

TERRELL TO HEAD STUDENT BODY SUSIE WEST TO HEAD THE Y. W. C. A.

Y. W. ELECTS SUSIE WEST PRESIDENT FOR 1922-1923

Mavis Burchette Becomes Vice-President; Helene Hudn- Undergraduate Field Representative

Susie West, of Greensboro, was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. for the year 1922-23 at a meeting of the Association Thursday night, when her votes led the other nominees by a great majority. Miss West has been active in all college interests during her three years, and is at present head of the Publicity Department of the Y. W. C. A., thus serving on the Cabinet. She has been Recording Secretary of the Adelpian Society and Business Manager for the Annual, and is recognized not only at the college, but in Greensboro, for her splendid ability. Miss West graduated from the Greensboro High School in 1919, with a fine record. She was at Blue Ridge last summer, and was a leader in the delegation.

Mavis Burchette, of Winston-Salem, was elected vice-president of the Dikean Literary Society, and took the leading part in the operetta "Yanki San" given by the Society last year. This year she is chairman of the membership department, which has fitted her for the position of vice-president.

Helene Hudnell, of New Bern, was elected Undergraduate Representative. Miss Hudnell is on the Executive Council this year, and critic of the Adelpian Literary Society. She was critic of her class last year, and was at Blue Ridge last summer.

Other officers elected were: Sara

COLLEGE ARCHITECT SUBMITS PLANS FOR OUTDOOR GYMNASIUM

To be 90x50 Feet—Large Enough for Basket Ball Court and Base Ball Diamond

BUILDING PROBABLY RUSTIC

Structure to Combine Best Features of Indoor and Open Air Gymnasium

Plans have been made by Harry Barton, the college architect, for an outdoor gymnasium which is to be put under construction very soon.

The gymnasium as planned will be 90x50 feet with a vestibule in which there will be room for coats and hats, shelves for books, and two drinking fountains. There will be a built-in seats all around two sides of the gymnasium, and built-in chests across one end for athletic properties. The building will be large enough for a basket-ball court and an indoor base ball diamond. The entire structure will be screened in but there will be a wall sufficiently high to afford protection from the weather, thus combining the best features of both the indoor and open air gymnasium. The building will probably be rustic in construction; similar to the Hut. The site has not been decided upon. This new building will answer a crying need which has been felt on the campus for several years, and will add much to the efficiency of the gymnastic work.

Clarissa Abernethy, of Hickory, Chief Marshal for 1922-23

Miss Abernethy is a prominent member of the present Junior class. She is one of the most popular members of the student body, having been active in the work of her class and society. She was president of the class in the fall term of her Sophomore year, and served her class most ably and efficiently. Miss Abernethy is a graduate of the Hickory High School where she won distinction as a triangular debater.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE BEGINS FRIDAY AT N. C. C. W.

Stereopticon Lecture Saturday Afternoon—Meridith Band to Present Pageant Saturday Night

HAVE PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Local Volunteer Bands and Y. W. C. A. Cabinets to Entertain Delegates Saturday in Hut

The Student Volunteer Conference will begin next Friday, March 3, and will continue through Sunday night. The opening meeting will be a prayer service at five-thirty on Friday afternoon. On Saturday afternoon there will be a stereopticon lecture by Dr. E. W. Anderson, a medical missionary of Korea. On Saturday night, a missionary pageant will be presented by the volunteers of Meredith College. There will be no services at the College on Sunday morning, but the delegates will attend the various churches of the city. An interesting meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon, which will consist of five-minute talks by foreign students. Mr. Bland Roberts, a traveling secretary from National Headquarters at New York, will conduct round table discussions on the problems of the union and individual bands. There will be other speakers of interest during the conference, among which will be Dr. Allen and Dr. Williams, both of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Sedworth, from the National Headquarters at New York.

There will be interesting exhibits of curios from various mission fields and missionary posters in Students Building, which will be used as head-

Virginia Terrell, of Raleigh, Newly Elected President of the Student Gov't. Association

Miss Terrell has been one of the most outstanding members of the class of '23 since her Freshman days. She has been a hard worker in her class and in the Adelpian Society of which she is a member. In her Sophomore year Miss Terrell was treasurer of the Student Government Association, and in this capacity was a member of the Students' Board. This year she is Assignment Editor of the Carolinian, and has worked most diligently and efficiently on the staff. She is a member of the Quill Club and one of the charter members of Tau Pi Delta from the Junior class. Miss Terrell is a graduate of the Raleigh High School.

"MASQUERADERS" OF N. C. C. TO GIVE "LADY WINDERMERE'S FAN"

Oscar Wilde's Famous Drama Will be Staged in College Auditorium

DATE OF PRODUCTION IS APR. 29

Try-outs for Cast Have Begun—Prof. W. Raymond Taylor to be Coach

"Lady Windermere's Fan," by Oscar Wilde, is the play chosen by "The Masqueraders," the dramatic club of the North Carolina College for Women, for presentation this spring. The drama will be staged in the college auditorium on the night of April 29. Try-outs for the parts in the play have already begun under the supervision of Prof. W. R. Taylor, who is in charge of dramatics at the college and who will be the faculty coach for the Wilde production.

The definite announcement of the play chosen was made at the called meeting of "The Masqueraders" Monday night. Several others were considered, among them "Green Stockings" and "Romance." The try-outs for the case were begun at the regular meeting Friday night. These are being conducted under the direction of Prof. Taylor.

