APO brothers Mickey Blaylock and Pat O'Doherty help Charlene Martin register her bicycle.

Campus security aided by new bicycle patrol

Campus Security Services this year will have a new method of patrolling campus — a bike patrol. Odell Hardware Co., a local firm, has donated a 3-speed men's bicycle to the Security Services. The new bicycle will allow officers to patrol areas that may be inaccessible to patrol cars, yet still be too large an area for a foot patrol.

Director of Security Jim Blevins said recently that students must learn to exercise precaution in regards to their own personal and property protection. Each student must make sure valuables are locked up and hidden when left in a dorm room. The room door should be locked whenever the room is unoccupied.

For their own protection, students should not walk alone at night and only in well-lighted areas. Blevins cited the Students' Handbook, which says that Peabody Park (northeast corner of campus), the golf course, the area in front of the Chancellor's home, and the park in front of the administration building are all off limits to students after dark.

If a student must go out alone at night, some form of weapon should be readily available. An open ball point pen, pencil, hat pin, or butane lighter are all good safety devices.

No valuables should be left visible inside a parked car even when locked. Place all valuables in the car's trunk.

Co-Ops replace O.A.s in orientation change

by Kevin Moore

By the end of the week, this year's freshman class will stand a lot better chance of survival at UNC-G than those of the past. For eight months, a group of students have put a lot of effort into making the students' first year at the University a bit easier.

The group is the Student Orientation Committee, twelve students who have given most of their spring and summer to the project. Under the direction of Ms. Tru Blue, the Committee has drastically changed the mode of orientation. Perhaps the most obvious change is the disappearance of the O.A. (Orientation Assistant) and the

APO holds bike registration

by Carol Brooks

As a result of the rising number of bicycles on campus and the number of bicycle larcenies reported last year, students will be given the opportunity this year to receive a free bicycle permit.

Alpha Phi Omega (APO) and the securities services of UNC-G are sponsoring a bicycle registration on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 4 and 5 (rain date: Sept. 6). The locations and times for both days are: 1) west of the dining hall at the corner of Gray and North Drives from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., 2) front of Moore/Strong dorms from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and, 3) between Forney and Administration buildings from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

All students wishing to have their bicycles registered are urged to bring them by one of these locations. The serial number and make of the bicycle will be recorded along with the student's name and address. The Student will then receive a permit sticker to place on the bicycle. There is no charge for the registration.

Serial numbers and permit numbers will go on record both in the office of Security Services at UNC-G and with the City of Greensboro. Director of Security Jim Blevins says he feels the registration of the bicycles will greatly reduce the number of bicycle larcenies and will also aid in the recovery of stolen bicycles.

Lowery named dean of student activities

UNC-G News Bureau

Clifford B. Lowery, director of student activities at Guilford College since 1967, has resigned that position to accept appointment as dean of student activities at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

As dean of student activities, Lowery will be responsible for the program in Elliott Hall. He also will coordinate and assist in the planning and programming of all student organizations on campus.

"I feel this University is most fortunate in securing a man of Cliff's proven ability," stated James H. Allen, vice chancellor for student affairs, UNC-G. "He brings an extremely fine background to this job, and I know he is going to work hard to make our student union the center of students' lives during the time they are not in class.

Before his new appointment, Lowery served approximately six years as director of student activities at Guilford College. He received his B.A. from Wake Forest University, where he was president of the student body, and his M.Ed. from UNC-G. In addition, he has nearly completed his doctoral degree in education at UNC-G.

Organizations to hold open house

On Wednesday, August 29, from 1-6 p.m., the Orientation Committee will sponsor an open house of all student organizations for incoming freshman and transfer students.

The open house will be held in Elliott Hall.

This is an opportunity for all new students to learn about different organizations on campus and to become a part of them. Each organization will have a staff on hand to answer any questions regarding the organization.

