Home Economics Majors Learn Practical Experience

This year a new Home Management house has been opened on West Market street. Into this house and the one on Melver street, 14 senior home economics majors will go every six weeks. Six of them will go to the new house, and eight to the Melver street house to learn how to manage a home from every angle.

Varied Work

These girls buy and prepare all the meals, replace worn-out furniture and equipment, and entertain at informal dinners, buffet suppers, teas, and receptions. Divisions are made in the house so that the girls may experience living on a low, medium, and high income levels, and different tasks are assigned so that they may become familiar with all phases of housework. This experience provides for two ideas which this course tries to teach, which are efficient organization and social relationships through cooperation are brought out.

First House

The first house on Melver street was opened in 1921 and is supervised by Miss Evelyn Howell, the faculty member who lives there with the girls. The house on Market street, directed by Miss Helen Player, was opened this year and has been furnished by girls from last year's home economics courses. It is one of several old, pre-fabricated houses erected during the last war to take care of an expanding faculty, and was given for this purpose by the Administration.

Low Cost

Both buildings, however, have time and labor saving devices, and all equipment in the new home has been built with convenience, low cost and attractiveness as the primary thoughts. Everything in the house—painting, papering, and furnishings—brings out the idea of how much can be done with so little at a minimum cost. All the furniture came from the dormitories on campus as discarded beds, tables, and chairs, and has been painted, upholstered, and transformed into very attractive articles. The girls are now making curtains and draperies which will give this house, with its proper lighting, modern conveniences and adequate space the ideal homelike touch.

Mrs. Bess N. Rosa Talks At Nursery Meeting

Child Psychology Students Study, Observe, Care For Young Pupils

The monthly nursery school parents' meeting will be held October 15 at 7:30 p. m., under the direction of Miss Julia Zimmerman, teacher, and Mrs. Bess N. Rosa, who is in charge of the meetings.

The nursery school is composed of 14 children from three to five years old, and is operated as a demonstration center for junior and senior students in child psychology. Here they observe, take part in child care, and study the children, who stay from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Among the precautions taken is the installation of a nurse who checks each child as he enters to see that he does not have a cold or temperature. The purpose of these monthly meetings is to present to the parents and discuss with them the care and problems of their children.

Librarian Resigns

Miss Catherine Ogden has resigned her position in the order department of Woman's college library to become W.P.A. library supervisor for the sixth district of North Carolina with headquarters in Asheville. She will leave October 15 to take over her new duties of supervising county libraries and rural library service. Miss Ogden came to the Woman's college library a year ago from the Duke university library.

Officials Close Park to Students

Dean W. C. Jackson has announced that it is absolutely necessary and desirable that Peabody park will be closed to all students afternoons and evenings during the emergency.

The lake area will be open to the students mornings and afternoons, subject to the activities of the physical education department.

Until further notice, no students will be permitted either singly, or in pairs or in groups, to enter the park.

Miss Clara Byrd Is Hostess At Dinner

Alumnae Secretary Honors Board of Trustees, Fiftieth Anniversary Committee

Miss Clara Byrd, Alumnae secretary at Woman's college, was hostess at a dinner October 3 at 6:30 p. m. in the private dining room of the Home Economics cafeteria, honoring members of the Alumnae Board of Trustees, Alumnae committee on the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration, and a few invited guests in town for the Founder's day exercises.

The guest list included Mrs. W. C. Jackson, Greensboro; Mrs. J. I. Foust, Greensboro; Mrs. P. P. McCain, president of the Alumnae association, Sanatorium; Miss Hattie S. Parrott, chairman of the Alumnae Fiftieth Anniversary committee, Raleigh; Mrs. C. F. Tomlinson, past president of the Alumnae association, High Point; Miss Margaret Moser, vice-president of the Alumnae association, Greensboro; Miss Rachel Clifford, secretary of the Fiftieth Anniversary committee, Greensboro; Miss Em Austin, Tarboro; Mrs. W. L. Carter, Greensboro; Miss Margaret Gilbert, Holly Ridge; Mrs. Kenneth Greenfield, Kernersville; Mrs. J. L. Henderson, Hickory; Mrs. Floyd Moore, Reidsville; Mrs. C. E. Stevens, Council Bluffs; Mrs. Albert Wirth, Smithfield; Mrs. Henry D. Holloman, Rich Square; Miss Annie M. Cherry, Enfield; Miss Flossie Byrd, Greensboro; Miss Evelyn Cavelier, Greensboro; and Miss Mary Lind say, Greensboro.

The college colors of gold and white were carried out in the floral decorations and the place cards.

College Library Receives New Music Manuscripts

The Woman's college library has received four new music manuscripts for its Holograph music collection from Mrs. George C. Eichhorn, who composes as Hermene Warlick Eichhorn. The four compositions are "American Scene—1934; Jig-Saw Puzzles," for piano; "Before the Creche," a Christmas meditation for organ; "In Carolina," a suite for piano consisting of four parts—"Cora Sluggin'," "Possum Hunt," "Muscadine Swing," and an arrangement of the Negro spiritual, "I Wanta Be Ready"; and "Spring in Carolina," a song for two-part chorus. Mrs. Eichhorn, a Woman's college graduate and a North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs prize winner, was chosen as one of the first composers to be represented in the library's Holograph collection of music manuscripts when it was begun three years ago.