"Lady Windermere's Fan" is the first modern comedy produced by the famous English playwright, Oscar Fingall O'Flahertee Wills Wilde, Chandler, in his "Aspects of Modern Drama," declares it to be the best play produced by Wilde. It was first staged in 1892 at London and has enjoyed immense popularity both abroad and in America. The brilliance of its dialogue among the

VIRGINIA TERRELL ELECTED PRES. BY LARGE MAJORITY

Iola Parker, of Rocky Mount, Vice-President of the Student Gov't. Association

Miss Parker has served her class, society and the student body in many official capacities. In her Freshman year she was Freshman representative on the Students' Board. Last fall she was vice-president of the Cornelian Society and Inter-Society debater. At the present time she is a member of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, a reporter on the Carolinian staff, president of the Junior class, and a member of Tau Pi Delta from the Junior class.

GREEN AND WHITES CELEBRATE 22nd IN HONOR OF FACULTY

Society Halls Present Gala Appearance With Fifty Small Tables for Supper

MYRTLE WARREN SINGS

Seniors Give "Flower Dance" and Minuet; Orchestra from A. and T. College

Two negro butlers with all the dignity and aristocracy of ante-bellum days ushered the guests into the Society Halls Wednesday night when the Seniors entertained the faculty at a colonial reception.

Lila Bell and Lucy Hunter bowed and butlered the guests to a receiving line composed of colonial dames and gentlemen, who, in modern days pass for Martha Bradley, Senior Class president; Marie Bonitz, Student Government president; Lila Ward Keonce, Chief Marshal; Joselyn McDowell and Sara Canady, former presidents of the class, and Frances Singleton, a senior marshal.

The Cornelian Society Hall was used for the reception, where a five piece orchestra from A. and T. College furnished old timey music. Myrtle Warren, in colonial costume, sang several old-fashioned songs, the ever popular "Sweet Genevieve," "Seeing Nelly Home," "How Can I Leave Thee," and "Coming Through the Rye." Miss Warren was accompanied at the piano by Marie Davenport in gentleman's colonial costume.

A "Flower Dance," by four of the seniors, was one of the features of the evening. The dancers were costumed in pale shades of lavender, elected Freshman representative to the Board. Since then she has been vice-president of the Cornelian Society, Inter-Society Debater, member of Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, and a character.

By an overwhelming majority, Virginia Terrell, of Raleigh, was elected president of the Student Government Association of the College at a mass meeting of the students Wednesday night. Miss Terrell graduated from the Raleigh High School in 1919, making a brilliant record there. Since she has been at the college she has always shown that she possessed all those qualities which are necessary in a successful student president. When she was a Freshman, she was on the Freshman Commission. During her Sophomore year she was a member of the Student Board, and a reporter on the Carolinian. She is now Assignment Editor of the Carolinian, member of the Quill Club, International Relations Club, and a member of Tau Phi Delta. With Miss Terrell to lead them it is certain that the students will have a large amount of success in everything that they undertake next year.

Iola Parker, of Rocky Mount, was almost unanimously elected speaker of the house. Her capability has been shown by her success in the various offices she has held on the campus. In her first year, she was

Sascha Jacobinoff, Violinist; Olga Steeb, Pianist; and Edna Thomas, Soloist, Compose Group

GIVE ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM

Creole Melodies by Miss Thomas in Costume Promise Special Attraction

Sascha Jacobinoff, Olga Steeb, and Edna Thomas, comprising the famous Griffes Group, will give a program in the College Auditorium Monday evening, February 27, at 8 o'clock. The performance is on the college entertainment course, and no admission will be charged the students and faculty who have bought season tickets to the course.

Sascha Jacobinoff, violinist, is from Philadelphia. He has played with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra three times, the Philadelphia Orchestra three times, the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra twice. He has also played for clubs and courses, and has been acclaimed in the capitals of Europe for his success.

Olga Steeb is from Los Angeles, where she was taught piano. Paderevski advised her to go to Europe to study, but the leading piano teachers to whom she went for instruction, told her she needed no instruction, she only needed to play. She is

Paragraphs

Every dog has his day even the black "uns" since the last issue of "Life" in "Lears' Number."

It seems that some of us can get written up for being genuises if we can't get in the Rogue's Gallery.

Kil-ling! our holiday was fair weather.

The Carolina Glee Club is nothing less than a baby Sousa's Band
with accessories to match.

After all our reverence for the hero of the cherry tree, we found out that he spoofed us like all the rest but did finally confess that he was eleven days older than he pretended to be.

To our new officers—ecclesiastic
and civil—we drink!

We want a new spring bonnet
right now!

Even as mighty oaks from little acorns grow also do dangerous looking fires from little cans of heat. By all means use that heat but don't turn it upside down under the bed.

Every time we try to contract
spring fever it gets all wintery
again.

There is not only safety but necessity in numbers when voting is on the program.

Be it ever so dudeish, music hath its charms. See and hear the Carolina Glee Club perform.

Even when spring comes, the college girl must sing, "O, where is my wondering boy tonight?"

We can dance under the blossoms
of the apricot tree in February.
Isn't that spring?

In books lie buried treasures but like must treasures we find them
hard to dig out.

THE FRESHMAN PROBLEM

One of the problems of the new Student Government officers is the rather large problem of 800 Freshmen for next year. All of us know
—though we cannot imagine why—
that the present Freshman class has
in a way failed to catch the spirit of things here and, as a result, is incapable of giving much constructive help to the increased number who are to come in in the fall. Knowing this, it is time that the thinking few on the campus turn their brain power toward some plan of reaching and influencing in the right direction the big class of 1926. They will come here right out of high schools, fresh from perusal of books which portray
college as a place where good times
are predominant, where midnight
feasts, rule breaking, etc., constitute the round of life. They will also have back in their heads dreams
of what a college ought to be and it will be very unusual if any of them
have consistent ones on the subject.
As a result, it will be hard for them
to adjust themselves to the new conditions and many of them will be unable to do so, alone.

