COMMISSION OF NEW STUDENTS

Twenty Freshmen—Ten Specials.

The commission of new students, consisting of twenty Freshmen and ten specials, has been appointed. These students have been honored in being chosen from a group of nearly four hundred as the ones who can best promote college spirit. The important thing for them to remember, however, is that their responsibility is in proportion to the honor.

Freshmen—Helene Hudnell, Florence Way, Iola Parrar, Dorothy Bardwell, Alleen Mulder, Virginia Terrill, Eva Hodges, Dorothy Burrows, Mary Peacock, Elizabeth Lindsay, Mary Sue Beam, Eleanor Hill, Lucy Wilson, Margaret Bedell, May Washburn, Mary Washburn, Sara Warren, Ruby Noble, Mildred Mann, Helen Ferree.

Specials—Ruth Roberts, Eliza Ellis, Anna Garey, Margaret Hollister, Mildred Scott, Marion Ramsey, Irene Postles, Sadie Walker, Bessie Lep-hew, Eugenia Lockhart.

CHEER LEADER WILL MAKE CAMPUS HUM

Get the Singing Habit for Next Spring's Conference.

Old girls! new girls! come all ye girls come.

Come to our hockey field 'nd let's have some fun.

Leave your geometry books and your troubles at home.

You'll learn more songs and yells than you ever learned before.

All of us like to air our voices, make a fuss and use our pep once in a while, so our cheer leader has planned a way for us to do it. This was is community singing.

Special afternoons—about twice each week—at five o'clock (we love our walking period, but we are going to like our community singing still better) we will meet on the hockey bank, unless it is raining and then—we'll not let a little thing like that bother us—we will retreat to the auditorium, where we can hear ourselves sing even better than in the open.

We are going to learn some new songs and yells and by a little practice we will be able to sing those that we already know still better.

Everybody will lend a helping

THANKSGIVING INTER- SOCIETY DEBATES

Mendenhall and Vick Cornelian De- baters, Strudwick and Criddle- baugh for Adelpians.

Interest in the Inter-Society De-bate runs high this year. It is the decisive year. Twice, in succession, the Adelpians, represented first by Misses Margaret Blythe and Mar-guerite Galloway, and then by Misses Eliza Collins and Willard Goforth, have been successful this year. Robert-a Strudwick and Charlie Mae Criddle-baugh, Adelpian debaters, will com-pete for the cup, while Marjorie Mendenhall and Ruth Vick will rep-resent the Cornelians. The Dikeans kindly consented to let the old so-cieties fight it out this year since the fight was already on.

The Adelpians have submitted the query: "Resolved, That Imigra-tion Should Be Further Checked." The Cornelians are considering the question and will soon make their decision known.

The debate will occur Thanksgiving. Many alumnae are expected to attend.

CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK—OCT. 19-26.

Young Woman's Christian Associa- tion.

Sunday evening, Oct. 20, 7 o'clock. Dr. C. F. Meyers, First Presbyterian church, Greensboro, will speak at vesper services.

Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, 7:30 p. m. The Executive Council will meet at the Hut.

Wednesday evening, Oct. 22, 7 o'clock. Miss Catherine Heath Hawes will speak at vesper services.

Society Meetings.

Saturday night, Oct. 25, 7 o'clock.

ADDITIONS TO OUR NORTH CAR- OLINA BOOKS MADE BY COL. OLDS

Col. Fred A. Olds, custodian of the State Hall of History at Raleigh, has recently made an addition to our library by presenting us with quite a number of North Carolina books. This is not the only present Col. Olds has given us. He has helped us immensely in securing the things with which we have started our college hall of history. In fact, many of the articles were personal contri-butions from Col. Olds.

THE Y. W. C. A. BUDGET FOR YEAR

The new plans for the Y. W. C. A. budget for this year's work marks a decided step in the progress of the Y. W. C. A. in our college. No longer are we to have a set fee. No longer are we to be called on a half dozen times during the year to contribute money to various causes, but we are going to have a budget which will cover the total expenses for the year. This budget is to be raised through voluntary pledges. Each student gives according to what she feels able to give. Of course some students are financially able to give five and even ten dollars more easily than others could give a dollar. Since this is the case, it seems a far better plan to adopt the voluntary giving.

