OUR SEBERIAN STUDENTS ARRIVE

Two Interesting New Citizens at N. C. C.

Our Serbian guests, Daniza Arandjelovitch and Olga Dimitrijevitich arrived Tuesday, October 1. They are from Belgrade, the capital of Serbia. Both have finished the "gymnasium," which is the institution providing the secondary education preparatory for university work. The young ladies have passed the examination which admit them to the universities of their country. Both use the Serbian and the German languages. Miss Arandjelovitch also uses French and speaks Russian fluently, as she has lived in Russia for ten years. She is also prepared to enter any school of medicine. Miss Dimitrijevitich has spent one semester in the university studying law.

They sailed from Trieste on the 9th of September, but were detained in Palermo a short time and in Naples a week. They landed in New York Sunday, Oct. 5, but did not leave the boat until the next day at 2 o'clock.

Miss Huddelston, an American, accompanied them from Serbia to New York.

Our guests are very favorably impressed with America and the city of Greensboro, as well as with the surroundings of our College, and are especially happy over their cordial reception by the members of the college.

Suggestion—When visiting our new students, take your French and German dictionaries with you.

FOUNDER'S DAY

Exercises Held in Auditorium—Mr. Robert W. Wooley Speaks.

Founder's Day has been set aside to honor the people who founded our institution. Through Dr. McIver's strong influence, our college was chartered by the legislature of 1891. Dr. McIver had very definite plans with reference to our institution and thought that every young woman in North Carolina should have the same opportunities as the young men had at the University. Dr. McIver spent ten long years trying to impress upon the citizens of North Carolina the importance of the establishment of an institution where young women would become teachers of the children of the state.

MRS. DANIEL AND MRS. BAKER AT THE COLLEGE

Students and faculty stood and applauded vigorously Tuesday morning at chapel time, when Mr. Newton D. Baker and Mrs. Josephus Daniels entered the auditorium with Miss King and Miss Lawrence, Mrs. McIver, Mrs. Brooks, and Dr. Foust. In response, Mrs. Daniels waved her hand and Mrs. Baker smiled and bowed.

After the students had sung "Carolina," Dr. Foust, introducing the visitors, said, "Mrs. Daniels, as the husband of —! And when every one had at last finished laughing, he finished, quite correctly, that Mrs. Daniels, as the wife of our most distinguished citizen, the secretary of the navy, was a North Carolinian, and belonged to us especially.

Mrs. Daniels in her talk, repeated the idea, saying that the happiest years of her life were those she spent in North Carolina and that both she and Secretary Daniels longed for the time when they might return to their own state.

When Mrs. Daniels had taken her seat, Dr. Foust stopped the applause only by introducing Mrs. Baker. A soldier had told him that if Mrs. Baker came to the college, he must certainly ask her to sing. She consented and sang "When Pershing's Men Go Marching Into Picardy," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "I Stood on the Banks of Jordan," Miss Minor playing the accompaniments. As the time was very short, Mrs. Baker escaped with two encores, "In May" which she characterized as "very, frivolous," and "Uncle Sam," a song she sang in the camps at the beginning of the war. Miss Saunders, chief marshal, then presented Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Baker with roses sent by the students, after which the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

Mr. Brown, Marguerite Jenkins, and Elsilene Felton at Bessemer High School Friday.

Mr. Brown lead community singing at the Bessemer High School last night. Elsilene Felton played the piano accompaniment. A vocal solo by Marguerite Jenkins and a piano solo by Elsilene Felton afforded the audience much pleasure.

THE SUNDAY VESPER SERVICE IMPRESSIVE

Led by Miss Graham, and featured by intense earnestness and simplicity, the vesper service Sunday evening, made an indelible impression on the minds of all the girls, new and old. Every student in the auditorium was given an opportunity to tell just what the Y. W. C. A. had meant to her and the many responses were ample testimony of the great work of this organization. One girl after another told, from the bottom of her heart, how she had been helped over her difficulties of school life by the inspiration of the Y. W. C. A., how she had been able to keep pure her thoughts and deeds amidst the many temptations.

We were made to realize the value of this organization and the need of the loyal support of every one of us.

Y. W. C. A. CANVASS

An every member canvass was held Wednesday night, October 8th. As yet we have not heard how many students joined our organization but we are expecting 100 per cent enrollment.

Pageant at Wednesday Evening Vesper.