It seems that the Freshmen think it is perfectly natural for them to be here, that they are not at all privileged and that they have no responsibility other than that of getting away with all they can. Of course, not all of them are that way but it is true that a surprisingly large number are. Therefore we think that it would be a good thing if we had something to make them realize that they are not here for that purpose but to give the best they have to their college and, thus, to take from it the best that it has to give.
Someone has suggested—a Freshman in fact did it—that the Freshmen do not know what they are supposed to do and that blissful ignorance is the reason that they make mistakes.
Well, it may be ignorance, but it seems that a girl who has not enough gray matter to find out what she is supposed to do would be far better off at Morganton, or at some two-by-four school, anyway, than she is here at a real college. It is simple for a full grown high school graduate to give such a reason as an excuse. But,
maybe they do not know what to do
and, if they do not, it would be expedient for the former students to take upon themselves the task of teaching them what is expected. So,
why not do away with lack of knowledge as an excuse? If we did that, we would find that not so many excuses would have to be called for.
One plan for this is that of compiling a list of rules and regulations, a list of college ideals, the college
song and several traditions about a Freshman's position in a college campus, into a pamphlet. Then, when the letters of admittance to the college are sent to them, or sometime during the summer, send this pamphlet along and suggest to them
that they memorize everything in it.
A mere suggestion is not all of the bargain though, for we would suggest that, in the fall after they get here, they be divided into sections of 5 or 10 and for a few minutes be given over to the Juniors and Seniors who hear them repeat from memory
the things listed in the pamphlet. It might not solve the problem entirely
but it is certain that—after this—no Freshman could say that they wanted to do right but they just did not know how right was. Then, too, they would have down in black and white
the things that goto make up college spirit, a thing which has at times
been called intangible but something which is more real and tangible than most people think.

Y. W. C. A. GIVES SURPRISE
GEO. WASHINGTON PARTY

The Y. W. C. A. gave a surprise
George Washington party at the Hut
Wednesday night. Mrs. Katherine Eddy gave a very interesting talk on Chinese customs, the most interesting points discussed being the betrothal and marriage of the Chinese. After the talk on the Chinese Mrs. Eddy charmed her audience with several stories.
Eleanor Hill then lead some songs
sung to Mrs. Eddy. Mavis Burchette

sang "Sunset Song," and "Where My Caravan Is Resting." Music for the evening was furnished by Nelle Folger. Those present were both surprised and delighted by a shower of candy kisses, being rained upon them. While the refreshments were being served "Sweet Kisses" was played.

The party was planned and directed by Helene Hudnell.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATES
DISCONTINUED AT N. C. C.

The literary societies of the North Carolina College for Women voted at their last society meeting to do away with inter-society debates.
This decision is looked upon by the majority of the students as one of the most radical moves of the year.
The spring and fall debates between the societies have always in the past
been considered one of the most important events of the year. A large silver loving cup offered by R. C.
Bernau, of Greensboro, to the society winning the debate for three successive times was made the property of the Dikeans after the conflict last fall.

A new cup, offered by Mr. Ber-nau, started on the rounds again this year with the spring debate. The students in the meantime, however,
after much discussion among themselves, reached the conclusion that the debates were not accomplishing their purpose. The preparation of a debate of the kind given on the occasions put too much work on the individual girl delivering it. The spirit between the societies tended
at such times to become one of rivalry rather than of wholehearted cooperation. The students attending the debates were so keyed up and excited over the outcome that a half hour after they left the auditorium
they would not know an argument
presented by either side, but would only remember whether their side had won or lost. In short, the girls concluded that such debates represented so much wasted energy and in reality did much more harm than good. They therefore decided definitely that in the future such contests should be a dead number on their campus. A committee is at work now on some plan that will fill the place so long wrongfully supposed to have been filled by them.

GREENSBORO PEOPLE SHOW
TASTE GOOD LITERATURE

Greensboro people now are reading books of a more serious nature than at any previous time, if the sales accounts at Wills' book store,
one of the leading book emporiums
in this section of the state, are to be considered as indexes of what the public is perusing. And not only are the people reading books of the heavy variety, but a greater number were sold during the past Christmas
than at any like period of time.

As a result of the taste for serious books the local store is carrying a large stock of high class literature,
whereas two years ago such a large quantity of books would not have been dreamed of for a moment.

During the Christmas season,
Wills' book store sold over 100 copies of Edward Bok's Americanization
book; and these books continue to sell well. The Mirrors of Washington, two interesting tomes, sketching the lives of prominent Englishmen and Americans now before the world's eye, are also much in demand in this city. Over 100 copies of each book were sold during Christmas. The call has slackened up a bit, but there is enough demand to warrant the book men to keep a good supply on hand.

H. G. Wells' Outline of History,
that ponderous subject so cleverly
written by the famous English writer, has sold well and continues so in Greensboro.

In the opinion of the salesmen, the one chief reason for the popularity of the above four books is that the people are reading the book review
pages in the newspapers. The Daily News' book review department has carried a review of each of the four books.

It may be interesting to know that most of the above books were either

bought by or for men; many women
buy them to give to their men folk
as presents.

Asked what sort of literature the average woman is reading, one of the salesmen of considerable experience, replied, "light, love and fantastic stuff."

There is one book which is popular
both with men and women, "If Winter Comes," by A. S. M. Hutchinson.
Since its entry into Greensboro nearly 200 copies have been sold and the sales continue worth while, in fact
so good that the management keeps
enough to supply the demand.

