

N. C. C. W. Publications Entertain State Collegiate Press Association

DUKE NEWSPAPER RECEIVES CUP FOR BEST IN THE STATE

"Coraddi," of N. C., Wins Magazine Contest by Default of Others

HESTER NEXT PRESIDENT

Banquet, Buffet Supper, Luncheon at G. C., and Picnic Dinner Are Social Features

At the 13th semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association held here last week, "The Chronicle," the newspaper publication of Duke University, T. E. Wagg editor-in-chief, was pronounced the best college newspaper in the state, and "The Coraddi," a publication of this college, was judged the best magazine in the state. The Carolina Magazine and the Duke "Archives" were disqualified because of the fact that they had at times contained outside contributions. The two winning publications received attractive silver cups.

Byron Haworth of Guilford College who was president of the association presided at all meetings. A banquet at the O. Henry Hotel Thursday evening was the initial affair to launch the convention and was a success in every way. The toastmistress of the occasion was Frances G. Gibson, editor-in-chief of the "Carolinian," and the program was carried out with pleasing success. An atmosphere of informality was brought into the affair by the impromptu speeches and toasts made by delegates of the publications represented. The menu was cleverly arranged in newspaper form and terms, and the place cards were newsboys selling papers.

The program was as follows:
Speech of Welcome, Dr. Foust.
Response, Byron Haworth.
Vocal Solo: "Gray Days," "Sorta Miss You," Rebecca Ogburn, accompanied by Luna Lewis.
Toastmistress's Discretion, Frances Gibson.
Resume of N. C. C. P. A. of 1927, Dorothy Siewers.

Violin Solo: "To Spring," Grieg—Charlotte Van Noppen; piano—Margaret Hood.
The President's address, group meetings, and a general business session featured the program for Friday morning, following which the entire delegation was entertained at a delightful luncheon at Greensboro. Mayor Jefferson of Greensboro and Mr. Tom (Continued on Page Two)

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTION TAKES PLACE TUESDAY

Minnie Walker of Greensboro is Vice-President; Ruth Reynolds is Secretary

SENIOR CLASS RINGS ARE HERE

An important meeting of the junior class was held in McIver building at 6:45 Tuesday evening, May 3. At this meeting the election of officers took place. As president of the class had previously been elected, Minnie Walker, of Greensboro, was elected vice-president. Miss Walker has proven her capability during her three years on the campus, having served on several important committees of the class. She has also been an active member of the Altheian society.

Ruth Reynolds of Asheville was elected secretary. Miss Reynolds is not as well known as some girls on the campus, but she has done much work for the class.
Evelyn Bangert of Corfu, N. Y., was elected treasurer. Miss Bangert is an active member of the class.

The other officers are: Lucille Boone of this city, critic; Helen Rhinehart, of Lincoln, and Kate Caldwell, of Charlotte, cheer leaders; and Martha Burkhead, of Greensboro, pianist.

A take-off on May day was decided upon as the stunt for field day, with Susanne Hurley, class mascot, as May queen.

It was announced that the rings had come and were in the post office. All were urged to bring the money so that they could be gotten out as soon as possible.

COMEDY-BALLET OF MOLIERE IS STAGED BY FRENCH STUDENTS

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," Comedy of Manners, Given Last Thursday Night

KATHERINE TAYLOR STAR

Dances Form Gay and Colorful Interludes; Beautiful Costumes Are From New York

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," a comedy-ballet by Moliere, was presented by the French clubs to a large and appreciative audience last Thursday night in the auditorium. The play, a comedy of manners of the 17th century, ridicules the foolish attempts of the bourgeois to attain the still more foolish accomplishments of the higher classes.

Katherine Gregory, president of the Senior French club, in the role of Monsieur Jourdain, the bourgeois, gave the outstanding performance of the evening. Her interpretation of the wealthy old man of the middle class who wishes to rise above his station in life was delightfully sympathetic and done with a finished technique. Her excellent portrayal is even more to be commended in view of the fact that the part was such a difficult one.

Miss Gregory was ably supported by a well-trained and well-selected cast. Katherine Taylor displayed dramatic ability in the part of fencing master. Nicole, a servant who becomes so very amused at the "bourgeois gentilhomme" that she goes into hysterics at the sight of him, was delightfully played by Lydia Percival. Others who were exceptionally good were: Katherine Tighe, the master of philosophy; Mary Elizabeth Smith, the dancing master, and Maxine Westphal, Muphti.

The most amusing, perhaps because it was the best understood, part of the play was the dances. The tailor boys, the kitchen boys, and the Turkish dervishes, dancers, and musicians were especially well received.

Of particular importance to the success of the play was the elaborate scenery and the seventeenth century costumes which were ordered from New York. Both the scenery and the costumes were under the supervision of Dr. Meta Miller, of the French department. The play was coached by Miss Helen Garrett, also of the French department, and Suran Borden. Mary Clara Tate was the pianist.

The cast of characters, in order of their appearance, follows: music master, Keith Feamster; dancing master, Mary Elizabeth Smith; pupil of music master, Mildred Reed; Monsieur Jourdain, Katherine Gregory; lackey, Jean Devine; Inez Ridenhour; fencing master, Katherine Taylor; master of philosophy, Katherine Tighe; master tailor, Welda Williams; tailor's apprentice, Katherine Redfern; Nicole, Lydia Percival; Madame Jourdain, Elizabeth Murphy; Cleonte, lover of Lucile, Mary Clara Tate; Covielle, valet to Cleonte, Sara Mims; Lucile, daughter of M. Jourdain, Virginia Askew; Dorimene, marquise, Redfern. (Continued on Page Two)

Hazel Hudson, pianist, and Rebecca Ogburn, contralto, will appear in recital Friday, May 13, 1927, at 8:30 o'clock in the music building.

MUSIC SENIORS GIVE FINISHING RECITAL

Louise Cline and Daphne Doster Render Well Chosen Program Pleasingly

AUDIENCE APPRECIATIVE

Mary Louise Cline and Daphne Doster, seniors of the School of Music, gave their graduation piano recital in the recital hall of the Music Building, Thursday evening, May 5, at 8:30 p.m.