We all realize what the Y. W. C. A. means on our campus and to each of us as individuals. Let us rally to its support and make our pledges as liberal as possible. Whatever may be the goal which is set, let us not fall short of it.

VESPER SERVICE SUNDAY

P. M. VERY IMPRESSIVE

The recognition service of the Y. W. C. A., which was held Sunday evening in the chapel of Student's Building, was the most impressive service held this year. The Y. W. C. A. cabinet and choir dressed in white assembled at the foot of one flight of stairs in Student's Building and ascended softly singing a hymn. Both the choir and cabni-net remained standing while the new girls, in white also, came up the other stairs and took their places in the front seats of the chapel.

After a prayer and brief talk by Patte Jordan, Miss Wilcox rendered a most beautiful solo.

The lights were then turned off and from the light of the Y. W. C. A. president's candle the candle of each of the new girls was set ablaze, signifying the linking of the old Y. W. C. A. members with the girls who have just come into the associa-tion.

NOTES FROM MUSICDOME

The Orchestra.

Our joy and pride, the college or-chestra, had its first meeting last to the library, were beguiled to the library; were beguiled away from the path of duty by the be-witching refrains that floated from the studio beneath Student's Build-ing. They listened and wondered if the Russian Symphony Orchestra had been spirited away from its us-ual haunts to the violin studio. Un-consciously, their feet began to move in rhythm with the music. Sighs were heard when the music ceased—for they realized that duty beck-oned, and that the goddess of music had vanished for the time being.

The Glee Club.

The Glee Club, the youngest mem-ber of musicdome, is proving very interesting and exciting, though it has given forth very little real music as yet. Some of its members are being instructed in playing the in-struments of their choice. The whole college is extremely interested in this venture, and is waiting impa-tiently for its debut. The club is composed of twelve guitars, ten or twelve ukeleles, five mandolins, and several banjos. It looks as if this department of musicdome will soon be ahead of the other departments.

The Treble Clef Club.

New girls have been hearing ru-mors of the Treble Clef Club and are wondering what it really is. They will be shown what it is before long, we hope. The Treble Clef Club of-ten gives part of our weekly musical program in chapel on Friday, and has always been a delightful fea-ture at these and other times.

The College Chorus.

Mr. Brown led his flock of singers through their first rehearsal last Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. Their first attempt was pleasing, but was far from the goal their leader has set. We have great hopes for the chorus this year. We missed this part of musicdome last year, and are hoping that "Mr. Flu" and his constant companion, "Miss Quar-antine," will pass us by, and allow this year's chorus to attain its best growth—in numbers and in volume.

Those of our number who shall sing the "Messiah" for us are:

Soprano—E. Adams, L. Andrews, M. Armstrong, T. Bass, E. Batts, M. Bedell, A. H. Boney, H. Brock, F. Brook, I. Cardwell, K. Cubertson, M.

NEWS COMES IN WEDNESDAYS

All news items to be printed in our Saturday paper must be handed to one of our editors by Wednesday afternoon at 5:00. If you have some news for us be sure to get it in on time, or if you know of some news and have not written it, report it as soon as possible so that some newspaper reporter may get your news. If you wish to help make a success of our paper give us the benefit of any news you know before you tell it to anyone else—for the paper is yours as well as ours.

BEGIN NOW.

Sometime next spring one of the big honors for which we have been asking and wishing is coming to us.