Among the male authors, Zane Grey is the most popular with Greensboro people, while Harold Bell Wright is a close second, according to salesmen. Both men and women lean to these two fiction writers.

Mary Roberts Reinhart leads the women authors in so far as local literati are concerned; Kathleen Norris is the runner-up. Books by these two popular authors are easy to sell.
People between the ages of 35 and 50 years are the most consistent readers, according to the salesmen.
Very few of the younger set patronize the book stores, but that may be expected, inasmuch as the average
youth is a member of the local Carnegie library. The college students are also poor book buyers, but then they also have access to well stocked libraries.—Greensboro Daily News.

EDUCATION DEPT. CONTINUES
TESTS IN ROWAN COUNTY

Misses Helen Dunn Creasy, Vera Keech, and Alliene Mulder, accompanied by Dr. J. H. Cooke, head of the school of education of this college, spent Tuesday morning in Spencer and East Spencer giving intelligence tests to the pupils of the grammar and high schools there.
The North Carolina College extension department is carrying on its general work of testing through the school of education, in the schools
of Rowan county, in order that some idea may be gotten concerning the most suitable place for the location of the consolidated schools which the county will erect in the near future. This work also offers an opportunity for finding a basis of comparing the achievements of students in one and two teacher schools with those who have the privilege of receiving their instruction in a more highly organized school. Several trips have been made to different schools of the county, and Dr. Cooke states that the work of testing will soon be completed.

DR. TURNER MAKES HELPFUL
TALK AT VESPER SERVICE

Dr. Clyde Turner, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Greensboro,
made an inspiring talk at the Vesper service Sunday night. His text was "Sirs, We Would See Jesus." In speaking of where Jesus may be seen Dr. Turner stressed the Bible which centers about Jesus, the minister who teaches the Bible, and the lives of the true followers of Christ.

The choir of the Y. W. C. A. sang a chorus with the solo part taken by Margaret Bedell.

After the service a short business meeting of the "Y" Association was held at which the seven representatives to the State Student Volunteer Union Conference were elected. An announcement was made concerning the Ibsen plays to be presented by the Norwegian artists in March. It was also announced that Mr. Joe Rosenthal, member of the board of directors, had given the Y. W. C. A.
a check for fifteen dollars.

Mrs. Eddy to Speak at Vesper

Mrs. Katherine Eddy will speak on "The Work of the Y. W. C. A. in South America and Japan" at Vesper Sunday night. Mrs. Eddy's subject is especially interesting because of the contribution that the college association makes to the work in South America.

Mrs. Eddy will be here through Tuesday and conferences with her
can be arranged for those who desire it.

PERSONALS

Prof. R. L. Hankey, of the department of Romance Languages, was elected president of the Brotherhood of the First Lutheran church of Greensboro at a meeting held Monday evening.

Professor Leonard Hurley, of the English department, is making a series of lectures to the Woman's Clubs of the several cities of the state. On February 11 he lectured to the Woman's club at High Point,
on the subject, "George Bernard Shaw." He has been invited to lecture to the Woman's club of Roxboro on Saturday, February 25, on the subject, "American Localities in the American Short Stories."

Jain Weil Bluethenthal, '08-'10,
was a visitor at the college recently.
She was attending the Council of Jewish Women which was held in Greensboro.

It is interesting to the many friends of Elizabeth Jones, '17-'21,
who has been in Asheville for the past year on account of her health,
to learn that she is able to return to her home.

Maude Bagley, '16, is teaching

Friday Book Club Met With Mrs.
Broadhurst

Mrs. E. D. Broadhurst was hostess to the Friday Book club yesterday afternoon at her home on South Mendenhall street with the president,
Mrs. Julius Cone, presiding.

The club is studying the modern dramatists, and the topic for the afternoon was John Galsworthy and Granville Barker, the program being in the hands of Miss Emma King and Miss Gertrude Mendenhall. Prof.
Leonard Hurley, of the English department of the North Carolina College for Women, made a splendid address on the lives and works of these dramatists.

Following the program the hostess
served a chicken salad course, followed by coffee, cake and mints.

In addition to the club members
the following visitors were present:
Mesdames C. S. McIver, C. V.
Sterns, of Boston, W. E. Blair, and Miss Eleanor Watson, of Salisbury,
guest of Miss Emma King.—Greensboro Record.

A. T. Allen Speaks to Education Club

Mr. A. T. Allen spoke to the Education club Tuesday night at their regular meeting, his subject being
"The Real Meaning of Success." He gave the characteristics of a profession, interest and a large body of knowledge about the subject for the profession. Mr. Allen applied these to the teaching profession in which he stated that there was great opportunity and need for service. In closing, Mr. Allen said "We get out of anything what we put into it. Our success depends upon the interest
and work which we put in to our profession."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY
ABOUT THE IBSEN PLAYS

From a review of The Master
Builder in The Minnesota Daily, student paper of the University of Minnesota:

"As Hilde Madame Hammer distinguished herself. From the minute she appears in Solness' house to the final curtain a repressed intensity permeates her acting. Her flaming passion reminded me of Alla Nazi-movva. Rolf Fjell was superb. More than once he sounded the depths of tragedy. Mr. Fjell is the only one I can picture in the part."

From a review of Ghosts in the Kansas State Collegian, student paper of the Kansas State Agricultural College:

"Madame Hammer as Mrs. Alving was superb in her role. The great love of a mother for her son was acted with a restrained intensity that was overwhelming at times."

