Bonnie Thron is the principal cellist of the North Carolina Symphony. She performs chamber music and recitals throughout the east coast and is a member of the Thron -Mahonske cello - piano duo. Ms. Thron spent eight years leading a double life as a cellist and a registered nurse with Johns Hopkins Health System in Baltimore, Maryland. The demands of her current symphony position and other musical engagements, along with those of a boisterous four year old, have pulled her away from the nursing field altogether at this time. Thron was a member of the Peabody Trio from 1987 to 1991. Previously she was the assistant principal cellist of the Denver Symphony Orchestra. For several years Ms. Thron freelanced in New York City with many groups such as the Orpheus Chamber Ensemble, Speculum Musicae and the Herrick Quartet. She has joined the Apple Hill Chamber Players many times as a guest artist and frequently returns to the Apple Hill Center for Chamber Music in the summer to teach and perform with her husband Fred Jacobowitz, a clarinetist. Ms. Thron has performed concertos with the Orpheus Chamber Ensemble, the Juilliard Orchestra, the Panama National Orchestra, the Vermont Symphony Orchestra and various other orchestras in her home state of New Hampshire. She received Bachelors and Masters degrees from the Juilliard School. Her teachers include Lynn Harrell, Norman Fischer and Elsa Hilger.

Violinist Jeff Thayer is a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Music, the Eastman School of Music, and the Juilliard School's Pre-College division. His teachers include Donald Weilerstein, William Preucil, Zvi Zeitlin, and Dorothy DeLay. Previously concertmaster of the Canton Symphony Orchestra, he is currently associate concertmaster of the North Carolina Symphony and concertmaster of the Music Academy of the West (Santa Barbara).

A native of Williamsport, Pennsylvania, Mr. Thayer began violin lessons with his mother at the age of three. At fourteen, he went to study with Jose Antonio Campos at the Conservatorio Superior in Cordoba, Spain. He has appeared as soloist with the Jupiter Symphony, the Cleveland Institute of Music Symphony Orchestra, the Music Academy of the West Festival Orchestra, the Williamsport Symphony Orchestra, the Nittany Valley Symphony Orchestra, and the Conservatory Orchestra of Cordoba, among others. He attended Keshet Eilon (Israel), Ernen Musikdorf (Switzerland), Music Academy of the West, Aspen, New York String Orchestra Seminar, The Quartet Program, and, as the 1992 Pennsylvania Governor Scholar, Interlochen Arts Camp. Other festivals include the Mainly Mozart Festival (San Diego), Festival der Zukunft, and the Tibor Varga Festival (both in Switzerland).

Awards include the Stephen Hahn/Lillybelle Foundation Award in Violin from the Music Academy of the West, the Starling Foundation Award, the George Eastman Scholarship, and the Performer's Certificate from the Eastman School of Music. Mr. Thayer was a winner of the Tuesday Musical Club Scholarship Auditions in Akron, OH (2000), the Cleveland Institute of Music Concerto Competition (1999), the first place winner in the Fort Collins Symphony Young Artist Competition (1999), the American String Teacher's Association Competition in Pennsylvania and Delaware (1997), the Gladys Comstock Summer Scholarship Competition (1993), the Ithaca College Solo Competition, and the Phyllis Triolo Competition (1992).