Dr. Archie Shaftesbury Becomes New Head of Faculty Science Club

Miss French Boyd Delivers Main Address on Nutrition At Meeting October 6

Dr. Archie D. Shaftesbury, head of the zoology department, was elected president of the Faculty Science club, which met for a meeting planned on nutrition Monday, October 6 at 7:30 p. m. in the physics lecture room. Dr. Calvin N. Warfield, head of the physics department and president-elect, was forced to resign because of his defense duties.

Main Address

Miss French Boyd, nutrition expert for the School Health Coordinating service of North Carolina, delivered the main address of the evening. Her address was preceded by a talk by Miss Margaret Edwards, head of the home economics department, who reported on the National Nutrition conference at Washington, D. C., in the spring and a joint report by Miss Flora White Edwards and Miss Vera Playfoot on the nutrition work shop held at the University of Chicago last summer.

Miss Boyd spoke on health camps from an experienced position. For the past two summers she had been director of health camps, one of which was held on the Woman's college campus last summer. Miss Boyd reported that by spending 9.16 per day for inexpensive but nutritive food, such as soy beans, it had been possible to provide a balanced diet for the persons attending health camps.

The program on nutrition by the home economics department is only one of a series of programs to be presented throughout the year by different divisions of the science department. Each one of these programs is to emphasize some phase of defense. The biology department has charge of the next meeting.

Preceding the program planned by Miss Kate Wilkins of the chemistry department.

Ann Hardison To Be Dance Chairman

Juniors Will Continue 'No Campus Cutting' Campaign This Year

With the election of Ann Hardison as dance chairman and Eloise Rankin as chairman of the freshman junior wedding, the class of 1943 held its initial meeting of the season Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Adelphi hall with Julia Pepper presiding.

After the president's welcome to the Junior transfers, the group decided to continue the "no-cutting campus" campaign which they started last year as sophomores. It was announced that the first order for the class rings is to be sent Saturday, October 11. Persis Bennett is to act as ring chairman.

Dr. Meta Miller, junior class chairman, spoke briefly to the group, expressing her desire to become better acquainted with each girl and inviting the members of the class to visit her.

Junior shop manager Sally Warwick thanked the class for their cooperation.

And as for saving and entertaining the animals, isn't that the purpose of the night club? Mary Lib Goforth reasoned thus when she thought of the name "Ark" for the hut. In addition, the outward appearance certainly suggests the age of the ark, and everybody always enters two by two. (In couples only.)

Dr. Sankey Lee Blanton to Preach First University Sermon of Year

Six Sponsors To Attend Greater University Day

Mary Eppes, president of Student Government association at Woman's college, has received a formal invitation from the University of North Carolina Student Government association inviting all Woman's college students to attend the Greater University day on Saturday, November 1. She was also requested to give a short talk at intermission on behalf of Woman's college.

Five sponsors have been selected to represent Woman's college in addition to the president. They are: Rose Wilson, Gladys Sessions, and Rebecca Beasley, student government officials; Elizabeth Sargent, chief marshal; and Sue Murchison, president of the senior class.

Mr. George Thompson Announces Sixty-Six Members In Choir

Newcomers Represent Four Classes, Commercial; Nancy King Is President

SIXTY-SIX new members have been added to the Woman's college choir. Mr. George M. Thompson, professor of music and director of the choir, has announced.

All the newcomers are not freshmen, however; they have been chosen from all four classes and the commercial class, and only 20 of them are music majors.

The newly elected choir officers are: Nancy Dixon King, president; Jean Booth, vice-president; secretary and treasurer, Helen Trentham; vestment chairman, Ernestine Smith; assistants, Mary Louise Clements, Daphne Lewis, and Suzanne Matthews; librarian, Anna Bell.

New choir members are: Joyce Alexander, Margaret Barringer, Johanna Bastian, Rachel Baxter, Sara Blanton, Ethel Sue Bonz, Jacqueline Boggs, Julia Bradshaw, Elsie May Briggs, Jeanne Marie Brown, Iris Ames Burris, Jane Brookes Carroll, Davilene Coleman, Nancy Cowherd, Emily Crandall, Mary Frances Davis, Elizabeth DeLaney, Marjorie Gray Dunn, Virginia Eddy, Kathryn Eskey, Lela Swink Gray, Elizabeth Godbey, Jane Gardner, Sarah Anne Harrison, Ann Henning, Hilda Hilton, Sarah Hodgins, Lorena Gray Holden, Kathleen Hoots, Betty Jones Johnson, Dorothea Jones, H. Noah's 'Ark' Comes into Own As 'Y' Hut Is Re-named

Noah's "Ark" was built in time of desperate need. It was going to rain for forty days and nights, constituting an emergency, and God told Noah to build the "Ark" to save the animals.

Woman's college "Ark" (the new name for the "Y" hut) is at least named in time of desperate need. With almost closed campus on the week-ends, the college is in dire straits. It might not be going to rain for forty days and nights, but our emergency will last for 60 days.

Couples Only

And as for saving and entertaining the animals, isn't that the purpose of the night club? Mary Lib Goforth reasoned thus when she thought of the name "Ark" for the hut. In addition, the outward appearance certainly suggests the age of the ark, and everybody always enters two by two. (In couples only.)

"The Ark" will have a grand new opening Saturday night under its new name. The committee headed by Miss Nancy Lewis, counselor and Frances Horton, social chairman, selected the winning name from many entered in the contest lasting for several weeks.

