a representative from any unorganized group desiring to be a member of the Council.

The purpose of the Council is the joint sponsorship of religious activities, the furtherance of an atmosphere conducive to religious growth, and encouragement of active participation of the individual student both in campus-wide religious activities and those of her chosen group. We are very pleased over the fact that our primary goal has expanded far beyond the mere furtherance of religious tolerance and good will among religious groups. We are always striving to maintain this goal, but our emphasis today is on inter-religious cooperation and concerted action which will serve to strengthen all of the religious groups.

In order to expand campus awareness of the purpose of the Inter-Faith Council and the concept of inter-religious work on campus I would like to stress that this group is not a separate, competitive campus group. It is a channel for cooperative concerted action among the various groups. It does not attempt to unify these various religions but rather to help preserve individual religious differences. It does not constitute a supra-religion. The Council is seeking common ground for activity rather than a lowest common denominator of religious faith.

Among our activities during the year are the Thanksgiving Pro-

SGA Prexy Urges Newcomers To Aid Student Government

Welcome, Newcomer!

You're here at last. You are here, not merely to visit the campus for a weekend or for a special event, but to make Woman's College your place to study, to make new friends and learn new things, to cultivate a completely new perspective of life for yourself. It is a wonderful experience, and Student Government Association is ready and working to help you in every way possible.

We stand for the student's voice on campus, the student discipline—and policy-makers in almost all student affairs. With the kind and earnest advice of our faculty and administration, we govern our own community, gaining knowledge in democratic living.

Student Government Association invites you to participate in their activities by letting us know your interests and problems, attending Legislature Meetings or simply talking with us over coffee cups in the Soda Shop. Remember, this is your student government. We depend upon your enthusiastic interest and participation to carry out self-government. You might have just the right thing to make this program more effective. Room 218, Elliott Hall has a door that always stands wide open, and a welcome mat before that door. Come and see us, won't you?

USNSA Speaks For W. C. Students, Acts Throughout World

The Elliott Hall council has planned a wonderful "first month" at Woman's College for you. Below is a preview of coming events. Elliott Hall belongs to the students; it is our "campus living room" and with your help we can

Our new campus-wide project for the year for which we are all very enthusiastic is the bi-monthly Chapel programs to be held on Tuesdays alternating with the regular college assembly meetings. Each Chapel program throughout the year will be conducted by a different religious group. The group responsible for the program will clear its plans through the Chapel Committee and together they will work to present to the campus a worthwhile Chapel service conducted on a very high standard.

We extend each of you a cordial invitation to attend Vespers Sunday evening. We also want to invite you to participate in Council projects and to attend program meetings throughout the entire year.

We hope that we can do our part to help you realize intellectual, social, and spiritual growth.

Margie Leder, President
Inter-Faith Council

Elliott Hall Committee Displays Print Collection

An exhibit of religious prints can now be seen throughout the main floor of Elliott Hall. The exhibit is sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee of Elliott Hall from the George Benet Print Collection. The exhibit includes prints from the 16th through the 20th century including prints by Durer and Rouault and others by French, Italian, American, and British Artists.

After a brief period of about three weeks another group of art works will be shown. Elliott Hall includes in its plans for the coming year, a new exhibit collection approximately every month.

The present exhibit has been arranged by Miss Mary Demopoulos of the art department.

Elliott Hall Makes Plans For Gala Social Year

Dear New Students:

Meet Elliott Hall, Your Student Union Building! You will want to become acquainted with it early in the year, for it is the center of campus life.

Elliott Hall extends its services to you and we hope that you will serve it, for by doing so you can achieve a happy and well-rounded college career.

Elliott Hall was built to fulfill the growing need for a place on campus where our social activities could be integrated. Under the direction of the Council, we are trying to build a well balanced and varied social program which will meet the individual needs of every girl on campus.

Among the many services found at Elliott Hall are the post office, joy and nemesis to all; the bookstore containing everything for your scholastic and personal needs; the TV and music lounges for relaxation and enlightenment; the Religious Activities center for meetings and religious meditation; and finally way up on the third floor, the student government and publications offices. These will all become familiar to you as you make your way into extra-curricular life on campus.