From a review of Ghosts in Ripon
College Days, student paper of Ripon College, Ripon, Wisconsin:

"There was never a moment when the audience was not eagerly interested in the progress of the play.
This success was the more remarkable in that it was given without the relief of music between the acts and no attempt whatever made to popularize the presentation. The scenery was rigidly simple, the costuming was plain, the acting sincere, and the story went straight to the hearts of the listeners. All in all, it was doubtless the best balanced company
and the most powerful acting that Ripon has seen. Madame Hammer herself was superb in her genuine simplicity and true impersonation of Helene Alving."

From a review of The Master
Builder in the Indiana Daily Student, student paper of the University of Indiana:

"The Master Builder was received with the same enthusiasm as with which Hedda Gabler was greeted Thursday. As in the first performance the acting brought forth frequent applause. Madame Hammer's stage personality held the audience by its charm. Rolf Fjell proved unquestionably to be the chief support of the star in his realistic characterization of the daring and unscrupulous person he represented."

From a review of Ghosts at Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota:

"Madame Hammer was exceptionally good. Her sincerity was most appealing. Her Mrs. Alving was a memorable piece of work. Rolf Fjell was more than ordinarily effective and vivid. A very good actor."

From a review of The Master
Builder, student paper of the University of Kansas:

"After seeing Rolf Fjell in the subordinate parts of Helmer and Judge Brack, it was a great satisfaction to see him as Solness in The Master Builder, in a part nearly commensurate with his great ability.
As Solness he had a part of great richness, a man of vivid subjective experience, complex morally and temperamentally, and he played it with great power and thoroughness."

From a review of The Master
Builder at the Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls, Iowa:

"Swaying her audience with unusual dramatic ability, Madame Borgny Hammer, ably supported by a superior cast, presented The Master Builder at the Teachers' College

Auditorium yesterday. The audience was carried away by the simple natural, and intense acting. The appearance of the exceptional treats
of the season."

Sapp and Isley Entertain

Augusta Sapp and Mitylene Isley
entertained at two tables of bridge
and one of rook Saturday night.
Their room was decorated in white
and red to carry out the color scheme. The score prize for bridge was won by Iola Parker, while Frances Watson received the one for rook. During the evening sandwiches, coca-cola, salted peanuts, and mints were served. The guests were Sara Harper, Martha Brooks, Mary
Burns, Virginia Harris, Iola Parker, Nell Simmons, Frances Watson, Mavis Burchette, Stella Williams, and Josephine Jenkins.

Stella Williams spent last weekend in Lexington.

Helen Dunn Creasy spent Tuesday
in Rowan county, giving intelligence tests.

Dr. Givler Plays at Chapel

Dr. Givler gave an entertaining program at chapel time on Friday.
After a talk on the bowed stringed instruments in general and on the violin cello in particular, he played
the following numbres:

Widmung (Dedication)—David Popper; Prof. Scott Hunter at the organ.

Second Movement (Allegretto)
from Sonata in D Op. 18, for piano and cello—Rubinstein; Miss Alleine
Minor at the piano.

Garotte in D—David Popper; with piano.

HOSTESS AT PARTY

Lois Collins and Ethel Kearns entertained in their room in Gray Building last week. Their guests were Misses Lancaster, McKinnon, Mary Ruth Angle, Marietta Garreis-
sen. During the evening they served chicken, rolls, celery, olives, cake
and mints.

Good grades come in when good work goes out.

MIRIAM GOODWIN DELEGATE TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

Miriam Goodwin left Tuesday for Yonkers, New York, where she with Mr. Scott, of Trinity, will represent North Carolina in the National Convention of Student Volunteers which is being held there February 23-March 1.

Each state will have two representatives from the college union. Plans for work and problems of the individual bands will be discussed. National Directors will be present at the Convention.

INITIATION ESSAYS READ BY BAXLEY AND TAYLOR

Professor Taylor and Jesse Baxley were initiated into the Quill club Thursday night, each giving orations on "The Sentimentality of a Monkey Wrench" and "The Legend of the Spit Curl" respectively.

In his thesis, Mr. Taylor said that he would be glad to discourse upon a subject which was so near to his heart as a monkey wrench and sentimentality. He stated that a monkey wrench has many and varied characteristics, that it is very versatile since it may be discussed in several phases. He took for his particular phase the monkey wrench in relation to modern poetry, his chief point of attack being that of Amy Lowell which "she is wise in refusing to call poetry." His interpretation of her poems and those of Helen Doolittle or H. D. for short which, he said, might have been still shorter, also of those of John Gould Fletcher which are somewhat, as he says, defeative of the writer's ideas about poetry, were very enlightening.

Miss Baxley followed his eloquent thesis with the legend of the spit curl. Taking the classical definition of a legend, that is a myth, and following the example of the definition, she told the members of the club that she had succeeded in finding the real story of this curl which is so popular at the present time. Miss Baxley traced the idea back to the time when a fisher-maid had as her sole aim the pleasure and the love of a fisherman. But one day, he refused to let her go to fish with him and so they quarreled. Then, he met with ill-luck and because he had committed a crime against one of the most prominent members of the fish kingdom was sentenced to have a lock of his hair drawn down on his forehead in the shape of a fish-hook and pasted securely with honey. When he went home, his lady love was very angry but she soon became reconciled. She decided that she must be like him and, accordingly, put some down on her forehead. The fashion spread until the present day when girls do the same thing.

PRELIMINARY PRACTICE OF TENNIS CLUB BEGINS TUES.

The Tennis club which was formed before Christmas will begin its preliminary practice February 28. The club consists of two sections as nearly even as possible in the distribution of good players. The object of the club, as organized, is to interest those people who have played tennis before now, and also to make it possible for beginners to learn.