It is the conference of the Southern Student Government Association. The reports from Florida state and Hollins, where the conference was held, stirred our ambition to make our conference one to be long remembered. Ruth Kernodle, our own Student Government president, who was president of the whole Southern Association in 1916-1917, and others have left a bright record for us, one which we must not break but build higher. The opportunity which is coming to us is one which has been sought by other colleges but which it is only our privilege to have. We will probably not receive it again soon and it is therefore "up to us" to make the most of it. Of course detailed plans will have to be worked out by committees, but it will take the co-operation of every student on the hill to make a real success of our conference. It is time now—right now—to begin some of the work which will mean success for us, and that is building our college up to its best, strongest, straightest self. We want to be first on the honor roll next spring, but now is the time to be making our good record; it will be too late next spring. There are hundreds of ways for each of us to help; let us get to thinking and then, to working, since the student body can be no stronger than the weakest students, let us start our construction at home. Just remember that every time one of us skips a class, refuses to enter into athletics, cuts across the grass, or encourages a grouch, we have made a little ugly spot on our record that no Lux suds can ever dissolve out. Let us put the ideal of a true, loyal, integral, enthusiastic student body on a convenient self in our mental store, so that it will be reminding us not to forget the little things which we must do to gain our goal.

"MARTIAL" LAW.

Now that the winter is coming on, our grass doesn't show every footprint, but it does show where several footprints are. Since boxes have been placed on the north side of the postoffice, some of us forget about the grass and run across it to see our boxes. A few of us have gone so far as to climb in the windows. Next spring when the grass ought to be green and pretty there will be a bare plot outside the postoffice. Let us "dip into the future" and have college and class pride enough to keep us off of the grass, especially when we are going to the postoffice.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Graham, our Y. W. C. A. Secretary, Miss Ethel Boyte, who is our Undergraduate Field Representative, and Miss Coit let fast Tuesday night for Richmond, Va., to attend a financial and educational conference which is to be held there.

Miss Graham writes that she is thinking of us while we are discussing our Y. W. C. A. budget and that she hopes to bring back to us some of the wonderful things she is receiving from the conference.

STUDENTS ACCEPT

Y. W. C. A. BUDGET

Mr. Barnes spoke to the students Thursday at ten o'clock on the financial needs of any organization. Our Y. W. C. A. budget was presented to the student body and was immediately accepted.

BLUE RIDGE RALLY.

A Blue Ridge rally was held in the chapel of Student's Building last Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. Among those who assisted were Misses Kernodle, Simms and McLawhorn.

Miss Harriet Elliot gave a most inspiring and helpful talk to the members of the Social Service department of the Y. W. C. A. Friday night at the Hut. She emphasized the fact that we must believe thoroughly in the things that we do; that we should not try to do a lot of social service work in a "harum skarum" fashion, but that we limit ourselves to a few things and do these things well.

A BIT OF COMFORT WILL ALWAYS DO THE WORK

We want to help you get your laundry back on time. A more attractive laundry building will help to do this, by making it easier to get and keep employes. As a beginning the Y. W. C. A. is going to complete the furnishing of a laundry rest room. A few good pictures on the walls, dainty curtains fluttering in the windows, some comfortable chairs placed here and there, and a cot in one corner will do the work.

Who says the Y. W. C. A. does not do things?

A WORD TO YOU, NEW GIRLS.

Aren't you proud of our Hut? We know you already love it as intensely, as the old girls do. The real pleasure of a quiet hour spent down there in one of those comfortable deep chairs listening to good music is not to be equalled anywhere else on the campus. You know, too, of course that we built and paid for it ourselves. This fact is very generally known and the people of North Carolina admire us very much for doing it. But listen very closely and I will tell you a secret. It isn't paid for yet—completely. The old girls are doing everything they can to get off the debt. Won't you help us the best you can, new girls?

Thank you, we knew you would.

Your aid, as you know, must go through the Y. W. C. A. But the Hut isn't the only thing for which we need your help. Possibly you didn't know that the Y. W. C. A. supports a foreign missionary, does quite a bit of social service work in the suburbs of Greensboro, entertains the old people out at the Masonic Hall as often as possible, pays a salary to our beloved Y. W. C. A. secretary, and many other things too numerous to mention. The Y. W. C. A. asks your voluntary support. Won't you rally to the splendid call for help and do the best you can for the Y. W. C. A. budget?