Attention

The CAROLINIAN will hold a meeting on Thursday night, August 30, at 7:00 o'clock for all undergraduate students interested in working for the paper. The meeting will be held in the Cary offices at 201 Elliott Hall. All returning staff members should also attend. If you interested but can't attend, contact the office at 5227 or 5339.

'I could've sworn the library was over this way.'

Comment.....

The CAROLINIAN is the student newspaper of UNC-G. Notice the word student. Nothing on this campus can function without the aid of students, the newspaper especially. Thus, it is up to the students to notify the Cary of anything they want in the paper.

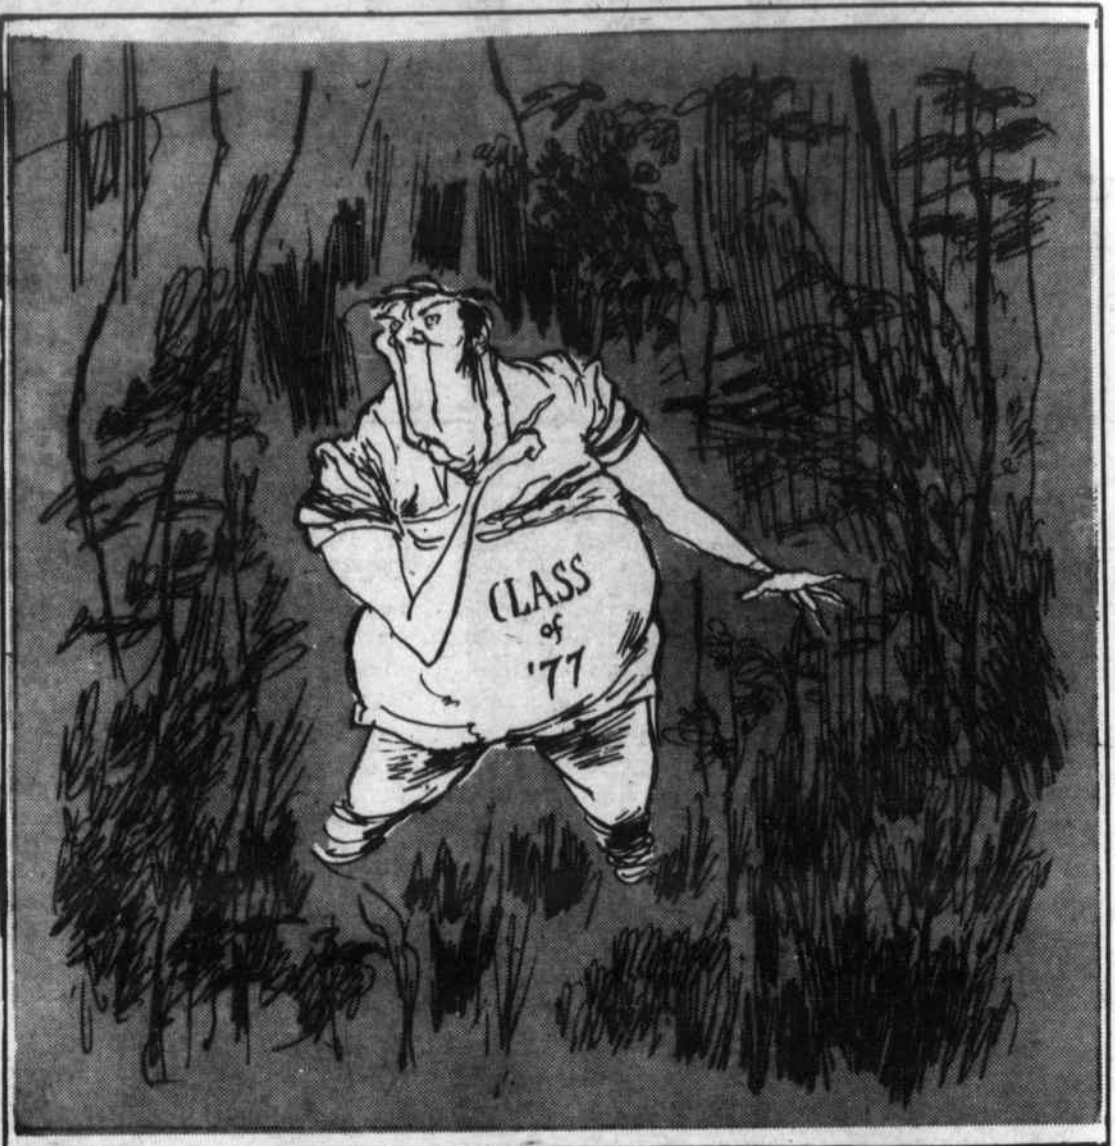

This issue is an orientation edition, geared to familiarize students with the campus. Many, although not all, campus organizations are described in the hopes that students will become involved in them. Open House for these organizations is August 29.

All letters to the editor will be considered as publishable within the limits of decency and good taste. They should be no longer than 300 words and should be typed double-spaced on a 60-space line. Each letter must contain the author's name, address, and phone number. This information may be withheld upon request.

All unsigned editorials are by the editor-in-chief but guest editorials are welcome.

Deadlines are 12:00 Noon Tuesday for the Thursday paper and 12:00 Noon Friday for the Monday edition. No articles submitted after these times will be printed in the upcoming issue.

The CAROLINIAN now issues an invitation to any student on campus to become a member of the staff.

Rewards come slowly to women professors

Women comprise 22.5 percent of the Nation's 254,930 full-time college and university faculty members on nine-and-ten month contracts and receive average salaries that are almost $2,500 less than their male counterparts, HEW's Office of Education (OE) announced today.

Compiled by OE's National Center for Educational Statistics, the data represents estimates for the 1972-73 school year and deal with instructional faculty in public and private institutions of higher education in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and outlying areas. These preliminary figures reveal that colleges and universities employ 197,572,297 women on nine and ten month contracts and that the male faculty members earn an average salary of $14,352 annually, while females receive $11,865.