Committees form an important part of the Elliott Hall organization; you will hear more about them in October when Elliott Hall presents its annual Activities Fair. Come with a will to work and enjoy yourself; sign up for committee work; the Fine Arts, Faculty-Student, Publicity, Entertainment, and Special Events committees will welcome you!

The Elliott Hall council has planned a wonderful "first month" at Woman's College for you. Below is a preview of coming events. Elliott Hall belongs to the students; it is our "campus living room" and with your help we can

BY LIBBY KAPLAN
NSA Coordinator

Upon becoming a student at the Woman's College, one automatically assumes the privilege and responsibility of membership in the United States National Students' Association. The Association is recognized throughout the world as the representative voice of the students of America, and it is therefore necessary that each student member be completely familiar with the aims, the organization, the operation, and the policies of the Association.

Founded in 1945 by a small group of twenty-five students, the Association has grown to be a large confederation of Students Governments from universities and colleges throughout the nation. Its aim is to foster, through regional and national meetings of student representatives the free interchange of ideas among these representatives, thereby enabling the member campuses to benefit from the knowledge of varied working systems of Student Governments. In addition to its national program which is concerned with the ideal and practical aspects of Student Government, student life and economic welfare, and educational opportunities, the Association also maintains an active contact with other national unions of students. Through these contacts, future leaders of the world are brought together in friendship to discuss their common problems as students.

Each summer delegates from member schools meet during the last three weeks in August at the National Student Congress to discuss and formulate policies which will guide during the next school year the activities of the Association.

WC Honor, Judicial Policies Are Based On Personal Honor

Editor's Note:

The following article contains excerpts from a speech delivered by Anne Rutherford, Honor Board Chairman, at the Pre-School conference.

It is very hard to talk about personal honor. We are sensitive to this thing for the same reason that we squirm in our seats in church when the minister begins delivering a sermon on something a little too personal to suit us. This is our greatest difficulty in carrying out something in which we believe. This something is not the Honor Policy at Woman's College, but simply honor itself. If we criticize the honor policy, we are actually criticizing ourselves. The honor policy is based on the knowledge that a college student has her own personal code of honor and that she accepts the responsibility of applying this code to all phases of her college life. So if we say the honor system doesn't really work, we are saying that our own personal honor systems aren't working very well.

This fall in mass meeting the entire college will say "I hereby pledge to every citizen of this community to use all my powers of head, heart and hand to strengthen and uphold the ideals of Student Government, which are individual responsibility, loyalty and honor." We have accepted the responsibility, loyalty and honor. We have accepted the responsibility, but have we accepted the loyalty, and to what degree honor? Honor embodies loyalty, according to Webster. It is respect, esteem, reverence high worth; especially faithfulness to the code of one's business or profession.

College is a place where we have the opportunity to develop our own personal honor just as we may develop intellectually. Personal honor can be strengthened in an atmosphere where a general code of honor is the accepted and expected guide of behavior.

Our whole Judicial System works upon the principle of a girl's basic honor, and the Board attempts to guide those who have not developed their own honor codes, into a different line of thought about honor.

The Worth Of A Real College

"The worth of a strong college to a student is not, as some suppose, the mere fact that it gives the opportunity to a student to perform systematic literary tasks assigned by teachers, or that it gives opportunity to work in laboratories and libraries. These are necessary and important, but the student's greatest advantage at college is the spiritual and mental atmosphere of the place. It is intangible, but you can feel it. It cannot be measured, but its effect is everywhere manifest.

"The love of truth for truth's sake; the belief in equality before the law; the belief in fair play and the willingness to applaud an honest victor in every contest, whether on the athletic field or in the classroom, or in social life; the feeling of common responsibility; the habit of tolerance toward those with whom one does not entirely agree; the giving up of small rights for the sake of greater rights that are essential; the recognition of authority and the dignified voluntary submission to it even when the reason for the policy adopted by the authority is not apparent; the spirit of overlooking the blunders of others and of helping those who are weak; the contempt for idlers and shirkers; the love of one's fellow workers even though they be one's rivals; patience in toil; self-reliance; faith in human progress; confidence in right and belief in God—these are the characteristics of the atmosphere of a great and useful college. The young man or young woman who by association with faculty and fellow-students becomes imbued with these principles gain what never can be secured in the same degree in the best homes or small schools, or anywhere else except in college."