This was the second of the recitals given this year by the seniors of the School of Music. A large and appreciative audience was present to hear Miss Cline and Miss Doster. Each number on the program was given with remarkable technique and musical interpretation and understanding.

Miss Cline was dressed in a blue georgette, trimmed in pink roses and silver. Miss Doster wore a lovely pink beaded dress. The stage of the recital hall was decorated with palms and baskets of pink roses.

The following program was given:
Sonata quasi una Fantasia, Op. 27, Adagio sostenuto; Allegretto; Presto, Beethoven—Miss Cline.
Allegro con brio, from Sonata, Op. 53, Beethoven—Miss Doster.
Prelude in C minor, Mendelssohn; Barcarolle in F minor, Rubenstein; Valse de Concert, Wieniawski—Miss Cline.
Maiden's Wish, Chopin; Papillons, Op. 2, Schumann—Miss Doster.
Concerto in G minor (First Movement), Mendelssohn—Miss Cline.
Orchestral parts on second piano, Miss Ferrell.
Capriccio Brillant, Op. 22, Mendelssohn—Miss Doster.
Orchestral parts on organ, Mr. Thompson.

WELL KNOWN PLAY IS GIVEN WEDNESDAY

Dramatics Class Gives Production Directed By Nannie Tate—Class Handles Play Alone

William Butler's well known play, "The Land of Heart's Desire," was presented at 10:15 Wednesday morning in the auditorium. Nannie Tate directed the production and it was given before the Class of Dramatic Expression during the regular class period.

The entire production of the play was handled by this class. Tempie Williams had charge of the costumes, Dot Robinson, the properties, and Elizabeth Griffith acted as the stage manager.

The cast of characters were: Marie, Ruth Davenport. Shawn, Nannie Tate. The Child, Phoebe Baughn. The Mother, Nell Cline. Father, Elizabeth Seawell.

A. A. HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET IN SOUTH DINING ROOM FRIDAY

Bevie Wilson Presides as Toastmistress—Begins With Welcome

MONOGRAMS AWARDED

Trophies Are Presented Champion Teams and Members of the Track Varsity Announced

The annual Athletic Association Banquet was held Friday from 5:45 'till 7:00 o'clock in South Dining Room. The dining hall was attractively decorated with the different class colors. The tables were in the shape of two big A's. Red and white peonies, and white and lavender irises served as centerpieces for the tables. Clever place cards in the shape of pyramids were beside each plate. The chandeliers were hung with streamers of the class colors. Favors consisted of candy basket balls, hockey sticks, base balls, jumping standards, and discuses.

Bevie Wilson, acting as toastmistress, opened the banquet with a speech of welcome. The following toasts and responses were given during the evening:

To The College, Louise C. Smith.
Response, Miss Mary C. Coleman.
To The Gym Faculty, Rosa Meredith.
Response, Miss Helen M. Robinson.
To The Varsity, Puss Butler.
Response, Captains of Each Varsity.
To Sportsmanship, Joe Rudisill.
Response, Frank Rudisill.
To The Future Athletics, Katherine Lewis.
Response, Katherine Hardeman.
To Our Future Camp, Donnie Smoot.
The guests were delightfully entertained with a program given by well known members of the Association. A quartette by Bill Jones, Olive Brown, Puss Butler, and Dot Price was an outstanding feature of the program and received much applause. Rosa Meredith and Frank Rudisill skillfully presented "The Highland Fling," "Liza Jane," an original clog dance by Rula Dowd and Kat Absher, was also very good.

Trophies were presented by Miss Sorenson to the Champion athletic teams, which were: Class of 1927, Hockey; 1930, Soccer; 1928, Basket Ball; 1928, Swimming; 1927, Gymnastics; 1928, Track; 1929, Base Ball; 1927 and 1928 tied for tennis championship, and each received a trophy.

Miss Mary C. Coleman awarded N. C. C. monograms to: Dorothy Pickard, Lillian Dunn, Cynthia Reeves, Jennie Ligon, Majorie Bonitz, Rosa Meredith, Elizabeth Dock, Patty Webb, Helen Tighe, Elizabeth LeRoy, Ruth Johnston, Anne Simpkins, Grace Hankins, Alma Smith, Katherine Lewis, Edith Allee, Christine Hutt, Katherine Hardeman, Clara Guignard, Elizabeth Seaboro, Ruth Henley. She presented two stars to: Bevie Wilson, Minnie B. Jones, Louise C. Smith, Rula Dowd, Frank Rudisill, Joe Rudisill, Nell Johnston, Olive Brown; one star to Cynthia Reeves, Juanita Statt, Mildred Lindsay. (Continued on Page Three)

Field Day Proves a Great Occasion for N. C. Students

DANCE DRAMA GIVEN IN OUTDOOR THEATRE BY ORCHESUS CLUB

"Pierrot and Pierrette" and "King Midas" Are Work of N. C. Alumna

MISS ROBINSON COACHES

Program is Varied and Shows Much Talent on the Part of Members of Orchesus Club

The outdoor theatre in Peabody Park was transformed into a veritable fairyland on Friday evening when the annual dance drama was presented by the Orchesus club, under the direction of Miss Helen M. Robinson.

The program which was varied was marked by buoyancy of movement and beauty of interpretation on the part of all the dancers. Music from off the stage added much to the effectiveness of the presentation, and lights of various hues made the scene even more charming.

The entire program was well-presented. "Gypsy Portrait," danced by Miss Robinson, was especially well received. "May Night" was perhaps the most beautiful of all the numbers. "Pierrot and Pierrette" and "King Midas," compositions of Hermene Warlick-Eichhorn, an alumna of this college, evoked enthusiastic admiration and applause. The entire program was marked by skill and brilliancy.

Approximately one thousand persons seated on the hill opposite the stage viewed the presentation. Miss Robinson, who coached the drama, substituted in several dances for Marjorie Bonitz who was called to her home in Wilmington on account of the death of an uncle.

The dance drama is one of the most eagerly anticipated events of the college year. Each year it is presented by the Orchesus club—a club made up of about forty girls who have passed certain tests qualifying them for membership.