The salary gap is widest in the Nation's universities, where men receive an average salary of $15,829 compared with $12,325 for women, and it is smallest at two-year colleges where the figures are $12,889 and $11,862 respectively.

The survey also reveals that only 9.7 percent or 5,565 of all female faculty members have achieved the rank of professor—compared with 25.5 percent of all males—while 36.8 percent or 21,068 of the women are instructors. Working up from the instructor level, 36.4 percent of females are assistant professors and 17.1 percent are associate professors.

Although no strictly comparable historical data exist, the OE report cites an earlier study of universities and certain other four year institutions to show that the proportion of women faculty members has changed little in the last ten years, rising from 19.0 percent in 1962-63 to 20.6 percent in 1972-73. This comparison (which excludes two year institutions) does reveal, however, a sharp rise in the proportion of women with the rank of instructor who now comprise 43.5 percent of the total for men and women as compared with 30.9 percent of all instructors in 1962-63.

Students to set up used book exchange

The Town Students Association will, once again, sponsor a used book exchange. It will be located in Room 210 on Third Floor Elliott Hall. If the door is not open, please come next door to TSA office.

Books may be placed in the Exchange on or after Thursday, August 22. The Exchange will be open through Friday, September 7. All left-over money and books must be picked up before the following Friday, September 14 at which time all leftovers will become the property of TSA.

You should have your name, address, and phone written inside the front cover of your books so that the person buying will know who to leave his check or money for.

We hope that you will take advantage of this service. Check by and see if you can get rid of an old book and pick up a used book cheap.

Organizations want new members

Invisible University to answer dreams

What is the Invisible University, you say. Where can it be found? Simple. Look around at the people anytime, anywhere, and what do you see — unlimited potential talent just waiting to be used. Have you ever had the insatiable desire to study Karate, Chinese, belly dancing, but never had the time, the money, or the nerve? Do you have talent that you want to share with anyone and everyone.