Floor Show

From 8:30 until 11 p. m., "The Ark" will be open each Saturday night with a floor show at 10 p. m. Refreshments will be furnished by the Junior shop. A ten cent cover charge will be collected to take care of decorations and feeding the nickelodeon.

Tables, covered with yellow table cloths, are grouped informally around the fireplace with light provided for them by candles stuck in bottle necks in true Ark fashion.

Noah sent out a dove and a raven to tell him when his emergency was over and then he abandoned his ark. When our emergency is over, let's just keep "The Ark" for fun.

Senior Class Sponsors First In Series Of Three-Day Religious Conferences

A new venture will begin at Woman's college this week-end when Dr. Sankey Lee Blanton, of Wilmington, N. C., opens the first of a series of four three-day religious conferences with the University Sermon, which will be held Sunday, October 12, at 11 a. m., in Aycock auditorium. This first conference will be sponsored by the senior class.

Dr. Frank P. Graham May Be United States Secretary of Labor

Rumors of Presidential Appointment Spread Through N. C. Papers

Although the rumor has no basis in fact, the grapevine telegraph has it that Dr. Frank Porter Graham, president of the Greater University of North Carolina, will be offered the position of secretary of labor by the nation's President, in place of the present secretary, Miss Frances Perkins.

The Greensboro Daily News carried a report of the possible appointment of Dr. Graham in the October 5 edition.

Dr. Graham is now fulfilling two jobs; one, as a member of the national defense mediation board; the other, as president of the Greater University. For twelve years he has held the office at Chapel Hill, and recently he was appointed to serve the government.

It is known that President Roosevelt has urged Dr. Graham, because of his expert labor knowledge, numerous times to accept a full-time job with the government, a position higher than

Classical Club Selects Drama as Theme

Members Welcome Dr. Hazel E. Barnes At Initial Meeting

Frances Bissell, president of the Classical Civilization club, welcomed Dr. Hazel E. Barnes to its initial meeting of the year, Monday, September 29, at 7:30 p. m.

In recognition of the growth of the classical department in the last few years, Dr. Barnes of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, has been added to the faculty to assist Dr. C. C. Jernigan. Dr. Barnes was graduated from Wilson college in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. She obtained her Ph. D. from Yale university in 1940, and was awarded several fellowships in recognition of her scholarship in Latin and Greek.

The president, assisted by June Feiker, treasurer, and Sid Moberg, secretary, announced committees for the year as follows: programme, Marilyn Barkeley; pin, Audrey May; membership, Elizabeth Cobb, Betty Nickerson, and Grace Franck; publicity, Anna Fike.

A unanimous decision changed the date of the meetings from the first Monday to the last Monday of each month. Marilyn Barkeley suggested to the club that the theme of the year be "Drama." The club approved, and "Agamemnon" by Aeschylus will be the selection for the October meeting.

Physics Club To Try New Type of Meetings

The regular Physics club has been disbanded this year in favor of informal group meetings. Mrs. Ruth McGregor of the physics department is in charge of this group. A seminar type of club, rather than a formal organization, is being tried as an experiment by the physics group members.

Particular interests of the group and of individuals of the group are to be handled by special laboratory meetings and discussions. Chief of the interests is X-ray. Individual interests are in special problems, such as the personal side of the lives of great scientists. The group will meet at irregular periods about twice a month throughout the year.

Well-known in State

Dr. Blanton, a native North Carolinian, is at present pastor of the First Baptist church in Wilmington. He is well-known throughout the state. Prior to his pastorate in Wilmington, Dr. Blanton was minister of the Student club at Yale university for five years. Dr. Blanton is also a veteran of the first World war, and was graduated from Wake Forest college, Southern Baptist Theological seminary, and Andover Newton Theological seminary.

Committees from the senior class who planned the program are as follows: chairman of ushers, Louise Dickens; publicity committee, Neita Allen, Fay Barnes, and Betty Barbour; program committee, Barbara Neville, Eloise Taylor, and Billie Rose; stage committee, Doris Robbins, Mary Turner, and Jane Whalin; Sunday night supper, Virginia Jones, Carolyn Pate, and Sarah White; representative to the general committee, Virginia Lisk.

Sunday Program

The program for the University Sermon will open with an invocation by Catherine Hilderman. Dean W. C. Jackson will read the Scriptures, and Miss Helen Boyd, Religious Activities director, will lead in prayer. Sue Murchison, president of the senior class, will introduce Dr. Blanton, and Sara Jane Hunter, "Y" president, will close with the benediction. The subject of the sermon will be "Inquiring in the Temple." The college choir will sing an anthem by Warren, "Christ Went Up in the Hills Alone," directed by Mr. Thompson, who will also play a prelude and postlude.

Conference Schedule

A full schedule for the conference has been planned. Following the University Sermon, the senior class will

Those appointed are: invitations, Frances Newson; decorations, Sallye Josey and Marjorie Bryant; publicity, Dorrice Litchfield; reception, Margaret McLendon; figure, Alice Arey; refreshments, Virginia Vache; wraps, Ann Turrentine; post arrangements, Mary White McNeely; orchestra, Jane Whalin; programs, Virginia McNeely; tea dance, Billie Howard. Mrs. Anne Carter is sponsor for the dance.