CAROLINA WINS IN STATE FIELD MEET

Inter-Society Reception Held for Athletes Saturday Night on Spencer Lawn

ORCHESTRA IS ENJOYED

Thrill after thrill was experienced Saturday afternoon at the Greensboro memorial stadium by nearly 2,000 fans who saw the North Carolina Inter-collegiate track and field meet where eleven state records were broken.

The University of North Carolina's team won first place in the meet with 71 1-2 points. Duke University came second with 49 1-2, and North Carolina State was third, having 38 1-2 points. The other schools came in the following order according to the points: Wake Forest 16 1-2, Lenoir-Rhyne 14, Davidson 13 1-2, Guilford 5 1-2, Elon 0, High Point 0.

One of the most spectacular feats for the afternoon was the 100 yard dash won by Currie of Davidson, in 9.6 seconds, which comes within 1-10th of the world's record. Daniels of Wake Forest, took first place in individual scoring by winning three events and setting a record in the running broad jump. Spurlock, of Lenoir-Rhyne, came second with 14 points. He broke the shot-put record for the state.

Girls from both Greensboro and North Carolina colleges attended the meet, and many students from each institution represented were at the meet to cheer the athletes. The Oak Ridge band played during the afternoon.

After each event, Mayor Jeffers of Greensboro presented medals to the winners, and at the end of the meet he gave a handsome trophy, a gift of the Greensboro chamber of commerce. The Carolina team has won the state championship on three successive occasions, and will therefore have permanent possession of this trophy.

The four societies of the North Carolina college held open house from eight until ten o'clock in the evening for the men who took part in the meet. The entertainment was held on South Spencer lawn, where orchestral and vocal music was enjoyed. Punch was served by hostesses from each society.

RECORDS BROKEN

Sophs Win Stunt, But Juniors Take Track Meet—Both Are Victors in Baseball

DANCE DRAMA ENDS DAY

Tennis Games Thrill Spectators and a Banquet Is Enjoyable Feature of Evening

The athletic field was a colorful and enlivening scene at an early hour on Field Day, Friday, May 6. After a parade of all the classes onto the athletic field, class stunts started off Field Day with a bang. Events followed after that in quick succession: the inter-class track meet, baseball and tennis games, the A. A. banquet, and last, but not least, the annual dance drama, a magnificent spectacle which was the crowning event of the day.

Although all of the stunts were good, the sophomores presented the winning stunt. Grace Hankins deserves credit for their victory since she was the originator of the idea. Some of the most agile members of the class succeeded in forming a huge daisy and N. C. C. '29 by twisting themselves into curious shapes. The seniors' stunt was especially amusing and deserves honorable mention. The attempts of the college girls of the gay nineties to stick onto the twelve-yard dash without fainting, sent the spectators into peals of laughter. The juniors' stunt, a mock May day fete, also deserves a word of praise. The freshman stunt consisted in sending appropriately colored balloons aloft on singing the freshman, junior and college songs.

The juniors came off with first place in the track meet, although the freshmen ran them a close second. Some of the outstanding participants in the meet were: Mary E. Parker, a freshman, who won the highest individual score by coming off first in three events; Christine Hutt, who broke another record in the high jump by jumping 4 feet 5 inches; and Edith Neal, who broke the college hurl ball record. Her distance was 64 feet 2 inches.

The meet began with the 50 yard dash and the discus throw. The events in the order of their occurrence were: 50 yard dash, discus throw, running high jump, javelin throw, 75 yard dash, running broad jump, 65 yard hurdles, hurl ball throw, and running hop step jump. The results of the events were as follows: 50 yard dash, M. E. Parker, first place, E. LeRoy second, D. Tipton third; discus throw, M. L. Fuller first, C. Hutt second, H. Kearns third; running high jump, C. Hutt first, H. Kearns second, M. Davidson third; javelin throw, P. Webb first, I. Terry second, L. Burt third; 75 yard dash, M. E. Parker first, A. Sharpe second, C. McLean third; running broad jump, J. H. H. (Continued on Page Three)

RAINY WEATHER PREVENTS OUTDOOR Y. W. PROGRAM

Informal Meeting Held in Students' Members of Cabinet Give Annual Reports

PEKING CONFERENCE CANCELLED

Because of rainy weather the vesper program, which was to have been held out on the lawn between Guilford and Student's Building, was given informally to a small group of people seated upon the auditorium platform. After the call to worship and the singing of two hymns Glenn Yarbrough called upon various members of the retiring Y. W. C. A. Cabinet to make their annual reports. The vice-president, Eleanor Hatcher; the chairman of vespers, F. Dean Pleasants; the chairman of the discussion groups, Juanita Stott; a representative of the freshman commission, Elizabeth Moore; the chairman of World Fellowship, Teeny Welton; and the treasurer, Ruth Clinard, gave accounts of the various activities of their respective committees.

Miss Shepard then made an announcement that the Pan-Pacific conference to be held in Peking, China, sometime in August, had been cancelled because of the disturbed conditions in China.

Following this, Mary Lou Fuller, one of the 1926 delegates to the Y. W. C. A. conference at Blue Ridge, gave a brief summary of the conference's work last year. She outlined the daily routine and gave the prospective delegates some idea of what to expect while there.

As a renewal of the Y. W. C. A. pledge, "Follow the Glean" was sung; and the meeting was closed by the Y. W. C. A. benediction.

PARAGRAPHS

We understand that the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association did some pressing business at N. C. last week-end.

The doctors at the infirmary report a full house last week-end during the N. C. C. P. A. It seems that the new malady is called "amoritis."

We thought that the Biology department had caught all the frogs in the vicinity, but we realized we were mistaken when a chorus of them began croaking lustily last Friday night.

If the Carolina Quartet had known that Miss Jamison, moved by their good conduct and excellent music, had gone on the West terrace to thank and not reprimand them, we wonder if they would have fled so suddenly.

The Sophs lived up to their reputations as "wise fools" (or shall we say "wise virgins"?) when they selected their blue and white blazers. They are expected to blaze forth at the Carolina-Virginia game.

Girls Contribute to Community Chest

The girls of North Carolina College rallied to the call for the Greensboro Community Chest last week and contributed $61.69. Every dormitory gave practically 100 per cent, showing how vitally interested the girls are in the work of local organizations. The amount was not comparatively large, but the contributions came from college girls' purses!