The invisible University is a new organization sponsored by the Town Students Association. It was begun just last year by Bill Conner who wanted to see people taking advantage of their own talents and those of others to learn or teach because they want to for their own satisfaction and enjoyment FREE!!! As a result, various types of classes have evolved including horseback riding, guitar, Chinese, Japanese, Lonely Weekends, Witchcraft, Greek Dancing, motorcycle riding, Bridge, etc., etc.

Our first year was a good one — other Greensboro campuses were contacted and interested, a Housing Service was offered and a new editorial paper (gripes, loves, anything) SPEAK UP OR SHUT UP is in the works. But like everyone else we want MORE — teachers, students, and SUGGESTIONS. We'll take absolutely everything Sandbox to Flying (with or without a parachute). So if you're a freshman, transfer, or a guy walking down the street reading this for entertainment, let us hear from you. If you'll teach we'll find students, if you'll learn we'll find teachers.

CONTACT. Bill Conner or Debbie Dion at 208 Elliott Hall (alias Town Students Association) at 379-5491. Also watch the Carolinian, Town Crier, and your local bulletin board for the latest developments.

Masqueraders promote dramatic arts

The Masqueraders is an organization for students who are interested in any aspect of the dramatic arts. Our purpose is to stimulate interest and participation in the UNC-G student Theatre. Since any UNC-G student is automatically a member of Masqueraders, and may attend its functions, we urge everyone to participate.

The Masqueraders will be presenting an orientation production Friday and Saturday, August 24 and 25, at 8:00 p.m. in Taylor Theatre. At that time we will announce the time for our first, "Open House," meeting. You are all cordially invited to attend. If you have any questions or desire any information, please contact the office of Taylor Theatre.

Carolinian provides journalistic outlet

The CAROLINIAN publishes campus news, as well as city, state, and national news of interest to the campus. It is published twice weekly by undergraduate students.

The CAROLINIAN provides an outlet for journalistic writing experience as well as training in advertising, business managing, photography, copy preparation, and layout, among other things.

Working on the CARY gives students a chance to learn more about their campus in relation to themselves and other campuses.

The staff is open to anyone who wishes to become a part of it. The office is 210 Elliott Hall, phone 5227.

SCRAM concerned with fair treatment

The purpose of Student Consumer Rights Action Movement (SCRAM) organization is to define the rights and responsibilities of the consumer in relation to the business and University communities. SCRAM's interest is seeing that the student and members of the community be treated with honesty and fairness in all business and university matters.

SCRAM's complaint department handles both student and community

Among APO's most recent projects is the importation of RAWK. The brothers now hope that students will paint their rawk rather than the statue of Charles McIver. It has recently been learned that the cleaning solution used to remove the paint is causing Charlie to disintegrate. Thus another tradition fades away.

Radio Station goes FM

This is supposed to be a "brief statement of purpose" telling you, I suppose, just what we think we're doing up here. By "we" I mean the staff of WUAG-FM Student Radio, and we do just about anything we think you might like to hear over ye old air waves. We will start broadcasting a week or two after school starts this fall at 89.9 MHz FM., and will have a range of probably 20 miles.

Our format includes mostly progressive rock and jazz, some classical, news and weather, and special information as to what's going on on campus. We have just about every record you'll ever want to hear, and receive new ones weekly, so we manage to keep on top of the music market pretty well. We take requests, and are always open to suggestions for programming. Speak up — that's what we're here for. Also, we will be in need of staff members including DJ's, news staff people, and voices for the Production Department. If you're interested, come by the offices early this fall or leave a note on the door of 265 Elliott Hall this week with you name and address.

If you're sick of Top-40 AM radio, and really want to get into the good music that is around, give us an ear. We promise you won't be disappointed.

SCORE works with students, administration

SCORE stands for Student Committee Organized for Research and Evaluation. The main purpose of SCORE is to try to improve communication between the students and the administration. The two main activities of the organization are administering a campus-wide Course & Teacher Evaluation each semester and conducting opinion polls throughout the year. SCORE also does research in areas of academic reform and is presently involved in selecting a new questionnaire to be used in the C & T Evaluation.