Alice Duer Miller Will Lecture Tonight in Aycock Auditorium

Author, Poet, Dramatist To Discuss Experiment in Narrative Poetry

Alice Duer Miller, distinguished author, poet, and dramatist, is to lecture here tonight, October 10, in Aycock auditorium at 8 p.m. Mrs. Miller is the first speaker of the year on the lecture course. Woman's college will welcome many well-known speakers to its campus this year who are helping the college to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary.

Mrs. Miller was born in New York state in 1874. She received her education at Barnard college, graduating in 1899. While there she became a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and has since been made a member of the board of trustees of Barnard college.

Popular Author

Alice Duer Miller has long been known for her outstanding contributions to American literature and her two recent books, The White Cliffs and I Have Loved England are currently sweeping the country. The White Cliffs in particular has made publishing history. One year after publication it is selling in its second hundred thousand, heading best seller lists everywhere, and is being bought at the rate of 5,000 copies per week.

Literary Experiment

The White Cliffs is an experiment in narrative poetry which sums up for many people their feelings toward England in this crucial hour of world history. The story is concerned with a young American girl of good Yankee stock who marries an Englishman, loses him in the Great War, bears his son, and finds herself today faced with the peril of the new war.

The poem has been recorded for the phonograph; it has been read over national hook-ups a number of times; and it is rumored that a motion picture is to be made of it starring Ronald Colman and Bette Davis.

National Broadcast

Recently, the distinguished actress, Lynn Fontanne, read the poem over a nation network. The response was astounding, and thousands of requests poured in for a repeat performance of The White Cliffs. Two weeks later, Lynn Fontanne broke all precedents by reading this tribute to England's courage for the second time over a national hook-up. Since then it has been repeatedly broadcast, and recently Life magazine published a selection of excerpts from it.

In her lecture here tonight, Mrs. Miller will discuss The White Cliffs, telling something of the origin, growth and development of the idea, and she will also read the poem.

If you really want to learn, be not ashamed to say, "I do not know," or, "I do not understand."

"White Cliffs" ...

... will be read by its author, Alice Duer Miller, tonight when she opens the 1941-42 lecture season in Aycock auditorium at 8 p.m. Mrs. Miller is noted as a novelist, poet, and playwright.

Society Elects Marshals, New Dance Chairman

For the purpose of selecting officers, President Polly Sattler called a meeting of the Cornelian society Thursday, October 2, from 7:30 to 8 p.m. in the Cornelian hall.

Those elected were Virginia "Pete" Mauney as junior marshal, Sarah White as senior marshal, and Peggy Wallace as dance chairman.

November 22 is the date which was set for the formal dance to be held in Rosenthal gymnasium. Further plans for the event have not yet been made.

Better to be well versed in one subject than to have a smattering of many. Emulate those who seek knowledge; shun those who lack intellectual curiosity.

Honor Pledges Due Monday, October 13

All honor pledges from freshman and upperclassmen are due on Monday night, October 13. Tests on the "Blue book" will be given to freshmen, transfers, and commercials at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, October 14. Rooms in which the tests will be given will be announced on Monday.

Alumnae Leaders Hold Conference To Plan 1942 Commencement

Dr. George Truitt, Baptist Clergyman, To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon

The 1942 Commencement of Woman's college will bring to the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration of the college a program abounding in headline names. It was announced at a conference of alumnae leaders held on Saturday afternoon, October 4, in the Alumnae house.

Dr. George W. Truitt, eminent Baptist minister, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 7.

Educational Leaders

Educational leaders, who will be brought to the college for the alumnae program which precedes the commencement proper, include Dr. Marjorie Nicholson, professor of English at Columbia university, and Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, associate United States commissioner of education.

The alumnae program, planned by a Fiftieth Anniversary committee which Miss Hattie Parrott of Raleigh heads, will occupy two full days, June 5 and 6.

The alumnae conference, called by Mrs. P. P. McCain of Sanatorium, president of the Alumnae association, and Miss Rachel Clifford, Secretary of the Fiftieth Anniversary committee, was concerned with two other phases of alumnae observance of the golden jubilee, district dinners and raising of funds for birthday gifts to the college.

College Needs

Five members of the faculty presented to the alumnae conference important needs of the college in five different fields. It was stated that the needs of the college in expansion of the physical plant are a new and larger library building and art building, a pipe organ for Aycock auditorium, and a collection of original art works and satisfactory reproductions as illustrative material for the department of art.

Needs for their phases were presented by Miss Cora Strong, chairman of the faculty committee on loan funds, Dr. Ruth Collings, college physician, Gregory D. Ivy, professor of art, George M. Thompson, professor of organ, and Miss Jane Summerell, associate professor of English.

The mid-winter business meeting of the Alumnae association was announced for February 7.

Playlikers Present Variety In New Group of Plays

'Morning's at Seven' To Be First Fall Production November 8 in Aycock

Once again Woman's college Playlikers roll up their sleeves and start to work on a new group of plays. The Playlikers plan to present a variety of old and new successes this year.

"Morning's at Seven" by Paul Osborn, will be presented on November 8. This is a quietly hilarious across-the-back-fence comedy written about old people, who, as the play shows, can be just as silly as the youngsters.

Melodrama

December 6 is the day set for "Ladies in Retirement" written by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham. Produced with great success in New York and on the road, this thriller was greeted as an almost perfect example of the psychological melodrama.

The reading of great plays in the Alumnae house on Sunday afternoons, begun as a Playliker project last winter, will continue throughout this year. In December and again in April the plays written and directed by the students of the play production classes will be given.