The division into sections is posted on the Athletic Association bulletin board on the bridge. The following list of "doubles" partners was determined by the method of drawing:

Group I

1. L. Rankin, H. Simpson.
2. E. Baugh, M. Taylor.
3. D. Hendren, J. Meacham.
4. K. Windley, S. Love.
5. R. Cordle, B. MacKenzie.
6. T. Smith, A. T. Reynolds.
7. M. Hamilton, V. Beam.
8. J. Underwood, O. M. Gold.
9. S. Presson, M. Rudisill.
10. Armstrong, C. Cole.
11. F. Brawley, H. Meacham.
12. M. Taylor, L. Parrott.
13. I. Smith, I. Davis.
14. M. Ross, L. Kasehagen.
15. E. Mann, M. Patton.
16. E. Royal, S. Hamilton.
17. P. Knight, B. Brake.
18. J. Thurston, C. Mitchell.
19. E. Brooks, S. Roberts.
20. A. Norman, S. Cowan.
21. J. Clark, A. L. Masemore.
22. M. Hutt, L. Woody.
23. B. Hedgecock, E. Crew.
24. V. Ervin, D. Clement.
25. Hazel Mizelle, Anne Cantrell.

Group II

1. M. Goodwin, E. Ervin.
2. J. Rose, A. Herring.
3. M. Uzzell, L. Harween.
4. K. Windley, S. Love.
5. M. Springs, L. Anderson.

8. Thigpen, R. Ford.
9. M. L. Carr, E. Thomas.
10. B. Davis, L. White.
11. G. Sheppard, A. Stout.
12. B. Dickinson, J. Sitzer.
13. L. Barnette, E. Bell.
14. S. Mason, M. Platt.
15. M. Mann, J. Roddick.
16. K. Hyder.
17. V. Carter, B. Foster.
18. M. Mills, M. Blakeney.
19. N. Bell, E. Chrisco.
20. L. Allen.
21. L. Ashby, H. Watts.
22. W. Kilpatrick.
23. N. Humphrey, M. Sitson.
24. M. Marten, A. Harrelson.
25. A. Mulder, J. Redwine.
26. E. Thigpen, S. Roberson.
27. C. Jonas, R. Harris.

For preliminary practice a system of challenging has been arranged. The "Doubles" partners, each with their own number, appear in the order in which they were drawn. The object is to stay at the top of the list, and if you happen to be at the end of the list to work your way up. * All those who had signed up are listed with their partners. Any others wishing to join the preliminary practice now will have to start at the bottom of the section in which they belong.

Preliminary practice will last six weeks—that is, six challenges will be played off, each challenge to be played off within one week. Semi-finals and finals will be played off after that.

Preliminary practice:

- Feb. 28 to Mar. 7
- Mar. 7 to Mar. 14
- Mar. 14 to Mar. 21
- Mar. 21 to Mar. 28
- Mar. 28 to Apr. 4
- Apr. 4 to Apr. 11.

Semi-finals and finals:

- Apr. 11 to Apr. 18.

See Bulletin Board outside Physical Education offices for rules of challenge and list of names.

*The semi-finals will include the first eight on the list in each section. The finals will include a set of doubles between the best two players in each section, with the awarding of a cup for the winning section. An individual cup will then be given to the best player of these four. These cups will be awarded on Field Day.

Miss Francis will be on the tennis courts to help any who wish to learn the rules of tennis, methods of serving and scoring, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3-4:30.

SHAKESPEARE PLAYS ARE READ BY C. E. W. GRIFFITH

(Collegiate Press Service)

Elon College, N. C., Feb. 13, 1922 —C. E. W. Griffith, celebrated American Reader of the Chicago Shakespeare Club, entertained here last Wednesday, Feb. 8. In the afternoon Mr. Griffith gave a skillful interpretation of Shakespeare's famous tragedy, "Hamlet," and in the evening proved himself equally skilled and talented in comedy when he read, "As You Like It."

The entertainments were given under the auspices of the Music Lovers Club of Elon College. It was the last of a series of delightful entertainments which have been provided by the club this season.

STUDENTS OF UNIVERSITY ATTEND CLASSES FEB. 22

The students of the University celebrated Washington's birthday by attending classes as though it were any other day. This was because of the new holiday system that has been inaugurated. Formerly the holidays have been scattered throughout the year. This was a great source of annoyance because of the fact that many of the students went home for the one holiday, thus missing several classes by going home too soon the day before, or returning to the college late the next day. A faculty committee met to remedy the matter, and at a meeting of the student body it was decided to accept the plan arranged for the holidays. Now the holidays are divided into two periods, a week at Thanksgiving and a week at Easter being given. This does not include the Christmas holidays.

Miss Edith Redwine, and Miss Mary Frances Seymour, of the Biology department, spoke recently in Winston-Salem to the District Nurses Association and the High School girls.

"What's the matter with the weather man?" question asked. Evidently he has the dropsy.

TAR HEEL VARSITY QUINT LEAVES ON NORTHERN TRIP

(N. C. Collegiate Press Association)
Chapel Hill, Feb. 25.—The Tar Heel varsity quint left the Hill Thursday night on its annual northern trip, facing a long, hard grind with V. M. I., Washington and Lee, Virginia and the Army. From West Point, the team will travel southward to Atlanta, where they will enter the Southern Conference for Southern Championship. Indications are that the team has a fine chance for Southern Championship in Atlanta, unless the strain of the northern trip proves too much for them. The Conference, indeed, comes at an opportune time for the Carolina quint. The following men made the trip: Green, Perry, C. Carmichael (Capt.), McDonald, W. Carmichael, Purser, Graham, Mahler, Coach Fetzer and Manager Williams.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY IS IDEAL FROM SUN RISE ON

George Washington's birthday was celebrated at the North Carolina College Wednesday with a full holiday from classes and a party in the dining room at six-thirty.