The officials in charge of the Community Chest campaign have expressed their appreciation to the college girls for their splendid spirit, and the girls, on their part, were glad to have an opportunity to repay in some small way the people of Greensboro for their many kindnesses. Serving the community also makes them feel that they belong to the community, and that they are not "a thing apart."

N. C. C. P. A. of Real Benefit

Saturday noon concluded one of the most successful meetings the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association has ever had. It was not only a "social success," but also a business success.

This spring meeting, May 5-7, brought together editors, managing editors, and business managers of about thirty-seven college annuals, magazines, and papers. One of the features of the meeting was the group discussions of the various types of publications. By this means many problems were discussed and an attempt made to solve them. The talks to the whole group by such men as Mayor Jeffress and Tom Bost, of Raleigh, were inspiring and helpful. Their welcome of college students into the field of journalism was most encouraging.

Another important part of these meetings, as always, was the coming into contact with other college journalists. Because of a personal acquaintance there is more interest in the publication of that individual, and the editors feel more free to criticize each other. And criticism brings progress!

Bost, veteran newspaper man of Raleigh spoke to the association that afternoon.

Mayor Jeffress spoke to the delegation not as representatives of the college press, he said, but as men and women who will take their places in the press of the state. He charged them to be courageous and stand for the right in their views although they might not be on the popular side. "We need a press in this country that will for the public good submerge their own private views," the speaker said. He stated that the safety of North Carolina lies in the education of the common people—the people that the press reaches—and therefore a free untrammelled press is necessary. The Mayor expressed an abiding faith in the boys and girls of the state, who will rise and endeavor to make North Carolina a better state, because their education has made them able to better it. He welcomed the delegation to the city of Greensboro and expressed the hope that their stay would be a pleasant and enjoyable one.

Mr. Bost entertained the association with several amusing accounts of incidents in the life of a newspaper reporter, and his talk was very interesting. He said that although the tendency of news is to exaggerate the froth and scum of life, the real newspaper does not want sensationalism, and newspaper men should have more religious faith than anybody else.

Mr. R. L. Dixon of the Stone Printing Company also spoke to the group that afternoon and gave an interesting account of the process through which material has to pass before it is finally printed. He stated the value of using different kinds of type and gave the delegates some valuable information concerning the technical side of publishing any periodical.

Following these interesting talks, the meeting was adjourned, and the association enjoyed a tour of Greensboro, which was complimentary of the Greensboro Civitan Club. A buffet supper was enjoyed that evening in the Y. W. Hut, following which the whole delegation attended the Dance Drama at Peabody Park. The girls who served the supper were: Joe McKinsey, Dorothy Jeanne Edwards, Betty Sloan, Christine Louise Maynard, and Mary L. Phipps.

The day was ended with a reception in the Adelphi Society Hall during which the delegates had an informal get-together party. Ice cream and cake were served by Muriel and Jean Harvey and Joe McKinsey. An orchestra composed of Margaret Hood, Dorothy Miller, Mary Mae Parker, Lib Solomon, and Esther Blockman furnished enjoyable music during the hour. Tempie Williams was in charge of the affair.

Saturday's session was taken up with general business and discussion groups for annuals, magazines, and newspapers. H. L. Hester, next year's editor-in-chief of the Duke "Chronicle," was elected president of the association for the year 1927-1928. Other officers elected were: D. R. Carroll of Carolina, first vice-president; Miss Anne Johnson of Queens College, second vice-president; Frances G. Gibson, of N. C. College, secretary; and F. Aydtlett, of State, treasurer. Caroline Harris, of N. C. College, was unanimously elected secretary of the annual group.

Awards were given to the different publications meriting special mention. The first place for the best editorial of the year was announced by the judges, representatives of the staff of the "Greensboro Daily News," to be one appearing in the "Davidsonian;" second place, "The Carolinian;" and third place, "The Guilfordian." The Mars Hill paper, "Hill Top," and the Elon College paper, "Maroon and Gold" were admitted to membership in the association. The question of whether or not managing editors should wear keys was discussed, but it was decided to continue limiting the wearing of the keys to the editors and business managers.

After a buffet luncheon in the Cornelian Society Hall, the meeting was adjourned until next fall when the association will convene at Raleigh as guests of State and Meredith Colleges.

A PROTEST

Last week one of the social directors posted in her dormitory a notice which gave the names of some of those who had reduced the number of unsatisfactory during the last month. In my opinion, this action violated all laws of courtesy. The information a social director obtains concerning a student's academic standing is supposed to be strictly confidential, and at no time is to be promiscuously advertised. If the students had wished the general public to be informed of their unsatisfactory they themselves would have posted such a notice, but since they gave no indication that such was their desire, it was worse than indecent for the director to take such privileges. To make matters worse, the director did not post the whole list of those who had reduced or removed unsatisfactory, but instead, picked out for publication the names of only a few. Needless to say, this favoritism was deeply appreciated.

An ideal social director would be one who could and would guide and encourage, and take the place of our mothers from whose love and protection we have recently been removed. Try to imagine a mother informing a number of people, some of them strangers, that her daughter had recently done very poor school work, although she was now improving! A mother would have enough pride and common sense to realize that it neither concerned nor interested others if her child did or did not do well. We cannot hope for a perfect student counselor, but we can at least plead for one who can play the game fairly and who can really advise and help, and not dictate and command.

In last week's issue was an article, "Quality, Not Quantity," which through some error did not have a signature. The author of this article was Clara Guignard.

Both Teams Play Good Games in Spite of Very Many Unnecessary Errors

FINE PITCHING IS SEEN

The freshmen and sophomores were again the victors when they defeated the seniors and juniors, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3 and 4.

The game Tuesday ended with a 11 to 8 score in favor of the frosh. Both pitchers were strong, however. Hutchinson fanned ten batters and Ross six. Several errors were made by both teams.

The seniors played a good game Wednesday, in spite of the fact that they played half of it with only seven on the field. At the close of the first inning the score was 3 to 3, but the sophs succeeded in defeating their opponents by a score of 11 to 6.