Charles Duncan McIver, in his presidential report of 1902 upon the tenth anniversary of the college.

Drives Sponsored By WC Service League Aid Students, Others

Service League is one of the very important organizations designed to render service to the campus, and service to others less fortunate than the students of Woman's College.

Since charity begins at home a book exchange is operated in the cloakroom of Elliott Hall, during the first week of each semester, for the buying and selling of secondhand books. It is a non-profit exchange operated for you. All books can be bought at half price. A notice will be on your dorm bulletin board.

As all charity organizations seek recognition on college campuses, Service League conducts an annual drive . . . the Campus Purse Drive. The money collected is donated to Community Chest, Cancer Fund, American Heart Fund and CARE, and many other worthwhile charities. It also supports a foreign student on a scholarship. This year the campaign is going to center around competition between the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior and Commercial classes. Service League is really depending on your best spirit, and fullest cooperation.

In quick success will follow:

1. The Campus Clean-Up Drive . . . "Keep your Soda Shop Clean" and "Keep off the grass" will soon be familiar slogans to you.
2. The Bloodmobile . . . Sponsored by the American Red Cross each year, this drive for one pint of blood from each Woman's College student is a big event. Perhaps this will be the year that we make our goal: One pint of blood from every red-blooded girl on campus.
3. The Clothing Drive . . . Sponsored this year in cooperation with the YWCA and the American Friends Association. This drive is one in which we serve our fellowman.
4. The Bulletin Board Committee is a standing committee which sees that all announcements are in order on the Post Office bulletin boards.

During the year there will be many services rendered to you by Service League. Service League is operated for you and cannot operate without you . . . your fullest cooperation is needed at all times.

This year our motto is: "Service Through Education and Participation", meaning that we, as individuals are striving through an educative process to become responsible and conscientious citizens.

Esther Krasny
Chairman of Service League

Campus Legislature Voices Student Ideas

In behalf of the Student Legislature of Woman's College I would like to welcome the class of '59 and urge you to take part with us in the Legislative branch of Student Government. Legislature is the body which gives us those laws and policies by which we live. It is not unlike your student council in High School for it is a group of students elected to discharge the responsibilities of the whole school.

At W. C., the Legislature has both voting members and non-voting members. The legislators who have votes are your House Presidents and the Dormitory Representatives whom you elect. However, in spite of the fact that they do not have a vote, our non-voting members are a very powerful group in Legislature. They are the presidents and chairmen of the various campus organizations and they are more often referred to as "resource persons" for the Legislature.

In a short time, each Freshman and Commercial Residence Hall will have a representative to Legislature—she will be appointed by your house president to serve for the first eight weeks. After this time you will elect your own hall representatives and these girls will serve for a year's term. They will be your voices in Student Government, so tell them what you're thinking and get them to keep you informed on Legislative matters.

Here is an extremely important branch of Student Government—functioning under democratic principles, not only for you, but through your efforts. I hope that if ever you have any questions on Legislature or on Representation, you will feel free to come visit us in 218 Elliott Hall.

Fran Turner
SGA Vice-President

Religious Groups Hold Vespers Sunday Night

Inter-Faith Council and the YWCA will present a Sunday evening Vesper Service especially for all new students. The service will be held on the patio of Elliott Hall at 7:00 p. m. and will be conducted entirely by students.

Judicial System Operates For Individual Betterment

Living in a community which is set up by and disciplined through students enables them to gain an education in its fullest. Here at Woman's College, we feel that a most important part of the Student Government is our student Judicial System. It is based upon our own individual basic principles and upholds the standards of our honor code. We feel that because we all live under the same conditions in regard to the rules and regulations of the college, a student board provides for us the opportunity to prove that we can make mature and intelligent decisions.

The Judicial branch of the Student Government is divided into two boards — the Judicial Board and the Hall Boards. These two boards handle all cases of discipline concerning the students which are not dealt with directly by the administration.