Anniversary Pageant

The Playlikers will have a large share in the celebration of the Fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the college. A pageant by Mrs. Marion Tatum Fitz-Simmons, written especially to celebrate the Fiftieth anniversary will be staged in May, 1942. Mrs. Fitz-Simmons will return to the campus in May to direct the pageant.

Three more plays will be presented on the Aycock stage this year—one in February, one in March, and the last in April. In addition to their regular plays, Playlikers will again do their annual laugh show—"Heck's a Popping," in which they satirize their own efforts. Throughout the year the radio theater group will present scripts written and

Tryouts To Be Held For Square Dance

Try-outs for girls interested in becoming members of the Square Dance club will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, October 15 and 16, at 5 p.m.

Meetings each Tuesday evening will alternate between the old and new members of the club.

Ann Turrentine Named Chemistry Club Head

Ann Turrentine, senior chemistry major, was elected president of the Chemistry club at a special meeting Thursday, October 2, at 7:30 p.m. Maxine Dark, vice-president, presided over the election.

Further business was postponed until the next regular meeting of the club. Plans for the year are to be discussed at that time.

performed by students over station WBIG.

Thus far this year, Playlikers have presented the newly formed Carolina Playlikers repertory company playing Paul Green's "House of Connelly," on Wednesday, October 8. Miss Jean MacDonald, last year's Playliker president, played the lead in Mr. Green's story of the old and the new South. "The First Year" was given in August as the summer school show and was such an outstanding success that Playlikers wish to repeat the performance before the regular winter show audience.

THE WOMAN THEY WHISPERED ABOUT ...

Occasionally there comes out of Hollywood a picture so truthful in its portrayals, so universally human in its story, that it reaches deep down into the hearts of all who see it—until it becomes, not a series of incidents flashed upon a screen, but a rich, vivid, personal experience.

Such a picture was "Stella Dallas." Such a picture was "The Old Maid." To this gallery of great films which tell earnestly and powerfully of women who love with every fibre of their being, you will add "Cheers for Miss Bishop."

For here is a story of a woman in love—deeply, overwhelmingly. And—as is ever the case with emotions like these—the world, with its narrow code of conduct, refused to understand. And yet—with gossip and malice and misunderstanding arrayed against her, Ella Bishop found the greatest happiness a woman can ever know!

As you share her struggle for the joy that belongs by right to any beautiful woman... as you help her cope with a problem in romance which only a very clever woman can hope to solve... as you thrill to the sheer intimacy of her love story... then, lost in the magic of a brilliantly conceived performance of the role by talented Martha Scott, you will become one with Ella Bishop. And you will find it one of the most enjoyable and exciting experiences you have ever known.

Student Committee to Hold First Meeting in Cotten Hall About Anniversary Plans

Dr. W. C. Jackson spoke this week at the Jefferson hotel in Richmond at a dinner meeting of the Virginia chapter of Woman's college alumnae. This dinner was the first of a series of 18 district anniversary dinners, the purpose of which is to acquaint the alumnae with recent developments and present trends of the college and to arouse enthusiasm for the fiftieth anniversary celebration. Mrs. J. R. Ruffin, Jr., chairman of the Richmond alumnae, was in charge of the meeting.

Asheville Meet

On October 15, Dr. Jackson will speak to a similar dinner meeting at the George Vanderbilt hotel in Asheville. Mrs. Albert Lathrop, formerly of the college news bureau, and now living in Asheville, is district chairman for this, the Appalachian district, which includes 14 counties.

On October 16, there will be a district dinner in the social room of the First Baptist church in High Point for the alumnae from Thomasville, Randolph county, and Guilford county, excluding Greensboro. Mrs. M. J. Wrenn, chairman of the High Point chapter, is in charge of this meeting.

The faculty anniversary committee, of which Miss Jane Summerell is chairman, had its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, October 8.

Student Committee

The student anniversary committee will hold its first meeting of the year in Cotten hall on Monday, October 13, at 5:30 p. m. Frances Hammond is the new chairman of this committee, replacing Rose Wilson, who has resigned. Members of the committee are: seniors, Isabel Edmunds and Kay Conn; junior, Winson James; freshman, Margaret

Sports Editor Writes Open Letter To Freshmen on Recreation Plans

Dear Freshmen:

I understand that lots of you are in a fog about participating in after-school activities. To try to help you out I think that I have collected all the essential information you need.

First of all, all activities are being run on a league basis. Each hall is a member of either the Phillips, Barkley, Elliott, or the Alexander league. Points will be given to the league, to the hall, and to the girl for participation in outside sports. To find out when your league practices in field hockey and speedball, read the sport's calendar. Volleyball is held on Mondays. As far as your sports editor knows it is not on a league basis, but she could be wrong again.

Sign Up

Life saving is definitely not a league activity. Life saving is held on Mondays and Wednesdays at 5 p. m.

To enter any of these sports, go down to the field or go to the pool at the appointed time and add your name to the roll. If you can't play the sport you are interested in, don't let that stop you. We have coaches who will help you out.

Now don't forget the clubs sponsored by the Recreation association. Practically every sport has a club which will offer you an opportunity to gain more knowledge and more proficiency in the activities you particularly like. Also watch the calendar for try-out times and the meetings of the club.