LARGEST SEVENTH GRADE CLASS GRADUATES HERE

Annual Commencement Exercises Held at N. C. C. W. Saturday Morning in Auditorium of Students

MEDALS AND DIPLOMAS AWARDED

Approximately 460 Guilford County public school children who graduated from the seventh grade during the school term just closing, attended the annual commencement exercises held at this institution Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The graduating class this year is the largest one in the history of this county.

Roy Curtis of the Pleasant Garden school won the declamation contest with his rendition of "America a World Power," getting the decision of the judges, Miss Dora Carter, Miss Marjorie Pratt, and Mr. Herbert Kennel over Paul Crayton, Bessemer, "Devotion to Duty," and Arnold Williams, Revolution, "Challenge to Education."

In the recitation contest, Lavinia Wharton of the Summerfield school received the verdict of the judges with "The Inventor's Wife." Mary Ellen Millard of the Alamance school was heard on "Naughty Nell," while Addie Marshall, Revolution school, gave "That Old Sweetheart of Mine."

Superintendent Thomas E. Foust presented the diplomas for the seventh grade, rings were awarded, and benediction concluded the exercises of graduation.

Following the actual exercises, the children were the guests of the board of education at a luncheon in the college dining room, at which time Dr. Albert Keister of the college faculty spoke. Persistence and economy were the two points which Dr. Keister stressed especially as essential for the graduating students to take with them from grammar school into high school. The speech was one of the high spots of a well arranged commencement program. The members of the school board and a few invited guests were present at the luncheon.

Very Sick Woman (to nurse): "I shall soon be gone and my little ones will be motherless. They love you dearly, so after it's over I want you and my husband to marry."
Nurse: "We were just talking about that."

WITH THE COLLEGE EDITORS

WHAT TO DO TO PREVENT CHEATING?

The State College Times, San Jose, California, offers these solutions:

1. Students will march to examinations in columns or squads, and half at the door of the classroom, where they will be searched for contraband notes.
2. Before entering classroom, each student will submit to psychological test to determine whether or not he has any idea of cheating.
3. Classrooms will be decorated with mottoes such as, "Honesty is the Best Policy," and "Think Before You Cheat."
4. Each student will be required to wear blinders.
5. If student has suspicious look, he will be gagged to prevent communication.
6. Students and professors will enter together, and the doors will be locked, barred, and hermetically sealed.
7. Students will sit two seats apart, with a professor standing between each two students. Professors will be armed with blackjacks to inspire additional respect.
8. Additional professors on the outside will watch through peepholes in the wall.
9. Highly tuned dictaphones will be attached behind the pictures to catch the slightest whisper.
10. When the student has finished examination, a lie detector will be brought out, and he will be asked if he has cheated.
11. In marking the papers, professors will discount ten points from each paper, on the possibility that the student has cheated.

A breathing space just before examinations will be given Harvard students by a plan recently passed upon by the university authorities. Any department may discontinue lectures and other classroom work for two and one-half weeks between the Christmas vacation and midyear examinations, and for a period of about three and a half weeks prior to the final examinations.

These intervals will remain part of the term, and neither students nor instructors may absent themselves from college without reason.—New Students.

SOPHS AND JUNIORS VICTORS IN GAMES

Concluding Baseball Match of Season Is Played Friday on Annual Field Day

SOME GOOD PLAYS MADE

The sophomores and juniors were victorious in the concluding baseball games of the season which took place on Field Day, Friday 6. The score in the sophomore-freshman game was 26 to 19 in favor of the sophomores, while the juniors walked over the seniors with a score of 17 to 4.

The juniors probably played better than ever before, although no individual player stood out particularly except Katherine Taylor, who knocked a home run. Ella Burton Hutchinson pitched a good game for the freshmen, but the freshmen were not up to their usual standard.

The line-up for the games was as follows:

Minnie Walker Entertains

Minnie Walker entertained the Junior-Senior committee at a lovely bridge party at her home Saturday afternoon. The guests were received at the door by Miss Walker and her mother. Beautiful spring roses were used profusely throughout the house as decoration.

After several rubbers of bridge it was found that Helen Tighe was holder of high score and Virginia Marsh of the low. The hostess presented Miss Tighe with a box of dusting powder and Miss Marsh with a vanity, as consolation.

The hostess served broiled chicken, hot beaten biscuits, stuffed tomato salad, radishes, ice tea, potato chips, strawberry ice cream and caramel cake to "Buster" Wearn, Martha Biggs, Joyce Cooper, Virginia Marsh, Faeann Pleasants, Helen Tighe, Lucy Taylor Baird, Carolyn Harris, Katherine Taylor, Mary Louise McDearmon, Sally Smith, Virginia Sloan, Mary Elizabeth Gorham, Alma McFarland, "Gibby" Gibson, "Willie Kuck," Rosalie Wiley, Margaret Walters and Ellen Fletcher.

Bridge Luncheon Given

One of the most enjoyable affairs of last week was the bridge luncheon given by "Piggy" Newell at her country home last Friday. The menu consisted of cream of tomato soup, weinies, rolls, pickles, baked beans, ice tea and strawberry short cake.

Those enjoying the occasion were: "Willie" Kuck, "Puss" Butler, Lucile Boone, Annette Boney, "Bob" Jenkins, Rosalie Wiley and "Jo" Klutz.

Sue Hunnicutt and Betty Sloan Hostesses

Sue Hunnicutt and "Betty" Sloan were hostesses at breakfast in their room in West Friday morning.

Those enjoying the delightful affair were Misses Helen Richards, Emily Watkins, Virginia Sloan, Katherine Hunnicutt, "Tim" Crawford and Muriel Wolff.

Little Sisters Honored

"Willie" Kuck and Rosalie Wiley entertained Friday afternoon at six o'clock with a weinie roast, honoring their little sisters.

The menu which consisted of hot dogs, rolls, pickles, mustard, cold drinks, chocolate cake, fudge and fruit was served to Tucker Jeter, "Peg" McClure, Helen Smith, Loretta Carroll, Grace Otten, Cornelia Jenkins and "Dot" Perry.

PERSONALS

Lucile Carrol of Salem College was the week-end guest of Nancy Gray in Hinshaw.

Mrs. Maggie R. Hester of Dunn visited her sister Richardson Sunday.

Emily Cate was a visitor on the campus last week-end.