The Judicial Board is composed of the chairman the president of S. G. A., the secretary of S. G. A., the Honor Board chairman, five seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and one faculty member who acts in an advisory capacity for the Board. All major offenses, honor cases, and fourth Hall Board cases are reported to Judicial Board.

A Hall Board is made up of the House President, a Judicial Board member, and four elected members of the respective Hall. It is responsible for the conduct in the Hall. It deals with minor cases such as fourth call down, failure to sign out on a permission slip, and lights on after they should be out.

When a girl comes before either of the boards for some reason, she is given the opportunity to state her own case and present any details concerning it. Then she is asked questions by the board members which she can answer as she sees fit. She is given every chance to defend her act and the final decision made by the board is based on the discussion which takes place in the presence of the girl.

We believe that our Judicial Board can act as a corrective measure for the students . . . and not merely as a Board of girls who are judging anyone for anything.

Judicial penalties are not meant to be set up as punishment. They are meant to be a method of corrective learning. The penalty is not so much important as the fact that the student on trial has realized her mistake and will profit in remembering this.

We do not believe it is our duty to publicize our Judicial or Hall Board meetings. The types and numbers of cases are published in the CAROLINIAN each semester, but we feel that in all fairness to the student involved, we can do no more than this. If, on the other hand, the student involved wishes to make public her own appearance before the Boards, that is her privilege.

Within the Judicial Board lies the responsibility for developing and maintaining the principles, morals, and justice in our student community. There is a truly educative experience which can be gained from working with it. I hope that you new students will soon become interested in your Student Government, and that you will become interested in and learn about our Judicial system. I will be happy to talk to you at any time.

Fay Brown
Judicial Chairman

Lectures, Concerts Provide Variety For Social, Cultural Life

Woman's College is "big business," Miss Katherine Taylor, Dean of Students explained to her discussion group. Her talk centered around the non-academic position of the Dean of Students.

The Student Government Association, Elliott Hall, Residence Halls, Placement Office, Alumnae House, Religious Activities, Student Help, and the Infirmary all are a part of the work of the Dean of Students. Since it is impossible for one person to conduct each part of the non-academic life, the duties are delegated to others but are still responsible to Miss Taylor.

Plans for the social and cultural events are made months ahead. The philosophy behind the social and extra-curricular activities is the importance of extra-curricular activities along with those of the class-room.

Miss Taylor outlined the lecture and concert series for the coming year which will include the Marvin McDonald Series of Jussi Beorling, Metropolitan Opera star; The Ballet Theatre; the Robert Shaw Coral; and the Philadelphia Symphony, under the direction of Eugene Ormandy.

The Civic Music Series includes artists such as Norman Scott, the Santa Cecilia Choir, Dame Myra Hess, pianist; Nathan Milstein, violinist; and the Houston Symphony Orchestra.

The Lecture Entertainment Series has on its schedule the Little Singers of Paris, a young boys choir; and Dr. George Boas, art lecturer.

The Social Science Forum to take place on November 17 and 18 has as its theme Southeast Asia, and will bring to Woman's College experts in their respective fields.

The Arts Forum is sponsoring John Dos Passos and Karl Shapiro. In some instances the schedules are incomplete as the college is still in the process of arranging possible events.

In the above-mentioned four fields. Resolutions are designed and considered in each Commission area—Student Government, Student Affairs Educational Affairs, and International Affairs. After considerable deliberation, the resolutions are presented to the plenary floor, where they are passed by the body, they become official USNSA policy. At the completion of the session, elections are held to select new officers, who will make the newly formulated policies known to the proper authorities, and actively initiated on the member campuses.

The job of the delegates who have attended the conference is that of bringing to their own campuses the ideas which they have accumulated, of seeing that these ideas are put to practical tests if it is feasible in their own school situations, and to inform their fellow students of the decisions which have become national student opinion and policy. The duty of the member student is to consider these policies which are presented to her, to educate herself so that she will have an informal opinion about these policies, and to speak with the Intercollegiate Relations Council, which is composed of the delegates to the National Congress, if there is a policy which she may not understand or agree with. It is only in this way, when the delegates can confidently carry the campus opinion with them to the congress, that the aims of the National Students' Association can be achieved, and that both the association and its members can derive their due benefit from their efforts.