New girls, didn't you enjoy the camp supper given by the Y. W. C. A.? And old girls, too, haven't you always enjoyed every affair in other years? Don't you receive inspiration and worth while thoughts from every vesper service you attend? Of course you do. Every phase of our Y. W. C. A. helps to make our college life so much bigger and happier. This year we are going to be given a chance to show just how much we appreciate it. Let's give all that we feel we can and then give some more. Are we not willing to go to the "little stores" and down the street a little less often in order that our Y. W. C. A. may have such support as it has never had before? Let's show that we have grown by allowing our Y. W. C. A. to grow.

There is a nice display of Japanese prints in the art room. Miss Langer, head of the art department, has quite a nice collection of good Japanese prints, and it will be well worth your time to take a look at them. The art department thinks itself very fortunate in having these prints here for a few days, and it cordially invites everybody to come and look them over. The department will be open to everybody on Monday and Wednesday from two until five o'clock, Tuesday and Thursday mornings from eight until twelve-thirty, and on Friday morning from eight until ten o'clock.

We are to be visited this year by some of the headlights of the music world. Our college is certainly fortunate, for here we are in Greensboro, and this city is going to have the following musical events this year: The Russian Symphony Orchestra will play a return engagement in December; the latter part of January the great soprano of the world, Galli Curci, will be here; in February we will have Lazzari and Gary in a joint recital; and lastly, we will have in March Frances Olda, soprano of the Metropolitan.

These last three numbers come to Greensboro under a $6,000 guarantee, which was made possible by the generosity of Mr. E. P. Wharton president of the Greensboro National Bank. Mr. Wharton has our deep gratitude for assuming this responsibility, and so making it possible for us to have these artists here.

Marriages.

Mildred Rankin, '13, who is a sister of Lula Rankin, will be married soon to Mr. Haddin Spurgy Maekie, of Gastonia.

Carol Hughes, who was here in 1915 and 1918, was married Thursday, October 16, to Mr. John Haywood Jones, of New Bern.

Gladys All, who was here last year in the commercial department, will be married about the middle of November to Mr. James Prillaman.

Book of Poems by Meade Seawell Published.

Meade Seawell, a student here in '14 and '18, is now at the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, where she is studying preparatory to doing chautauqua work. Miss Seawell recently published a book of poems called "Songs From the Sandhills." Many of these poems appeared first in the college magazine, "Coraddi." The Greensboro Daily News says that "she is still in many respects just a little girl who has lived all her life out-of-doors and has never thought of 'the verses that sing around inside me' as being of interest to anybody outside her immediate circle of friends. She knows the sandhills perhaps more intimately than any old backwoodsman in the county. There isn't a pig path anywhere about that she and her little mare, 'Beauty,' haven't found and made their own. She knows the folks, too. You have to know your folks to get at the insides of 'em as Miss Seawell does in that good-natured bit of sandhills philosophy, 'Jest a Settin' Still.'"

In addition to her gift as a poetess Miss Seawell has a fine stage presence.

Elizabeth Craig, '13, who was here last year as Mr. Forney's assistant, expects to go to New York as secretary to Dr. John R. Ferrill, director for U. S. of the Rockefeller Foundation, International Health Board.

Eliza Collins, '18, is Y. W. secretary at Aerin, Ohio.

Willard Goforth, who was the first president of the present senior class, is now studying at Barnard College. Her sister, Carolyn, '17, is at Teachers' College.

voice and a lot of 'pep' just to see what wonder we can make of ourselves. When the Student Government Association meets here next spring we are going to sing for them and we want to hear those girls say that "The North Carolina College girls have more pep and sing better than any girls in the South."

All we need to do this is—practice—and so when it is announced that we will meet, everybody will go out and "get the practice."

INFIRMARY ALMOST VACATED.

The college "rep" is holding good at the infirmary this year. There are only four of our number in "there" this week—Miss Florence Eckert, English instructor, Olga Dimitrijevitich, Marie Griffin, and Annie Bridges. Annie Bridges, who had an attack of appendicitis, left the infirmary Wednesday to go to Dr. Long's hospital, Greensboro. She stood the operation nicely, and we sincerely hope that she will soon recover.