Boating and canoeing on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 2:30-4:30 requires you to pass a boating test. See Mrs. Jack Perry or Dorothy Bultman about when you can take your tests. You must sign up for the boats or canoes in the post office for 15-minute periods. Remember the early bird.

"On a Silver Platter"

Oh yes, one important thing that I forgot to mention about the leagues is that the hall who has the most points at the end of the year gets a silver platter. If the hall keeps the platter for three consecutive years, it is entitled to keep it permanently. Wouldn't that platter look good in anybody's parlor?

Don't miss the opportunity for a swell week-end of fun at the Recreation association camp, Ahuforfun. At the present I'm stuck for some of the details, but you will find them all in the Blue book. Take it from me, don't let any such an opportunity slip by.

In case some of this isn't clear to you or you want some more information, just write me a local and I'll try to help you out.

Hockey Participants Must Attend Meets

All you girls who are out for field hockey remember that you must attend at least six practices to be eligible for the tournament.

In case you have forgotten on which day your league plays, here's the schedule: Monday and Wednesday at 5 p. m.—Phillips and Elliott; Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p. m.—Barkley and Alexander.

For further information on hockey ask your hall recreation chairman. She's there to help you.

Alexander. Members of the committee who also served in this capacity last year are: seniors, Nell Barefoot; juniors, Jane Thompson and Mary Jo Rendleman; sophomores, Mary Helen Emerson and Jean Rickert. Mary Eppes, Student Government president, is ex officio member of the committee, and Mrs. Anne Carter is the faculty adviser.

Anna Fisher Announces First Try-outs For 'Boot 'n Spur', Horsemanship Club

Group Plans Activities For Bi-Monthly Meets, Improvement Lectures

Anna Fisher, try-out chairman of the 'Boot 'n Spur' club announces that try-outs began today and will continue to be held until the main one in the spring. The spring try-out will allow all those girls who are taking riding now and who are interested in becoming members of the club a chance to enter it in the spring. All riding will be at Sedgewick stables this year. Transportation will be furnished to and from the stables.

The girls will be judged for walking, cantering, and trotting the horse in reasonably good form.

Meetings Bi-Monthly

Martha Charnock, president of the club, says that meetings will be held twice a month on Mondays. One meeting will either be a supper or breakfast ride and the other will be a business meeting held in one of the lecture rooms at the gymnasium from 7:30-8:15 p. m.

Plans for the season will allow the girls to improve in their riding. Jumping is still a possibility, but each girl must have permission from home to learn jumping from Sergeant George W. Bryson of the Sedgewick stables. Plans for novelty events such as a paper chase and a jymkhans or a relay race on horseback are still tentative.

The club would like to have speakers to lecture to the club about improving their horsemanship. Suggested speakers include Sergeant Bryson, who will stress the difference between regular riding and cavalry riding. He will give a lecture demonstration on good form in riding. Mr. Braxton Harden will talk on conformation and training of horses. Mr. Goode Watkins will tell the girls what to look for in a horse show.

Horse Show Plans

About the horse show question, the club would like to sponsor a horse show at Sedgewick that would be open to all the girls who are interested. If it is possible to have a class for college girls in the county horse show, the club will enter a group of girls.

Martha urges that all girls who are interested in riding either for pleasure or for improvement to hurry up and try-out.

To struggle for a livelihood is the duty of all human beings and none can escape it, for it has been decreed: "In the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat bread!"

On the Trail . . .

Anna Fisher, Ruth Crouch, and Harriet Kupferer enjoyed many an afternoon of horseback riding last spring. Here they are pausing for a breathing spell.

Eloise Newell Leads Meeting of Targeteers

The first meeting of the Targeteers was held Friday, October 3, on the archery range. The first half of the meeting consisted of target practice. Eloise Newell, president, presided over the business meeting which followed. She introduced Miss Bernice Finger, the new faculty advisor of the club.

It was decided to divide the club into Bowmen and Archers, the former being those members who shoot a total score of 150 to 175 in a senior Columbia round. The archers will be those girls who shoot a total score of 175 or over in a senior Columbia round. Other plans include meets with neighboring schools and initiation service for the new members.

Band to Appear in Uniforms Of Gold and White Flannel

Mr. Herbert Hazelman To Be New Director of Group; Several Members Added

If anyone happens to see a very sporty looking gold jacket topped an equally sporty white flannel skirt tripping about the campus of Woman's college in the near future, the bet is 10 to one that a member of the band will be found inside of it. For the past several years, plain gold uniforms trimmed in white have been worn, but this year brings a new departure. Whereas the jackets are the same as before, the skirts, beside being white, have a very definite flair, and add no end of "oomph." Those tall white fuzzy hats so long seen at all parades are not being worn this season.

New Director

Another important addition to the band is that of Mr. Herbert Hazelman as director. Mr. Hazelman, who is now head of music at Greensboro senior high school, was the original founder of Woman's college first and only band six years ago. Until Mr. George Henry took his place as fulltime leader from the college faculty, Mr. Hazelman was the leader. Now that Mr. Henry has resigned, Mr. Hazelman has resumed his position.