The Class Of 1959 . . .

. . . opens a new volume in the history of Woman's College and also a new chapter in the lives of its members. The reasons for your being here, no doubt, are many, but we need not be concerned with them now. What is important, however, is how you use and profit from these next four years.

At Woman's College, as at any other school, the process of education takes place on moral, spiritual, and physical planes, as well as the intellectual. These four planes of education take hold as the individual grows with her experiences; and growth can take place only when the college and all that it embodies becomes an integral part of the individual.

A college is not merely the physical plant, but more important, it is the individuals who make up the college community. You bring new life to Woman's College, through which the college will grow once each new student gives of herself.

Through this interchange between student and environment, the college gains a heritage which can be passed on to others in the future; and the individual gains an inner richness and fullness which through her associations, is also passed on.

RA Sponsors Six Clubs, Program For Freshmen

By Dottie Lee

CLASS OF 1959 — WELCOME TO THE RECREATION ASSOCIATION. As a member of our college community you are automatically a member of the Recreation Association and may become an active member by participating in its program. The Association is a student organization administered by elected student leaders who serve on the R. A. Cabinet.

The R. A. sponsors six major clubs which certainly should be of interest. Our swimming club—Dolphin-Seal—stages an annual water pageant of ballet type with formation swimming and fancy diving. The Modern Dance Club is for those who are interested in dance techniques and composition.

Two different groups, Junior and Senior Dance Group, offer instruction in the beginner and advanced stages. This club takes an active part in Arts Forum. Try-outs for both the Dolphin-Seal and Modern Dance Clubs will be held shortly after the opening of school. Watch the sports page of the CAROLINIAN for the dates! One needs not necessarily be proficient to try-out for these clubs.

The Camp Counselors Club is for all who are interested in becoming a camp counselor or for those who have had counseling experience. Membership is for anyone interested.

Golfers are invited to join our Golf Club which meets weekly for would like to receive instruction from the varied program offered. Sports are offered by the season, with such sports as hockey, golf, and football (combination game of football and basketball) highlighting the fall season. Basketball and other recreational activities dominate the winter season. With the blooming of spring lacrosse, softball, and tennis tend to release a little of that "spring fever".

Recreational Sports (skating, ping-pong, bowling, and billiards) are offered throughout the year. The week-end will be packed with fun when that fellow from Carolina comes for a challenging game of billiards.

The Recreation Association is not only for the trained athletes—everyone is capable of enjoying the sports because the emphasis is on playing for the fun of it. Competition is on the dormitory winners are announced. This recognition takes place at the Seasonal Dessert which you'll be invited to attend once you are an active member of the R. A.

A big part of our R. A. program you won't want to miss is a week-end at Camp Ahuforun located about 6 miles from the campus. Here is camping at its best. The camp is for your use. It's just another part of the spirit of college life offered by your R. A.

Many activities have not been mentioned, for it would be impossible to tell exactly what the practice and playing sessions. The year's agenda consists of a visiting professional, lectures, and movies. Members play on one of the nearby courses and will soon be moving to our new 9 hole course on campus. Members must have their own clubs.

A yearly recital is presented by our Tap Club which consist of three skill levels—beginner, intermediate, and advanced. This club affords recreation and fun.

Our Co-Off Club is open to students in and who wish to qualify as student coaches and officials. Written and practical tests must be passed before a student is eligible for inter-mural coaching and officiating.

Each girl is given a chance to choose her favorite sports and activities or those in which she

R. A. offers you. It's the fun and companionships you'll share that make our Association so much a part of college.

Within a couple weeks you will be invited to attend a special R. A. introduction ceremony. Here you'll find out exactly what it's all about. "Schedule of Activities" appears weekly in the CAROLINIAN. This is a calendar of events that tells the time that very special sport convenes. All Association activities are publicized through this paper.

The Recreation Association's aims and objectives are best summed up in these two well-fitting slogans. "Play with the R. A. today and every day" and "A sport for every girl and a girl for every sport." This means you—Class of 1959.