Mrs. G. W. Thompson of Fairmont visited her daughter Margaret last week.

The student body regrets that Thelma Creech, Marjorie Bonitz, Celia Wearn and "Buster" Wearn were called home last week on account of deaths in their families.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Draughn of Dunn spent Sunday with their daughters Mary and Elizabeth.

Hilda Burnette spent last week-end in Durham.

Mrs. D. H. Lashley visited her sister Sara Richardson Saturday.

Ina Stamper had as her guest last week-end her brother R. H. Stamper of Winston-Salem.

Madelyn Kellum visited friends in Greensboro Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Spratt visited their daughters "Jack" and Elizabeth Sunday. Among those visiting in High Point Sunday were Katherine Linn, Lyda Freddy and Nell Clinard.

Henry Stott of Duke University visited his sisters Sally and Juanita last week-end.

Althea Williams and Madelin Copeland visited in Durham Sunday.

Mildred Vogler spent Sunday at her home in Winston-Salem.

"Gibby" Gibson spent Sunday in Raleigh with her mother who is recovering from a recent automobile accident.

FIELD DAY PROVES A GREAT OCCASION FOR N. C. STUDENTS

ning broad jump, M. E. Parker first, E. LeRoy second, H. Kearns third; 65 yard hurdles, R. Dowd first, M. Moore second, and third disqualified; hurl ball throw, E. Neal first, M. L. Fuller second, R. Hopkins third; running hop step jump, M. Davidson first, R. Dowd second, C. Gill third; relay, freshmen first, juniors second, sophomores third.

Miss Henry served as clerk of course, Dr. Kendrick as announcer, Mr. Hall as starter, and Miss Emonds as referee and inspector. Other officials at the meet were Miss Newton, Miss Draper, Miss Proffer, Miss Andrews, Miss Largent and Miss Watkins.

The marshals for the meet were Olive Brown (chief), Margaret Hood (bugler), Anne Wilkinson, Grace Hankins, Charlotte Watkins, Bill Jones, Monk Henly, and Puss Butler.

The events of the afternoon consisted of two baseball games and several tennis tournaments. The sophomores and juniors came off victorious in the baseball games of the afternoon, although the freshman and senior teams fought valiantly. The score in the freshman-sophomore game was 26 to 19 in favor of the sophomores. The juniors beat the seniors badly to the tune of 17 to 4. Third base seemed to be a fatal one as both Grace Hankins and Nell Johnson were hurt on it.

The A. A. banquet, held in South dining hall at 5:45, was a great success. All girls who possessed 100 points or more were invited. After the banquet the dance drama, held in Peabody park, rounded off Field Day most agreeably. In fact, everyone agreed that it was "the end of a perfect day."

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Martha Biggs to Be New President. Suggestions For Party Given and New Plans Discussed

SUCCESSFUL YEAR ANTICIPATED

The Home Economics Club held a very interesting and important meeting Thursday night when plans for the coming year were discussed and new officers were elected. It was decided that next year the Home Economics Club will affiliate with the National Home Economics Association. The officers elected for the ensuing year are:

Martha Biggs, President.
Anne Richardson, Vice-President.
Mary Blake, Secretary.
Peggy Hoyle, Treasurer.

The officers this year have given their best to the club, and another successful year is anticipated under the leadership of this strong and efficient group.

The club also decided to have a party this spring, and committees were chosen to formulate plans for the entertainment.

JUNIORS, SENIORS WIN TENNIS GAMES

Jo Frank Rudisill and C. Hutaff Make Varsity When Field Day Matches End

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN

The tennis games played Field Day brought to a close both the college and class tournaments. Much enthusiasm has been shown this year in tennis and when the season opened last fall over fifty contestants entered the all-college tournament. After many hard fought games Helen Clapp, senior, came out victorious in the singles and Ruth Henley, junior, and Molly Pigford, senior, won the doubles.

The matches for the class tournament were played on Saturday, April 30. The seniors played the freshmen and in each case the seniors were victorious. The teams for the senior-freshmen match were as follows: singles, Helen Clapp, senior, against Ella Burton Hutchinson, freshman; doubles, Joe and Frank Rudisill, seniors, against Anna Atkinson and Anne Sharpe, freshmen. In the junior-sophomore matches the juniors were victorious in the singles and the sophomores won the doubles. The teams were: singles, Christine Hutaff, junior, against Roney Sheffield, sophomore; doubles, Patty Webb and Hazel Kearns, juniors, against Clara Guignard and Elizabeth Hines, sophomores.

The winners of the class tournament played their final matches Field Day. The seniors were victorious in the doubles and the juniors won both single matches. The teams for Field Day were: first team doubles, Joe and Frank Rudisill, seniors, against Clara Guignard and Elizabeth Hines, sophomores; second team doubles, Louise C. Smith and Minnie B. Jones, seniors, against Mary Lou Fuller and Ruth Johnson, juniors. First team singles, Helen Clapp, senior, against Christine Hutaff, junior; second team singles, Nina Smith, senior, against Mildred Lindsey, junior.

The tennis varsity for this year is: singles, Christine Hutaff, junior; doubles, Joe and Frank Rudisill, seniors.

BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE PLANS SPECIAL PROGRAM

"Community Relations," "Working These Out With Y. W. C. A.," and "Religious Experience" to Be Stressed

PLENTY OF RECREATION FOR ALL

The Blue Ridge conference to be held this June has a special program to present, which has been built up through the suggestions of every college in the South. This conference is, then, the opportunity and responsibility of each Southern student.

The program stresses three points: first, community relations which include industrial relations in the South, race problems, and church relations; second, the working out of these relations by way of a local Y. W. C. A.; and, third, the religious experience that may be found in these relations.

Sports, good food, fire-place stories, and sleeping porches afford no small part of the good times at Blue Ridge, and any student will be gladly welcomed to them, if she is really interested in the purposes of the conference and if she has a sincere desire to get something from the conference and give her best to it.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED AT LAST MASS MEETING

Seniors March Out Mournfully While Sophs Sing—Welton and Sloan Will Go to Blue Ridge

Last mass meeting was held Wednesday at 7 o'clock in the auditorium. Joe Hege, president of student government for the year '26-'27 presided. The entire body sang the college song, and this was followed by the class songs.