The day was ideal for a holiday, and with "The Birth of a Nation" on at one of the local theaters the day offered many opportunities for full enjoyment of a space of rest from regular work.

Breakfast was served at 8 o'clock instead of the usual early hour of 7:15. West dining room burst into song at the morning meal and ushered in the holiday in full style. Those who did not arise for morning food enjoyed several hours of undisturbed slumber, for the day was too pretty for folks to stay indoors.

Some went into town early in the morning, but others deferred their trip until the afternoon. By three o'clock there were few on the campus besides the line of organdy dress laden maidens who had not pressed their light dresses since the last warm spell, some time ago.

By six o'clock these organdy and other light dress bedecked maidens were promenading the campus, with here and there a sprinkling of Marthas and Georges who were to entertain the faculty after dinner at the annual Senior-Faculty Reception.

RADICAL CHANGE IN ATHLETICS AT DAVIDSON

Davidson, N. C., Feb. 11.—Dr. J. M. Douglas, Graduate Manager of Athletics at Davidson College, today made public a statement that forecasts a radical change in the athletic policy of the Presbyterian college. It would seem that the institution is planning on greatly increasing the scope of her athletic activities. The statement was as follows:

"At a meeting of the faculty of Davidson College held in January it was decided that the college was in need of a new athletic policy. Particularly was it desired, that the alumni should have a voice in the control of athletics. After consulting several alumni it was decided to place the control of all athletics in the hands of an Athletic Council.

This council will be composed of seven men, four representing the faculty and three the alumni.

"The faculty has appointed as its representatives Dr. J. M. Douglas, Dr. H. B. Arbuckle, Prof. W. W. Wood and Mr. F. L. Jackson. In view of the fact that there will be no regular meeting of the Alumni Association until June the faculty appointed Mr. L. Richardson, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. J. M. Black, of Greenville, S. C., and Mr. L. H. Wilkinson, of Charlotte, N. C., to serve until then as the alumni members of the Council. Henceforth the alumni representatives will be elected by the Alumni Association.

"The Athletic Council will have control of the selection of coaches, the disbursing of funds and the making of schedules. In fact it will assume general supervision over all athletic activities.

It was learned from Dr. Douglas that at the first meeting of the council, held at Davidson February 4, that he was elected chairman, Mr. F. L. Jackson, secretary and treasurer, and that Mr. H. M. Grey, head coach at the college, was chosen to head the field work of the Council. The first business taken up was the election of an assistant football coach. Several names were proposed but as yet no definite choice has been made. The alumni members asked that immediate steps be taken to assure closer co-operation with the alumni.

When questioned as to what form the co-operation of the Council with the Alumni would take Dr. Douglas said that plans have already been made for the formation of an Alumni Athletic Association and of an advisory coaching staff. It was intimated that other plans were being considered and that they would be made public in due time. He was particularly emphatic in the declaration that no attempt would be made to raise funds for the subsidizing or hiring of players, stating that was against the best interests of college athletics and contrary to the historic policy of Davidson.

For the year 1922 the advisory coaching staff will be composed of Mr. I. P. Graham, of Cooleemee, N. C.; Dr. J. P. Munroe, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mr. N. Bruce Edgerton, of Columbia, S. C., and Dr. H. W. McCoy, of Charlotte, N. C. These men will actually help the regular coaches on the field, especially at the beginning of the season. In addition it is planned to have them follow the progress of the teams closely at all times and to submit to the Athletic Council suggestions for desirable changes. In fact they will constitute a board of experts ready at all times to offer advice to the regular coaches.

COLLEGE PRESS NEWS

Elon College, N. C., Feb. 25.—Rev. J. C. Atkinson, Mission Secretary of the Southern Christian Convention, delivered a series of four vigorous addresses on World Brotherhood here last week.

MRS. EDDY MAKES SPLENDID TALK AT VESPER SERVICE

Mrs. Katherine Willard Eddy, a member of the Foreign Department of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A., was the interesting speaker at Vesper last Sunday night. Mrs. Eddy has had an opportunity to observe world conditions in all of the 47 foreign countries in which the Y. W. C. A. does work. Her insight is the product of the things which she has seen and heard, not what she has read, and it is unnecessary to say that her message to girls of this country from girls of other countries is an interesting one which awakens the sympathy of every one who hears her. She spoke at length of the conditions among student groups in other countries, telling of the difficulty that many are having in continuing university courses—fighting poverty, disease, and famine. Her message, however, was not all pessimistic, for she told of the new spirit of co-operation between certain classes in different countries—notably the spirit of unity existing between students of the world.

Mrs. Eddy is making a tour of the Southern colleges to give this great message to Southern students. While in Greensboro she spoke at Greensboro college twice and addressed several gatherings at the City Association.

ELON COLLEGE OBSERVES WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Elon College, N. C., Feb. 25.—Extensive preparations were made here for a celebration on George Washington's birthday. All of the college dining halls were decorated for the occasion and at five o'clock the Clio annual dinner was served by the Clio Literary Society. At eight p. m. the Society gave its annual entertainment in the College Auditorium. The entertainment this year was in the form of a play entitled: "For the Love of Johnny," by Harry Hamilton.

quarters. The conference will close with the meeting on Sunday night which the delegates hope to make the grand climax of the entire conference. These meetings will be of interest to everyone, whether a student volunteer or not, and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

On Saturday, the delegates will be entertained at a luncheon by the two local bands, in the Y. W. C. A. Hut. After the pageant on Saturday evening, the two local Y. W. C. A. Cabinets will entertain the visitors in the Y. W. C. A. Hut. Anything which the students of the college can do to welcome these delegates and make them feel that they are really at home, will be greatly appreciated by the band.