The vesper service Wednesday consisted of a pageant which illustrated the spirit of the Y. W. C. A. Ethel Boyte was both composer and director of the pageant. She has shown that she is talented in writing pageants and we hope she will continue the profession. After vesper services every room was visited. We feel sure that we have the co-operation of most of our students. But in case you have not joined, consider what the Y. W. C. A. can and will mean to you.

Last year the Seniors and faculty enjoyed a social held at the Hut each week. This year every class will get a chance to sit by a cozy fire and chat with the faculty. One night in each week will be set aside for the socials. But the Seniors will only come one week in every month. The Juniors, Sophomore, and Freshman classes will also have a chance to know the faculty in a friendly sort of way.

Mystery—Why Does the Hut Always Look so Attractive?

How many of us have noticed how well kept and attractive the Hut always looks? Of course all of

FIRST MEETING OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

College Cheer Leader Opens With Peppy Song—Officers Elected.

"Pepper is pepper, and salt is salt, If we're all old maids it's the kaiser's fault."

Is the way the Athletic Association began its regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock.

College Cheer Leader, Lena Kernodle, took charge of the first part of the meeting and taught the members some snappy songs that brought smiles to all faces and responses from all mouths.

The meeting was then called to order by Marie Richard, the president of the association. Reports of class vice-presidents and committees were then called for.

Each class has pep but not enough of it, was the general report. Every one was urged to enter some sport. Freshmen were especially asked to sign up and drop the slips in the box on the new athletic bulletin board on the bridge.

Many interesting committee reports were made. One from Dr. Foust was especially favorable. Lela Wade declared that he granted all requests almost without a question. Namely, the establishment of the athletic bulletin board on the bridge, where the very latest in athletics can be seen at all times. Then he gave the association its choice of a time for meeting. And "last but not least"—he said that sure enough ice cream and peanuts may be sold during tournaments. Yes indeed, crisp, parched peanuts in striped sacks and ice cream that just tickles your palate. "This way ladies, all you can eat for five cents!"

The next thing in order of business was the election of a secretary and sport captains. The result of the election was:

Secretary, Clara Brawley.
Basket ball sport captain, Mildred Barrington.
Tennis sport captain, Jessie Rose.
Hockey sport captain, Josephine Hopkins.
Volley ball sport captain, Nelle Flemming.

The revised constitution was read and accepted. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned, resolved to practice what had been preached.

cially, misses her and we hope that she will soon be with us again.

The Carolinian welcomes the following new members on its staff:
Marie Kinard, athletic editor; reporters, Joe Causey, Bertie Lee

At the regular mass meeting the students decided that the newspaper should retain the name of Carolinian, and to change the name of our annual. We, the newspaper staff appreciate the decision and hope that we may return your kindness by giving newsier news to you.

WELCOME!

Our welcome to you, our Serbian guests and citizens, Olga Dimitrije-vith and Daniza Arandjelovith, has not only stood the test of time—for we have waited weeks for your coming—without losing its warmth, but it is growing more and more as you stay. We are glad that we have the opportunity of welcoming you, not just to our college but to North Carolina and to America. We trust that you will take the best in us as representing our college and country and not judge them by our weaknesses. Working with you, we want to bring Serbia and America into closer bonds of mutual helpfulness in spite of the thousands of miles that separate them.

Speaking for the Students' Self-government Association, I welcome you as fellow-citizens in our college democracy and pledge to you a square deal. The Association offers you an opportunity to exercise the ideals of personal responsibility, self-control, and loyalty—the ideals of true citizenship.

We hope that you will love our college and our land as much as we do and we realize that it is up to us to keep it worthy of your love and loyalty.

LOIS WILSON.

"MARTIAL" LAW.

From the Chief Marshal.

Think, girls!—That is the order of the day. Our mass-meeting almost turned itself into a convention to define the word courtesy, and it is well that it did. In drawing conclusions we will decide that courtesy is just thinking—thinking of the other fellow first. If we do that many of our campus problems will be solved. If we would think of the work and money it takes to keep our campus pretty, and the pride it instills into our every heart when it is kept well, we would stop cutting corners, walking on the grass, and dropping trash on the campus.

If we would think of the effect on others and the reaction on us when we feel "dressed up," we would all fix our hair and powder our noses before dinner and go into the dining room in high spirits. If we would think how much good one smile had done us, we would all smile and soon there'd be miles and miles of smiles to make this place finer than ever. If we would think about six times a day to be courteous, about forty-eight hundred thoughtful deeds would occur on our campus every day. Girls, let's think —to be courteous!