In a short, sincere talk, Joe Hege expressed appreciation for student co-operation. The new officers were then installed, and took their places on the platform. Ernestine Welton, president for the coming year, presided over the remainder of the meeting.

The usual business, minutes, treasurer's report, and announcements, was dispensed with.

At this point the seniors were excused, and then, while the sophomores sang their sister song, they filed out, a somewhat mournful procession, and as usual, a tearful affair.

After the departure of the seniors the juniors moved into the vacated places, and took upon themselves the dignity of seniority.

The student government president and vice-president were elected to go to Blue Ridge, and the meeting was adjourned.

"The next person who interrupts the proceedings will be sent home," declared the judge.
"Hurrah!" yelled the prisoner.

A Thrift Policy

Especially Designed For Young Men and Women

The Pilot Thrift Endowment Life Insurance Policy is the most complete and comprehensive Life Insurance Policy known. It is ideal for young men and women; first, because of its low premium rate, a rate which is really inexpensive even to college students; and second, because of these five protective features:

- (1) It is a practical method of systematic saving.
- (2) It gives complete life insurance protection.
- (3) It pays an income in case of disability.
- (4) It pays double benefits for accidental death.
- (5) It provides an income for old age.

This is the policy for you and a descriptive folder explaining in detail the Pilot Thrift Endowment Policy will be mailed upon request to

Armipits Dry and Odorless

WOMAN'S most distressing and embarrassing problem is no longer a problem in more than a million homes where NONSPI (an antiseptic liquid) is used to destroy armpit odors and divert the perspiration to other parts of the body.

Women, formerly victims of excessive underarm perspiration, now keep their armpits dry and odorless and save their clothes from destructive perspiration stains with a few drops of NONSPI used on an average of twice weekly. These women use NONSPI the year around—spring, summer, fall and winter.

NONSPI will keep your underarms dry and odorless and save your dresses and lingerie from destructive perspiration stains.

NONSPI, used and endorsed by physicians and nurses is for sale at department and drug stores. We will, if preferred, send you a bottle postpaid for 50 cents, (we accept postage stamps) which will last you several months.

BOTANY CLUB GIRLS
GO TO MOUNTAINS

By Pearl Hege

Last Friday morning fourteen members of the Botany Club left on the college truck for Piedmont Springs to camp over the week-end. Those having made the trip last year and remembering the enjoyable occasion, were anxious to experience it again; while those who were going for the first time were excitedly waiting for their dreams to become a reality.

The trip up was broken only by a short stop in Walkertown to procure food and water. After having bought most of the food available in the small town, they continued their journey, reaching the "camp ground" about 4:30 in the afternoon.

After spending some time getting acquainted with the place and admiring the unusual scenery, to be found only in the mountains in springtime, tents were set up and a fire kindled. Around the camp-fire the jolly revelers gathered and spent the evening and much of the night singing songs and dancing the "Virginia Reel"; until most of them became thoroughly exhausted and decided to retire—but not to sleep; for about 2:00 a.m. the "Dirty Four," whose names are not definitely known outside of the circle of campers, were heard playing the victrola and dancing again—or perhaps still.

A hike to More's Knob was the outstanding feature of the day Saturday. The climb up the mountain was rather tiresome, but they say the botanist's fatigue is counteracted by the sight of rare flowers and shrubs which are much in evidence on the mountains in this season of the year. The girls spent their time commenting on the beautiful scenes about them and kodaking; while Mr. Hall carved letter openers for them and Miss Wolfe drew sketches of the mountain ranges. After eating a most appetizing lunch which they had prepared and taken with them from the camp, they returned to the camp-ground in time for an evening of fun spent "trying to swim" in a cool swift-flowing stream nearby.

Saturday night, they all enjoyed a pleasant ride over to Danbury where they were interviewed by a newspaper reporter. This gave them the added satisfaction of knowing that they would "get their names in the papers."

The plans for religious services Sunday morning were broken-up, since Dr. Yocum, who was to act in the capacity of preacher, spent too much time in preparation; but the disappointment was not felt so keenly when it was learned that a hike in search of a rare species of fern was to be substituted.

Sunday dinner over, the preparations for the homeward journey were next in order, and the crowd reluctantly piled into the truck to return to the college.

Those who were so fortunate as to be allowed the outing were: Ava Lee Andrews, Ruth Smith, Elizabeth Mebane, Rebecca Ward, Evelyn Thompson, Mae Wells, Hilda Price, Anne Porter, Huldah Brinkley, Alice Wesley, Florence Parker, Ruth Butler, Ila Mae Bost, Vivian Kearns; E. H. Hall, and L. E. Yocum of the biology department; and Miss Dorothy Wolfe of the physiology department.

SOPHOMORE MAJORS
CAMP OUT AT FARM

Sophomore majors in physical education, deserting the grind of college routine to enjoy camp life at the college farm for a night and a day, left Saturday afternoon, April 30, at 4 o'clock in the college truck, expecting to dream that night under the twinkling stars.

However, they were soon disappointed, for rain began to fall before they had gone far from the city, but turned out to be no hardship since there were enough slickers handy to cover everyone sufficiently. Since the food was given the place of honor under the shelter of the front seat, there was nothing left to worry about. The girls soon revived their gay spirits, even though they had been slightly dampened, and played cow-poker, a game which proved one-sided, since all the dairies passed seemed determined to be on the same side of the road.

When the campers reached the farm, they saw the botanists leaving, their arms full of flowers and their faces wreathed in smiles. They decided that this should be a good omen for their camping trip. After depositing the food and the blankets, they wandered up to the little store by the side of the road, where they found a fiddler who could play a tuneless jig; so they all danced merrily. Miss Joanna Dyer instructed them in the art of country dancing and showed them how it was done.

At meal-time they bade the fiddler farewell and went back to camp. The first thing in the order of camp procedure was the building of the fires and the next event was the cooking of supper. The latter was enjoyed much more than the first.