GREEN AND WHITES CELEBRATE 22ND IN HONOR FACULTY

pink, green and blue. The dancers were Grace Forney, Julia Mae Sutherland, Elizabeth Foust and Sarah Canady. Rose Lee Watts accompanied the dancers.

After two hours of dancing of both the modern fox trot and the old-fashioned Virginia Reel each senior escorted a member of the faculty into the Adelphian Hall where supper was served. The scene here presented an unique and unusually attractive appearance. Fifty small tables, each holding a crystal candle stick with a red or white lighted candle, and decorated with frilled white paper, cherry doilies, and red baskets filled with mints. The room was lighted by candle light. The stage was banked with palms and blooming plants.

Twenty seniors, dressed as colonial maidens served chicken salad, wafers, coffee and mints.

During the course Marie Bonitz, as a colonial gallant, and Frances Singleton, as an old-fashioned belle in hoopskirts and flowered taffeta, danced the Minuet. Marie Davenport played the accompaniment. Myrtle Warren sang "In the Gloaming," "Nelly Gray," and "If You Have a Sweetheart." The last was quite popular and was encored.

The guests were then called upon for entertainment and responded nobly. Mr. William Wright, Professor George Scott-Hunter, Professor L. B. Hurley, and Professor C. A. Williams sang various and sundry songs relating to love, religion, and business. Professor Taylor made a speech to the Seniors, throwing many bouquets for the entertainment and pleasure of the evening.

The orchestra closed the party with "Good Night, Ladies."

Sallie Tucker had charge of the arrangements and much of the success of the party was due to her management.

Now that exams. are over and we've started over all anew, who has the clean sheet, the students or the faculty?

Even if you do keep on getting your lessons, you never get them all.

VIRGINIA TERRELL ELECTED PRES. BY LARGE MAJORITY

ter member of Tau Phi Delta. Clarissa Abernethy, of Hickory, was chosen for chief marshal next year. She was president of her class in her Sophomore year and while she has been at the college has shown remarkable ability in leadership.

Other officers elected at the meeting are: Cheer leader, Alberta Thompson; fire-chief, Mildred Mann; secretary, Annie Hornaday, and treasurer, Nannie Earle.

GRIFFES GROUP TO APPEAR IN CONCERT AT N. C. C. MONDAY

recognized abroad as well as in America.

Edna Thomas is from New Orleans, and most of her songs are of the French Creoles, Spanish Creoles and Negro Creoles, of whose work she has made exhaustive study. Before the war she studied in Paris under Jean de Reske, and during the war spent several years behind the lines singing for the soldiers. Wearing an old ante-bellum costume which was bequeathed to her by an old Creole aristocrat, she adds a piquant note to her programs.

The following program will be given Tuesday night:

- I. Voi che Sapate - Mozart
Lungi dal Carohene - Secchi

The Griffes Group

- II. Romance - Rachmaninoff
Fancy - Burley
Hebrew Melody - Achron
Bohemian Airs - Sarasate
Jacobinoff, Violinist

- III. Valse, op. 43 - Chopin
Hark, Hark, The Lark - Schubert-Liszt
Lake at Evening - Charles T. Griffes

- La Campanella - Paganini-Liszt
Olga Steeb, Pianist

- IV. Creole - Negro Songs
from the Plantations of Louisiana
Edna Thomas, Mezzo Contralto

NOTE: These quaint songs collected by Edna Thomas are melodies which have been sung on the plantations of her home state, Louisiana, for generations. They are quite different from the "Spirituals" in dialect, subject matter, and musical construction, because the slaves formerly owned by the Creoles spoke a patois and lived in a manner different from other negro slaves. Miss Thomas sings these songs in a crinoline costume dating from the early forties.

- V. In Silent Woods - Rimsky-Korsakoff
The Rose has Charmed the Nightingale - Rimsky-Korsakoff
Griffes Group

It isn't necessary to dress up and put up a stiff bluff all the time, but merely during spring campaign.

minor as well as the major characters is an important factor in the success of the drama. It is a play of modern English society and in the brilliance of its wit rivals Shaw's "You Can Never Tell." This, however, has more action than is found in a Shaw play.

There are sixteen characters in "Lady Windermere's Fan," the four more important being Mrs. Erlyn, Lady Windermere, Lord Windermere and Lord Darlington. These will demand skillful interpretation but as the material in the "Masqueraders" represents the best dramatic talent in the college it is expected that the production will be a success.

Oscar Wilde is widely known, his plays being perhaps the most original contribution to English drama of the period. Some of his best known works besides "Lady Windermere's Fan" are "Salome," "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Ideal Husband."

ADDRESS MADE TO LENOIR STUDENTS BY DR. VOIGHT

(Collegiate News Service)

Lenoir College was honored by a short visit from Dr. Voight, Dean of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Columbia, in the first few days of this week. While here Dr. Voight delivered three addresses, Sunday morning to the Diakonian Club, St. Andrews Congregation, and Monday morning to the student body at chapel exercises.

The budding school ma'ams look forward to an independent career in some ways, since they sign only one contract annually.

It isn't hard to believe in ground hog. In fact we experience him every day.