"AS WE SERVE."

By Katharine Wilson, '19.

Through trying hours, through weary days,

O'er new and hard and untrod ways

In places strange and far away,

From Alma Mater's loving sway Your daughters to your name are true,

And turn, O college dear, to you.

'Mid weal and woe, 'mid joy and pain

Our motto "Service DOES remain
Our constant guide, a shining light
To guide our thoughts and acts aright,

This service oft we might not do

Were it not, college dear, for you.

Although our hearts in sadness yearn
To Alma Mater to return
We realize oftentimes that we Are just where you would have us be,

So, as to Duty we are true

We do it, college dear, for you.

SENIORS ELECT THEIR NEW OFFICERS.

Last Thursday night marked the climax of Senior enthusiasm. An hour before the appointed time, the Seniors, minus all their dignity, were seen one minute here, one minute there. At eight-thirty, "1920 were a loyal band" told the secret. An hour later we were wiser than before for we then knew the new Senior officers:

Sybil Barrington, President.
Elizabeth McLean, Vice President.
Hessie Blankenship, Secretary.
Ida Owens, Treasurer.
Elsie Swindell, Critic.
Norma Holden, Cheer Leader.

Congratulations to the Seniors for their wise judgment, and best wishes to those who are to steer the destinies of 1920.

New Junior Class Officers.

Saturday afternoon the Juniors had forsaken the campus. They were to be seen no where—not even going to the little store. They had not forgotten their duty, however. They were busy electing their class officers, who should continue to lead them onward to success. Their wise selection was:

Ruth Winslow, President.
Clyde Wright, Vice President.
Jenny Mann Clark, Secretary.
Ruth Vick, Treasurer.
Mary Wooten, Critic.
Blanche Plott, Cheer Leader.

Sophomores Elect Class Officers.

Last Saturday night at 7.30 there was a regular meeting of the Sophomore class in the Dikian Society Hall.

In the absence of the president, Elizabeth Calvert, the vice-president, Mildred Price, called the meeting to order.

After the usual business was disposed of, the following officers were elected for the fall term:

President, Branson Price.
Vice-President, Sarah Cannady.
Secretary, May McArn.
Treasurer, Gussie Finch.
Critic, Vera Keech.
Cheer Leader, Agnes Henderson.

A FROGGING PARTY—NEW SUPPLIES FOR BIOLOGISTS.

All of us are familiar with the terms fishing, camping, picnicing, etc. Frogging, however, is a new one on us—but not on the faculty.

Indeed we must admit that the originality of some of our faculty cannot be exceeded when we hear of the delightful time they had on a "frogging party" last Tuesday night.

About ten of them started out after dark with lanterns, flashlights and frog nets for a neighboring pond. After catching enough frogs to keep the Junior Biology students busy for a week or so they toasted marshmallows around a big bon-fire.

Those enjoying this festivity were: Misses Ezda Deviney, Seymour, Davenport, Gibling, Cambell, Willcox, Riddle and Mrs. Finch.

ALUMNAE NOTES— MEETING ON OCT. 6TH.

The Alumnae of the North Carolina College met on the afternoon of Founder's Day at 4:00 P. M. They elected Miss Ethel Bollinger as whole time resident secretary-treasurer for the association. The association discussed the Alumnae home. They decided that Miss Bollinger's first work would be the organization of the Alumnae of the different counties, with the end in view of erecting an Alumnae Home on the campus as an Alumnae headquarters. It is thought that several of the rooms will be rented to some of the faculty members to run an up-to-date cafeteria. Another room will be used for a club-room where not only Alumnae, but clubs from the city can have meetings. Miss Ethel Bollinger is editor-in-chief of Alumnae News and Mrs. Ruth Hampton Shuping, business manager. The news of the first issue will be chiefly the events and results of the meeting on Founder's Day.

MARY HOWELL IN NEW YORK.

Mary Howell writes most enthusiastically about her work in the Crane Normal Institute of Music, Potsdam, New York, where she has gone to continue her studies in music supervision.

We are glad to present to all of the college girls a part of her letter: "A year ago I never had the wildest dream of being here now. But a year ago I didn't know the first meaning of public school music—and now—I am just beginning to realize what a wonderful opportunity my state affords for service in that line—and after all—I believe that life is the satisfaction and pleasure that one gets out of service."