Any student interested in these areas is welcome to join. If you have any questions about SCORE, come by the office.

Room 253-B, Elliott Hall — during Open House. If you aren't able to come by at that time, but would like to know more about the organization, call Phyllis Thomas in Grogan (5165).

Soccer in second year

by Steve Whitaker

The UNC-G Soccer team is about to enter its second full year of varsity competition within the Dixie Athletic Conference. There are a number of returning lettermen from last year's squad which will be the nucleus around which a strong competitive team can be built. The coach and returning members are hoping for a good turnout of freshmen and transfers to mold the team into a cohesive unit.

Coach William Utter is returning for his second full year. This has to be a good factor for UNC-G soccer. For any program to succeed, it must have a good foundation, and Coach Utter provides this. His soccer background is excellent. Coming to UNC-G from Plattsburg College in New York where he was soccer coach, he has the knowledge to help build UNC-G into a strong soccer school.

All students are invited to come out and join in the soccer program. If you have two good legs, come out and play. But the program doesn't end there. We are asking every member of the student body to help support our team. Come out to a game and cheer for UNC-G. Nothing helps an athlete more than to have a good crowd behind him. We also need some volunteers to help at games, boys or girls.

So the word is "get involved." Help us build an exciting soccer program at UNC-G.

Last year's soccer team battles in one of its matches.

Outing Club explores nature

A weekend of snow skiing and late night fun around the fireplace at Beech Mt., or an excursion of sand and sea while camping at the Outer banks, or how about backpacking and hiking along the beautiful Appalachian Trail, or even the excitement and adventure of a mountain climb at Hanging Rock, or maybe sailing and sun for a weekend at Lake Norman, or a semester break cruise to the sunny Bahamas, or just a fun night of ice skating at the Dan'l Boone Inn, or, of course, a Sunday afternoon game of softball... this and much more is the UNC-G Outing Club.

The Outing Club functions to unite all students who enjoy the pleasures of the outdoors, sports, and organized trips. The well planned outings cut down through teamwork the Outing on expenses and help to eliminate the dangers of an unorganized trip. Other tasks of the Outing Club include setting up classes in such things as skin diving and sailing as well as sponsoring exhibitions of sky diving, camping, and river rafting.

The uniqueness of the UNC-G Outing Club is that it works as a medium for making friends and bringing people together.

Club members fulfill their responsibilities of their organization well as can be seen in the success of all their ventures. They continually form and build lasting friendships. More than students and members, the Outing Club is people who care for and are interested in other people. The true accomplishment of the Outing Club is the brotherhood existing therein.

R.A. to loan out equipment this year

RECREATION AND FUN FOR EVERYONE — that's what your Recreation Association is all about. R. A. offers many recreational opportunities to students everyday of the week. Coleman Gym, the Game Room, the Bowling Alley, and Rosenthal Gym are opened from 7-9 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 3-5 p.m. on Saturday. Rosenthal Pool will be open from 6:30-8:00 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 3-5 p.m. on Saturdays.

A new feature of R. A.'s services is Open Equipment Checkout. Monday through Saturday from 4-7 p.m. two-seater tandem bikes, softball equipment, footballs, basketballs, croquet sets, and other equipment can be checked out for your use anywhere on campus. All you need is you I.D.!

WE HAVE SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE. We have Archery, Synchronized Swimming, Slimnastics, Lacrosse, Gymnastics, and Badminton Clubs. Campus Sportsdays and Student-Faculty events will be held all during the year. Bicycle races, square dances, cross-campus "turkey trots," and other Special Events will be popping up during this year.

Of course, intramurals are a big part of R.A. Volleyball, basketball, tennis, bowling, pingpong, and a few surprises for this year are all part of an extensive intramural program.

HOW DO YOU HEAR ABOUT ALL OF THIS? First through your Dorm Representative. He or she should let you know, and if he doesn't, get after him!. Second you should read the Carolinian, the R. A. Newsletter, and/or the Toilet Paper to find out upcoming events and, possibly, see your own name in print if you've been participating. Third, take a look at our bulletin boards, flyers, posters. Listen for announcements on the radio. We will be everywhere this year.