Have you heard the rumor that we are soon to have the pleasure of seeing and having Dr. Hayes? We hope for ourselves, and especially for those ardent admirers and students of history, that such opportunity may be ours.

TRAINING SCHOOL SUPERVISORS ENTERTAIN

A number of the seniors had a delightful time last evening when the training school supervisors were hostesses at a party given to all of those taking training school work.

There were several interesting contests which afforded lots of fun. Many different games were played, the relay races being especially enjoyed.

Delightful refreshments, consisting of hot chocolate, sandwiches and pumpkin pie, were served.

Those seniors who decided to take training school work consider themselves to have been very wise in their decision.

A FACULTY TEA.

A faculty tea was very much enjoyed by a large number of the faculty members Monday afternoon, October 13, from five to six o'clock in the faculty sitting room.

Miss Lawrence, assisted by Miss King and Miss Bivins, served tea and wafers.

Mrs. Boyd wishes to inform the girls that dust on the mirror does not improve the complexion.

OUR FRENCH ORPHANS.

Since the war has closed and "our boys" have come back home let us not forget our little French orphans whom we adopted last year. Just the smallest amount of help from each individual in our college will mean a great big thing to them.

EVERYTHING PUT THERE FOR A PURPOSE

Hair nets for the hair, pennants of all kinds to fill empty spaces on walls, memory books for amusement when age has crept upon you, college seals to wear on your coat sleeve, and college rings to wear on your fingers—all of these things are in the "Junior Shop" for sale. SOPHOMORE ANNUAL

EDITOR ELECTED

On Monday, at a call meeting of the Sophomore class, Miss Joyce Rudisill was elected Sophomore editor for the Annual.

Vacancies Must be Filled.

In more ways than one, the college is missing its youngest alumnae, the Reds and Whites. As yet, no one has appeared who can really succeed Mary Lathrop, as president of the gossip club. Neither is there anyone, in all this college, to remind us of men and engagements?—since the graduation of Martha Speas and Belle Mitchell! The grass is likely never to grow again—even when it rains—because Sarah All is no longer here to encourage it. It is a mere matter of chance as to the length of mass-meetings because Mace Parham has gone and there is no one to move that we adjourn.

Unless some one rises from the ranks to fill each of these important places, what shall the college do? If you have any talent in any of these lines, train it! If you have any college spirit, show it!

SOCIETY MEETINGS; ENJOYABLE PROGRAMS

Last Saturday night the Cornelian Society had its regular meeting, which was greatly enjoyed by all those present.

After a very interesting and important business meeting we were delightfully entertained by some of our musical members.

The program was as follows:

Piano solo, Barcarolle — Mary Holdford.

Solo, Lindy—Mary Louise Bender.

Piano solo, Romance in E. flat by Rubenstein—Marie Davenport.

Song, "One Fleeting Hour"—Sadie Hunt.

Piano Solo—Cornelia Jones.

Song, quartette, Baby Jim—Minnie Rodwell, Sadie Hunt, Zue Ray, Mary Louise Bender.

Piano solo, "To a Wild Rose"—Matilda Jones.

Song, "Dear Old Pal of Mine"—Annie Mae Pharr.

There was a regular meeting of the Dikean Literary Society in the Dikean Hall last Saturday evening. New girls, we are waiting for you!

LARGE FAMILY IN OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

There is a woman in our neighborhood who has 32 children! The eldest child is about sixteen years old and the youngest is just an infant. Does this woman need help? "I say she does," and our college is right on the job. One afternoon each week our Y. W. C. A. helps this lady who "has so many children she doesn't know what to do." This lady—who, to tell the truth, is head of the Children's Home, which at present has 32 inmates—welcomes to the Home each Wednesday afternoon some Y. W. C. A. girls; who are on Lena Williams' committee. For an hour or more these girls have a great time playing with the children and telling them stories. When it is time to leave, pudgy hands wave good-bye to the girls, and childish voices call to them to come back again soon.

If you want to help the good work along and make these 32 children happy, see Lena Williams. We have some grand storytellers—the nice variety we mean, of course—who could make those Wednesday afternoons a huge success.