About six o'clock five of the members who were delayed on account of the baseball games came out and finished eating what the others had left. After the tin plates had been washed, everyone retired to the living room for entertainment. A victrola provided music for dancing. A pack of bridge cards was discovered; so four girls started a game, with twice that many telling them how it should be done. Some of the more aspiring members of the party decided they would make a trip to the store to see if they could find more cards. Venturing out the door, they found only mud; so they removed their shoes and skidded to the store barefooted. On the way back misfortune fell to the lot of one, who, like Jill, ventured up the hill to fetch a pail of water and came tumbling down again.

They returned with checker-boards and bottle-tops, the best that the store could offer. A contest was started to see who could win the checker championship. When the time came to leave, Sunday afternoon, this question was still unsettled since Miss Dorothea Sorenson and Ronie Sheffield both claimed the honor.

Growing tired of bridge and checkers the girls turned to black magic and mystic circles. The secret of the black magic was easily discovered, but when it came to making the mystic circle everyone found that to be a hard problem. This group evidently didn't believe in ghosts, for when Miss Dyer told a true experience that was blood-curdling in spots everyone seemed to find a great deal to laugh at. During the night

Miss Sorenson had a chance to practice giving commands. Since one person could not change position in bed until all moved, it was necessary that someone count for the shifting process.

Sunday morning there was much rejoicing when the sun was discovered to be out. After breakfast all walked to the store and found three stripped-down cars on which they piled and set off to see the wonders of the surrounding country, returning at noon to get dinner. This meal was to be well prepared, since they were to have as their guest Miss Mary C. Coleman. When she arrived she took them over to see the site for the new camp of the athletic association. After dinner Miss Coleman had to leave for town, and the girls spent the rest of the afternoon in wishing that the truck would not come back. About 5 o'clock it came, however; so everyone had to bid farewell to the camp.

Those who enjoyed this outing were: Charlotte Watkins, Camilla Brinkley, "Tip" Tipton, Monkey Dunn, Grace Hankins, Harriet Boyd, Mary Kirkpatrick, Marguerite Holland, Anna Griffith, Ronie Sheffield, Edith Neal, Miss Dyer and Miss Sorenson.

FRESHMEN PRESENT
"THE BOOR" THURS.

Muriel Wolf, Mildred Gladstone, and Annie Lee Blauvelt Display Good Acting

LORETTA CARROLL COACH

That freshman dramatic ability can furnish excellent entertainment was demonstrated Thursday, May 5, when "The Boor," a one-act play by Anton Tchekow, was given in freshman chapel.

The play was directed by Loretta Carroll, who had already exhibited her talent by playing the leading role of "The Conflict," a freshman play given earlier in the year. The cast of the play was well selected and trained, and, as a result, gave a good interpretation of Russian life.

Muriel Wolf, who took the part of the Russian country gentleman, Grigori Stepanovitch Smirnov, had remarkable voice control, and worked up an admirable display of temper. Mildred Gladstone, as Helena Ivoniva Popov, a fine widow who was "going into a decline" because of the death of her husband, proved once more the infallible truth that "women always change their minds." Annie Lee Blauvelt displayed marked comic ability in her portrayal of the character of Luka, the old servant who had his mistress' welfare at heart.

The stage manager for the play was Helen Smith; Margaret Hood was property and costume manager.

The ability displayed by the freshmen taking part in plays this year augurs well for the future of dramatics on the campus.

He quit bragging about his family tree when he was told he was "only the sap."—Ex.

SOCIETY ELECTIONS
OCCUR THIS WEEK

Much Excitement Exhibited
Over Choosing of New Officers
Last Monday Night

PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

The Aletheian, Dikean, Cornelian, and Adelphian societies held enthusiastic meetings on Monday night, May 9, at 6:45 o'clock for the election of officers and marshals. The society presidents were elected several weeks ago. The Aletheians elected the following girls to help lead the society during the next year: vice-president, Margaret Reaves; recording secretary, Thelma Partin; corresponding secretary, Margaret Walters; critic, Eleanor Graves; treasurer, Mary Louise McDearman. Senior marshals are Hilda Brawley, Molly Hall, and Mary Lou Fuller. The junior marshal is Myrtle Mae Parker.

The results of the Adelphian election are: vice-president, Izzy Terry; recording secretary, Dot Evans; corresponding secretary, Castelle Bland; treasurer, Mary Liz Gorham; critic, Virginia Hasell. Kate Caldwell, Margaret Lambe, and Lib Wilson are senior marshals. The junior marshal is Louise Dannenbaum.

The new Cornelian officers are: vice-president, Luna Lewis; recording secretary, Jean Harvey; corresponding secretary, Margaret Hood; treasurer, Anne Wilkinson; critic, Martha Biggs. Frances G. Gibson and Elizabeth Lewis are senior marshals, and Edla Best and Rachel Aycock are junior marshals.

The Dikeans elected Frances Bobbitt for vice-president; Margaret McConnell, recording secretary; corresponding secretary, Jean Divine; Henry Miller, treasurer; senior marshals, Buster Wearn, Virginia Marsh, and Constance Gwaltney; junior marshal, Katie Gravely.

NEWS FROM THE
TRAINING SCHOOL

Field Day was celebrated by the training school Tuesday afternoon, May 10, on the college athletic field. The school is divided in two teams and the teams are divided in groups by age and size. Dashes, jumps, and relays were features, also tug-of-war. Four baseball games proved an added attraction.

Friday night, May 13, the Latin department will give a Roman Style Show at the training school.

Miss Lucy Walker, of the senior class, substituted at the Pomona high school Monday.

Dr. Kephart, accompanied by his son, Billy, will spend this week-end at his camp at Blowing Rock.

When You Need
a Car
For a Special Occasion

EVERY now and then there's a social event that almost demands you have a car for a day or an evening.

In which case you'll find it mighty convenient to step into our station—select your car and be on the way—yourself at the wheel.

You rent a car in about two minutes. No red tape. No annoying questions. And our service has this decided advantage—the cost is so low you can afford to use a car frequently if you wish.

The only requirement is that you be qualified and competent to drive a car. That's all.

Next time you want to go somewhere—days, evenings or week-ends—we invite you to go in one of our cars. You'll like the service.

Ride in Groups and Split the Cost

It costs no more for five to ride in one of our cars. Plan a trip with three or four others—divide the bill—and the cost to each is so small you'll never miss it.