THIS ORGANIZATION IS YOURS! WE WANT YOU TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT.

What's a jock?

term "jock." It reads: "A mutation of the male species found predominately in the Chapel Hill/Raleigh/Durham area."

The Committee members are: Tru Blue, Candy Daughtridge, Sarah Williams, Kevin Moore, Steve Shytle, Roslyn Royster, Yvette McIntosh, Emily Farrell, Bill Payne, Chris Jones, Alene Watson, and Susan Branch.

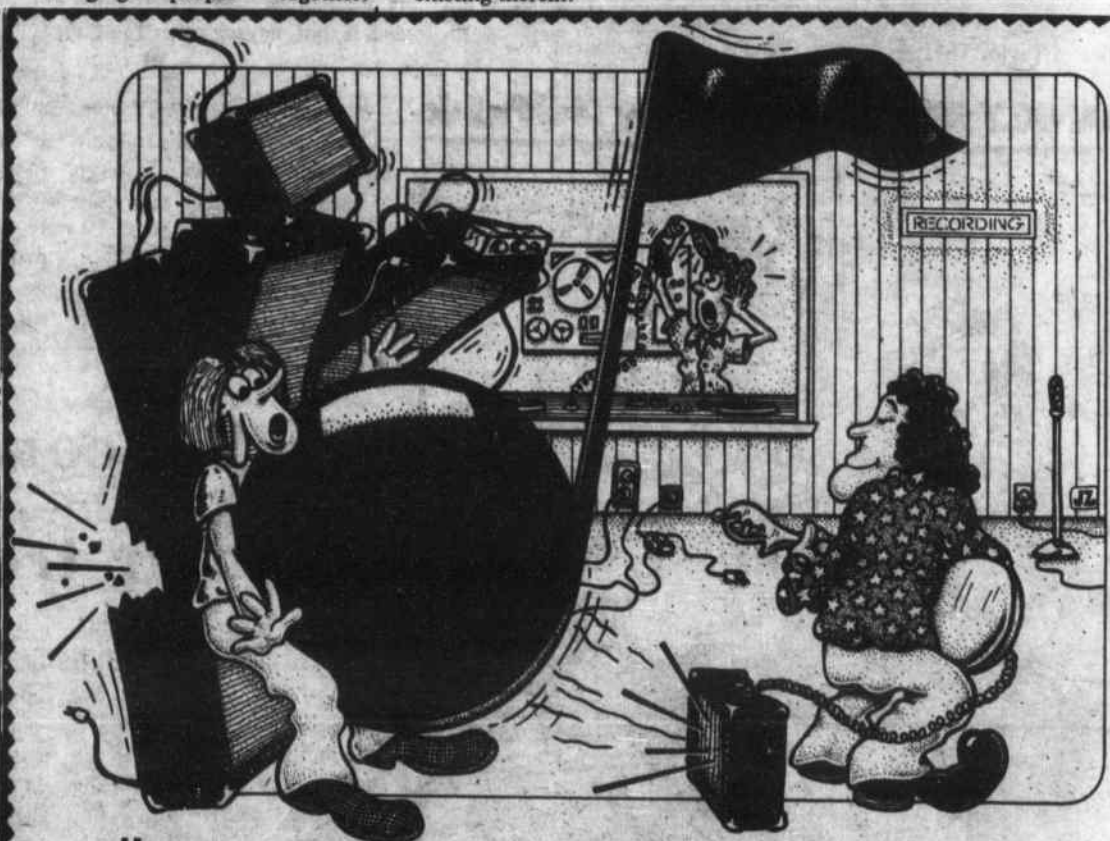

Hopefully the freshmen will find this year's Orientation interesting and helpful. One thing's for certain, if the students fail to attend the Orientation program, this year, more than ever, it's their loss.