Mary Howell is coming back to North Carolina well prepared to take up a much needed work in our state. With the new department in music education which has been added to our curriculum for the purpose of filling that great need, we hope that there may be others who, like Mary, will realize the opportunity for "service" and fit themselves to perform it.

1919 Graduate at Boston.

Knowing Sara All, as we do, we felt sure that she would continue her musical career. She is studying music at New England Conservatory, Boston.

DR. TRUETT UNABLE TO LECTURE ON WEDNESDAY.

On Tuesday evening at dinner Dr. Foust announced that Dr. Truett, a noted Baptist minister, would lecture at the First Baptist church on Wednesday morning. Because it was impossible to secure the minister's presence at the college Dr. Foust stated that the Juniors and Seniors might attend the lecture. In connection with this he said that the third and fourth period Junior and Senior classes would be suspended.

Promptly the happy and fortunate "upper classmen" laid aside their books and spent their study hour with other "duties."

But alas! On Wednesday morning just before time to go to the lecture Dr. Foust posted a notice saying that the minister was sick and could not lecture, and that the classes would be held as usual.

All who attended the third and fourth period Junior and Senior classes fully realize the "evils of sickness!"

AN ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT.

At assembly hour Friday, October 3, Miss Willcox, lyric soprano, assisted by Miss Mayer, violinist, and Miss Sousley, pianist, delighted the students and faculty of the college with the following program:

Curia from H Repastore, with violin, Mozart.

Two old French songs—Jeunes Fillettes, Chantons Les Amours des Jeunes.

O Moon Upon the Water, Cadman.

A Memory, Blair Fleichild.

To a Messenger, La Forge.

This was the first time that Miss Willcox had sung for the students. All of them hope she will sing again soon.

Musical Program Friday.

The organ recital, given Friday afternoon, October 10, by Professor George Scott-Hunter, included:

March—Caraveen of the Magie, (from "Bethlehem") Maunder.

"Minnet in G" Beethoven

Finale (from Organ Souerta in C Minor) Baldwin.

MYSTERIOUS "NO AD" MEETINGS.

Last Saturday night the B. H. Society held its regular meeting in room 60 Spencer.

After the members were greeted by the hostesses, Misses West, Laidlaw and Goforth, a dinner "fit for a king" was served. Those enjoying this delightful affair were the members of the society, Misses Harriett Graham, Hazle Mizelle, Julia West, Betty Jones, Edith Laidlaw, Mildred Jones, Thelma Goforth and Mildred Mendenhall.

To those who do not know what this mysterious society is let us add a few words by way of explanation.

The sign of the order is a large "No Ad" which is placed in a conspicuous position on the door of the hostess' room.

The object of the organization seems to be to give each member of the society all that she can eat at each meeting.

The name, B. H. remains a secret but it is supposed that the initials are merely a symbol of "Bug House" or "Beaux Hunters," who knows?

ATHLETIC "PEP" MEETING.

A very informal, athletic meeting was held in chapel, last Thursday morning. Everybody responded to the request of "Come and bring your pep."

This meeting was called simply to arouse more interest in athletics this year. Several members of the Athletic Association made short, "right to the points" talks and explained new plans, that are to be carried out in athletics this year. Everybody was urged to go in for some form of athletics. "For this year," said Miss Davenport, "we want the majority or the students to play, while the few observe. Heretofore just a few have played, the same few in all the sports, and the majority just looked on."

In order to bring this about everyone was asked to sign up for the sport she wished to enter. This does not mean that a student can enter only one sport the entire year, but that she must try to win out in only one. After Christmas if one wishes to try for some other game, she is at liberty to do so.

The Athletic Association is going to be one of the most important organizations in college, and those, who have not joined, are reminded that they cannot enter athletics unless their fee is paid.

After athletics had been discussed, everyone was given a chance to subscribe for the College Annual. The price of which will not exceed $5.00. From the way the students responded, the sale of the Annual promises to be very large.

COMING AND GOING.

Dr. Scott Visits Her Alma Mater.

The college was delighted to welcome back Dr. Annie Scott, one of its 1914 graduates.

Dr. Scott went immediately after her graduation to Woman's Medical College, in Philadelphia. She took her doctors degree from there in 1917. She spent the year of 1918 doing professional work in New York. This fall she has again returned to Greensboro where she holds an important position in Dr. Long's hospital.

We felt honored in having as our guests in the dining room on Founder's Day, Mr. Woolley, who delivered the address, Mrs. McIver, Dr. Foust, Dr. Turrentine, President of G. C. W., and quite a number of the alumnae.