Additions

Also adding and abetting the band are its 28 new members. They are: clarinets: Anna Gillespie, Mary West, Alice Betty Mauney, Sybil Jackson, Emma Mae Byerly, Eugene Riley, Elizabeth Wain, Jean Moore, Edith Grant, Pauline Moore and Arline Webb, saxophones: Marjorie Bowers and Alice Reid; drum: Joy Spratt; tuba: Jean Mustaine; trombone: Grace Wilkins and Eleanor Williams; flutes: Phyllis Strickland, Sarah Scruggs and Colinda Trilly; baritone horn: Clara Matthews; trumpets: Lewis Pritchard, India Hood, Ernestine Smith and Geneva Rahunkamp.

Although the same instruments are being used as before, several new ones are expected, before long. With this new equipment, new leader, new uniforms and so many new members, the band is expected to be a great success this year.

Miss Ruth Shaver Opens First Broadcast

The radio board of Curry school is presenting each week of the first semester, 15-minute programs over Greensboro's radio station, WBIG. The first of these weekly broadcasts was held Tuesday afternoon, October 7, at 2 p.m. Dr. Franklin H. McNitt, head of the education department, introduced by Miss Ruth Shaver, chairman of the Curry radio board, opened the program by making a short address.

A number of representative students from Curry were also on the program: Pat Faircloth, president of student body; Frances Mann, representative of the social committee; Ted Wall, representative of the boys' athletic association; Frances Stockard, representative of the girls' athletic association; Katherine Cole, editor-in-chief of the "Curryer"; Bill McNeely, president of the junior class; and William Henry Higdon, president of the senior class.

Next week the members of the speech class will present "The Statue Speaks," a short play by Bernard Reines.

entertain the speaker at dinner in one of the dining halls. At 5 p.m., a buffet supper in Dr. Blanton's honor will be held in the Religious Activities center by the senior class officers, the planning committees, and a few invited guests. Interdenominational vesper services will be held in the Alumnae house at 6:45 p.m., with Dr. S. L. Blanton speaking on "Religion and Human Need." Following this program there will be an informal reception there.

Personal Conferences

On Monday, October 11, Dr. Blanton plans to teach a few classes, and from 2-4 p.m. he will be in the Religious Activities center for personal conferences. The Baptist Student union will entertain Dr. Blanton at 5 p.m. in the Baptist house. At 6:30 p.m. he will be the guest of North and South Spencer residence halls at dinner, and from 7-8:30 p.m. after-dinner coffee will be served in the parlor of North Spencer. Those in charge are Carey McDonald, Peggy Lincoln, and the house presidents and social chairmen of those two halls.

On Tuesday, October 14, Dr. Blanton will close the conference when he speaks during the regular chapel period on "Religion in These Times."

W. C. Alumnae House Is Open to Visitors

Woman's college students are invited to bring their guests to the Alumnae house at the following hours: Mondays through Fridays from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Saturdays from 7 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.; Sundays from 2:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. Officers of the students on the garden floor are open daily from 7 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. The house is open frequently at other times for special events, announced Miss Clara Byrd, Alumnae secretary.

French Club Sponsors Movie at National Theatre

"Cheers for Miss Bishop" is to be sponsored by the French club in order to obtain money for the banquet for the North Carolina chapter of the American Association of French Teachers to be held at Woman's college, November 28.

Starring Martha Scott, the picture is to be shown at the National theatre, October 15 and 16, at both matinee and night shows. Students are requested to buy their tickets at regular prices in the post office.

Aycock To Show Movie

On Saturday, October 11, the movie "They Shall Have Music" will be presented at Aycock auditorium. The two performances will take place at 2:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.

This movie was chosen because of the many requests that were sent in by members of the student body. The feature stars Jascha Heifetz, one of the world's most popular violinists and favorite of the concert stage.

Selected Group Takes Course of Training At Curry High School

Girls to Get Experience By Working Every Day In Greensboro Stores

A small group of selected girls are enrolled in the Distributive Education program at the Curry Training school of Woman's college. This class for high school graduates meets every morning from 9:30 to 11 a. m. and provides an opportunity for these girls to learn salesmanship, store arithmetic, business relations, personality development, and to receive an intensive study of merchandising information.

Experience

Actual experience in which their training is put into practice is provided in the afternoon when the students work in several of Greensboro stores. No college credit will be given for this course, but a special vocational certificate will be awarded to those who satisfactorily complete the work. The completion of this course will well qualify the girls for a permanent job at the time of graduation.

Miss Jennette Sievers of Woman's college faculty is in charge of the class, and she coordinates the outside work with the work in class. Miss Sievers has had a number of years of store experience, having been employment manager at Frederick Loewer's Inc., in Brooklyn. She is a graduate of the Prince School of Store Service Education. She came to Greensboro from Alabama, where she was assistant state supervisor for distributive education.

The course is made available through money provided by the George Deen act. The funds for instruction come from local, state, and federal sources; and programs of this nature are now being carried on in all the 48 states.

A similar program has been carried on for several years at the Senior high school for seniors of that school.

to look. Your eyes will shine, and your skin will look translucent, and you'll just look good generally. And what's more you'll feel good. Pull your tummy in, breathe deeply, balance your head on your neck, put those shoulders back so they'll feel comfortable but not stiff, walk with easy strides, toes forward, (not in or out—Please!) and you'll just about have it. Take a look at Lib Sargent or Frances Henning. You'll see what we mean. They walk with grace. They put their best feet forward.

Just Float

If you want a negative example of what most of us look like more than most of the time, notice the hip protruding, foot-puffing, shoulder-slumping, and forgotten tummies exhibited in lunch or breakfast lines. It's really discouraging.