We were very glad to have Mrs. Sadie McBrayer McClean visit us on Founder's Day, but were disappointed that she did not bring her little son. In reply to a dozen or more inquiries about him, she replied that she dared not bring her baby to the N. C. College on account of so much dust and so many microbes!

Alumnae Visitors on Founder's Day.

Misses Annie Beam, Mary Quinn and Mrs. Dr. Paul McClean, all members of the class of 1916, were visitors at the college on Founder's Day.

Muriel Isear, one of our commercial students left Sunday to return to her home at Wilson, N. C.

FACULTY AND SENIORS PAY TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF DR. McIVER.

On Monday morning, Founder's day, representatives from the faculty and senior class placed two beautiful wreathes on the grave of Dr. McIver. There was no formal service, but each person for a few silent moments, thought of the great work and ideals of the man who did so much for the women of his state. Those paying tribute in behalf of the college to the memory of Dr. McIver were: Dr. Foust, Miss Mendenhall, Miss Boddie, Julia Cherry, and Sibyl Barrington.

Our College started as a mere training school for teachers with an appropriation of $7,500 for its maintenance. Though Dr. McIver laid the foundation of our college amid the many criticism of North Carolina's citizens, his will and determination made our college possible. He it was who gave all his mental, spiritual and physical force trying to impress upon the people of the state the importance of equipping completely and adequately our college. When our Board of Directors was chosen to observe Founder's Day, there were two very definite ideas in mind. First, to lay aside the college work for one day each year to honor the first President of our college. Second, to lay aside our work one day each year to celebrate in a dignified and reverential way the founding of our college. With these two ideas in mind, our exercises were held Monday.

Music Rendered by Misses Wilcox, Mayer, Sousley.

On Monday morning at 11 o'clock, the student body followed by the faculty and our guests marched into the auditorium. The exercises were opened by the singing of "Carolina" by all the students. The invocation was then offered by Dr. Turrentine, of Greensboro College for Women. Miss Jean Wilcox sang "The Jewel Song," Miss Gertrude Sousley playing the piano accompaniment. Miss Helen Mayer, violinist, played Walse-Trieste, by Sierehins, being accompanied by Miss Alleine Minor. Mr. Robert W. Woolley was the chief speaker at the exercises. Other brief addresses were, however, delivered by Dr. J. I. Foust, President of our college, and Mr. E. E. Britton, of Washington. Preceding Mr. Woolley's address, many telegrams from the alumnae from all over the country were read by Dr. Foust. The senders of all the telegrams assured their alma mater of their desire to continually serve her.

Mr. Woolley's address assured all who heard it that he was a man of large vision and was one who would always insist upon justice for women. At the close of his address, the audience sang "The Star Spangled Banner," after which the exercises were closed by the benediction pronounced by Dr. Turrentine.

AT MRS. VAN NOPPEN'S HOME —GIRLS ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Van Noppen invited some of the girls to get up a crowd and come down to see her. Tuesday afternoon, therefore, several Seniors and Juniors and Miss Graham started out to have a good time in a real home. We did not know that it was to be a party, but it turned out to be such. Mrs. Van Noppen read us interesting letters from Donnell and Adelaide, and Charlotte danced a lovely fairy dance for us. An ice course came next—and it was so good that we all took second helpings. When we left Mrs. Van Noppen told us to "come again" and we surely shall, 'cause we had such a good time.

us have. But did a house ever stay clean without someone to look after it most of the time? To Gussie Finch we owe thanks for the looks of the Hut. She is acting the part of chief hostess until another one is chosen. Let us all show her just how much we appreciate what she is doing for us by being as neat as we possibly can while we are at the Hut. If we try to keep this in mind I am sure we will not leave the checkermen on the floor or take the magazines from the shelf unless we expect to put them back. At home we want our parlor to look nice under all conditions. While we are up here the Hut is everyone's parlor. Let us bear that in mind and try to make Gussie's task of keeping the parlor clean for 700 girls, as easy as possible.

Lest Ye Forget!

The first open meeting of the Student Volunteers will be held Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Adelphian Society Hall. Marguerite Jenkins will bring us a message in song which no one will want to miss.

If you are not sure just what the volunteers stand for and what they are doing, come Sunday afternoon and hear Miss Graham.

We especially want those who are interested in our work to come. We want the new girls, the old girls and faculty. If you come, you will not regret it. Come! each and every one.