Somebody said that when she wanted to make a grand entrance into some where, which she always wanted to do, that she paused on the threshold and took a deep breath. Then she floated in. That sounds ethereal, but it works. There's something about wearing a firm foundation and standing upright. Makes people think, "She must have something to be proud of." And you have, confidentially.

Glee Club Makes Seventeen Additions

Seventeen new members have been chosen for the college Glee club. This year the Glee club plans to sing throughout the state for the special district Alumnae dinners in celebration of the Fiftieth anniversary of the college.

New members include: Jeanne Armstrong, Helena Blue, Hilda Hilton, Jenn Mustaine, Myrt Padgett, Lella Holt Pleasants, Ernestine Smith, Helen Van Sickle, Mary Louise Clements, Ethel Sue Benz, Virginia Butler, Dayline Coleman, Virginia Follin, Helen Sams, Elizabeth DeLaney, Nancy Carroll Moore, and Wanda O'Daniel.

Musings on Music

Here's a "tickling tidbit" for you. One of our faculty members noted for her alertness of spirit, great intelligence, and keen insight, proved the other day that she was very human. Edith Goodman (your Musings on Music columnist last year) wanted some modern wedding music. The old standards just didn't have any more kick in them, she concluded. She sent a telegram to this faculty member which read: "Send music address in back of Pine Needles." Off the manuscript went to "E. Goodman, In Back of Pine Needles, Miami, Florida." "La Goodman" eventually had to use "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Tell me, what are our geniuses coming to?

Freshman Gives Bang up First Impressions of W. C.

By Pat Rothrock

Ever since the day we told a girl friend that we were coming to W. C. and she said, "You may like it, but it's too fast for me," we've hardly been able to wait to come. . . . And if first impressions are lasting, we're going to be so head over heels in love with it that we'll never want to leave.

Of course, there are little things like waiting two hours in line to get a gym suit and then having to bolt line to attend a conference, walking so much and getting so exasperated looking for the dining room that one couldn't eat her dinner (really a major calamity to some we could name), and other things along that line that we hope aren't permanent.

Money, Money

Ever since we were met at the door and welcomed by a somewhat too sleepy member of the faculty who asked us for 50c, we have been begged for money so often that we have been seriously considering the possibility of robbing Fort Knox of its gold supply, what with the book store and the College shop with its never exhausting supply of cute things just itching to be bought and all the "collecting agents" that come around daily.

We discovered the Junior shop right off and have attributed at least one "D" to our having so much fun there that we forgot about such a minor detail as a history quiz.

The Milk bar and the informal dances have just suited us to a "T," but we hope that we never again break on a boy who insists on dancing waltz time to Carolina's peppy theme song.

Calldowns, of Course

Shucks, if we didn't almost forget our first call-down! But that is so far in the past and so many more have fallen our lot that we haven't worried about not having lights out. However, when you room by the house president, you just gotta obey rules.

"There's something about a soldier," too, that somehow is all mixed up in our first impressions of W. C. We can't remember exactly what it is, but we think it has something to do with three soldiers (and that's enough in any woman's language) who tried to pick up a gal. Hm, hm, hm. But "emergency" or no "emergency" we'll never forget the morning we strolled down Walker avenue. Not until we got to the post office did we realize what we had done. Promise you won't tell?

To sum it up, if first impressions are lasting, and we hope they are, W. C. is swell!!

College Holds Program In Honor of Founder

The annual Founder's day exercises were held last Saturday morning, October 4, in Aycock auditorium. Dr. W. C. Jackson, dean of administration, presided, and Mrs. M. B. Satterfield, of Washington, D. C., delivered the main address about Dr. Charles Duncan McIver, founder of the college.

At 6:30 p.m. of the same day, a dinner was given honoring Dr. Julius L. Foust, president emeritus of the college. The Honorable Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico, was the chief speaker at the dinner.

To discover college girls with a flair for fashion reporting and the ability to write is the purpose of the contest "Prix de Paris" sponsored by Vogue magazine, which is open to the members of the senior class.

First prize is a year's job with a salary on the New York staff of Vogue; second prize, a special "Vanity Fair" feature writing award, is a six months' paid position with the fashion magazine. In addition cash awards are made for the best contest articles submitted, which are purchased for publication in Vogue.

The contest is based on four examinations and a short article. Further information may be obtained from Carolyn Abbott, Vogue, 420 Lexington avenue, New York city.

Dikean Society Meets To Elect Officers

The Dikean society met Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Dikean hall. Ernestine Oettinger, president, announced that the following officers have been elected: Mildred Chronister, vice-president; Emma Jo Beam, recording secretary; and Sarah Brownlee, corresponding secretary.

The dance will not be planned until February in order to include the freshman members who will be taken into the society in the next few months.

At the sophomore class meeting to be held Tuesday, October 15, at 7:30 p. m. in Students building, the election of the banner carrier, a cheer leader, jacket committee chairman, and chairman for the Christmas pageant presented annually by the sophomores will be held.

A suggestion of a class scrapbook will be presented to the group. If the idea is accepted, the scrapbook will be used to file over a period of three years all the newspaper clippings and publications concerning the class of 1944.

Composed of representatives from each of the sophomore dormitories and a town student representative, a council is to be elected to aid Mary King, vice-president of the class, with publicity. The sophomore class project will be chosen, and work will be started on it in the future.

If you interrupt your studies for one day, it will take you two days to regain what you have lost.
